GERMANS START COUNTER DRIVE

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Wednesday; continued cool; moderate westerly winds.
Sun rises 4:36; sets 7:04.
Moon sets 8:03 p. m.
High tide 12:30 a. m.; 12:45 p. m.
Temperatures 4:30 1 p. m.: Maximum, 73 at 1 p. m.; minimum, 67 and 8 a. m. Average 11.8.

BOSTON AMERICAN

NEW ENGLAND'S GREATEST HOME NEWSPAPER

Circulation Greater Than All the Other Boston Evening Papers Combined

FINAL EDITION EXTRA

VOL. 13—No. 133. Copyright, 1916, by N. E. Newspaper Pub. Co. BOSTON, TUESDAY, AUGUST 1, 1916. Registered U. S. Patent Office. PRICE ONE CENT

HUGHES FOR SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

POLICEMAN KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

RECOVER GROUND ON SOMME

By International News Service.

Berlin, Aug. 1.—Launching a terrific attack against the British forces, the Germans have driven the troops of King George out of a newly captured position west of Foureaux forest, on the Somme front, the War Office officially announced today.

A British attack at Maurepas was also repulsed.

In their attacks against the French, the Germans destroyed an enemy position at Fliry.

On the eastern front, 271 Russians were taken prisoners by the forces of General von Bothmer.

GOOD WEATHER IS PROMISED

A case of heat prostration after the heat wave had departed was reported in Boston today.

Philip F. McDonald fell unconscious on Harrison avenue and was taken into the City Hospital. It was said that he was weak from the effects of the heat of the day before. He is thirty-six and lives at No. 195 Silver street in South Boston.

Continuance of the cooler weather is predicted for Boston and vicinity.

Greater Boston and the country in general rejoiced today in the breaking of the heat wave. The metropolitan district enjoyed a temperature which was still under 80 degrees at mid-afternoon.

From 7 a. m. the mercury slid down to 67 at 5 o'clock, then mounted slowly until it reached 77 by noon.

Refreshing breezes and low humidity added to the general comfort.

Reports from other weather stations at 8 a. m., when Boston was at 74, showed a general lessening of temperature, as follows: Chicago, 72; New York, 72; Galveston, 80; San Francisco, 58; Philadelphia and St. Louis, 74.

PRICE OF ICE WON'T GO UP IN BOSTON

The price of ice in Greater Boston will remain as it is at present, according to three of the largest dealers in the city. Although the price has taken a jump in New York, local dealers say there is no likelihood of such action here. They admit, however, they are having difficulty even at excessive prices in securing men. The Metropolitan Ice Company, the Boston Ice Company and the Independent Ice Company said they had no intention of raising prices.

REPORT SIX MORE BABY PLAGUE CASES

Six new cases of infantile paralysis, one in Westfield and two in Boston, were reported to the State Department of Health today. Westfield now has eleven cases and the city of Boston nine.

The names of the Boston sufferers were not disclosed. The other new cases are: Helen Keating, Spruce street, Fitchburg; Raymond Beauregard, Uxbridge; Catherine Clancy, Myrtle avenue, Westfield; Clara Duhamel, Third street, Leominster.

Starvation in Poland Great Britain's Fault, Germany Tells Wilson

By International News Service.

Washington, Aug. 1.—In a formal reply to President Wilson's message to the rulers of the warring European nations, pleading for relief for starving Poland, the German government states that after October 1 relief measures will not be needed.

Germany declares that the prospects for good harvests are so favorable that it is certain there will be plenty of food for the civilian population.

Germany places entire blame on Great Britain for the failure of food supplies from the United States to reach Poland.

Great Britain's "unfounded and impracticable conditions" held up the relief, it is alleged.

The full text of Germany's reply, given out today at the State Department, follows:

"From the very beginning the imperial government declared its readiness to offer its assistance in order that the distress apparent in these parts of Russia which are occupied by German troops and systematically wasted and deprived of all victuals for the use of the remaining inhabitants by the retreating Russian hosts be eased by the relief work of the United States of America, which is organized on such a great scale.

"The imperial government has particularly offered all guarantees consistent with the requirements of war that the imported foodstuffs will only serve the needs of the population of the territory occupied.

"Accordingly, the American relief might have been realized several months ago with the same provisions as in northern France had not the government of Great Britain prevented its accomplishment by clinging to its unfounded and impracticable conditions. In this way it has become practically impossible to convey a considerable amount of foodstuffs from America to Poland by the expiration of the term set, as the end of the relief work is October 1. Accordingly, further negotiations are devoid of purpose.

"But, on the other hand, thanks to the intense culture of the land affected by the imperial government, by using all the means available and every effort possible in the occupied territory, and owing to the favorable harvest prospects, a relief action after October 1, 1916, can apparently be dispensed with. The fact that the population of Poland and Lithuania will to some extent suffer until the new crop is lodged and later on will sometimes have to put up with straitened circumstances can therefore not be laid to the blame of the imperial government, but to that of Great Britain."

U-LINER BREMEN IS EXPECTED THURSDAY

New York, Aug. 1.—The German U-liner Bremen, sister ship of the Deutschland, is due to reach American shores early Thursday morning, according to an announcement made today by the same agents that announced the coming of the Deutschland.

According to their statements, after keeping constantly in touch with the German submarine trans-Atlantic service situation, the Bremen did not leave the port of Bremen until after the arrival of her sister submarine, the Deutschland, at Baltimore.

The statement again comes from Baltimore that the Bremen will in all probability make port at Boston.

Deutschland Again Fails to Get Away.

Baltimore, Aug. 1.—Once more the German merchant submarine Deutschland, today failed to start on her return trip across the Atlantic. After an "off-again" performance that kept Baltimore harbor in a turmoil of excitement for two hours, elaborate preparations to move the Deutschland out of her berth were abandoned, her barge barricade was again sealed up and another false start had been made.

Early today, the tugs Timmins and Etco opened up the boom about the Deutschland and swung out into the channel with a heavy wire drag between them. Three times they dragged the river between the dock and the deep channel in the centre of the stream. The drag found nothing, however.

Meantime the revenue tug Wissahickon and the Baltimore police boat Lannan had steamed up the river and

Continued on Page 3, Column 8.

RUSSIANS TAKE 1,000 MORE TEUTONS

Petrograd, Aug. 1.—Further successes for the Russians along the Stokhod River were reported by the War Office this afternoon. Over 1,000 Teutons were captured. The pursuit of the Turks also continues, the statement says.

Following is the official report:

"Along the Stokhod we drove back the enemy at Velicki Kuchary and advanced to the west. We repulsed counter attacks in the Kovel and Luck regions.

"In the region of Tchekhuva and Dubenka we crossed the Koropiets

Continued on Page 4, Column 4.

BROOKLINE GIRL IS SECRET BRIDE

Mr. and Mrs. William Straine of Brookline, who were secretly married while on their vacation in Maine, are today receiving congratulations of friends, who have just learned of the wedding.

Mr. Straine and his bride, who before her marriage was Miss Agnes Ogden, of No. 18 Roberts street, Brookline, went to Five Islands, Me., as guests of Captain J. M. Harford. They were married there on July 17 by a clergyman.

Mrs. Straine said at her home today that when they returned home she told her mother of their marriage, but that they preferred to keep it a secret for a while from their friends.

DROP SIXTY BOMBS ON ENGLAND

By International News Service.

London, Aug. 1.—About sixty bombs were dropped by a fleet of Zeppelin airships that raided the eastern and southeastern counties of England last night, the War Office announced today. Six, possibly seven, Zeppelins participated in the raid, according to the War Office statement, which follows:

"Last night, from 10 o'clock to midnight, the eastern and southeastern counties were attacked by hostile airships. The raiders flew at great height. Owing to this fact and patches of mist, the airships' movements were uncertain and their number difficult to determine.

"There were at least six ships as reckoned by the independent observer. It is probable that one more flew over the country without dropping bombs.

"The number of bombs was at first greatly exaggerated, owing to the majority falling in thinly inhabited districts and being heard from a great distance. The actual number was found to be about sixty.

"One raider, engaged by aircraft and anti-aircraft guns, was seen to drop to a low altitude and disappear in the mist."

A later statement issued by the War Office this evening said the air raid had resulted in no casualties.

READING MAN IN SUICIDE ATTEMPT

Arthur G. Baldwin, twenty-four, single, of Locust street, Reading, attempted to commit suicide today in the prescription room of a Tremont street drug store. Baldwin was found unconscious on the floor with a note beside him saying he had taken bichloride of mercury tablets. He was removed to the Relief Hospital, where the stomach pump was used, and they was sent to the City Hospital, where it is said he will recover.

McCALL PRAISES HUGHES' SPEECH

Governor McCall today issued a statement praising the tone of Charles Evans Hughes' speech of acceptance of the Republican nomination to the Presidency.

"The speech of acceptance is an admirable one," he said, "and it puts Mr. Hughes squarely at the head of a reunited party."

BRITISH ARMY MAKES GAINS IN AFRICA

By International News Service.

London, Aug. 1.—Lieutenant-Colonel Vandeventer occupied Dodoma, on the German Central Railway, in German East Africa, on Saturday.

TODAY'S BANK CLEARINGS.

Boston Subtreasury credit, $101,729.

Boston clearings, $31,872,835.

New York Subtreasury credit, $823,838.

New York clearings, $488,743,380.

The New York Subtreasury gained $1,262,000 from banks yesterday, reducing the loss since Friday last to $1,140,000.

Bay State Line Desires to Run 2-Car Freights

The petition of the Bay State Street Railway for authority to run two-car freight trains came up before the Public Service Commission today. Chairman Macleod asked attorney James F. Jackson whether the company had taken up the matter with the individual communities.

Jackson said this had not been done, and Macleod suggested that it be done. The counsels for the various towns and cities agreed so exactly that Chairman Macleod said:

"There must be no attempts to secure concessions from this company at the price of acquiescence in its request. They will not be tolerated by this commission. They are against the spirit and the letter of the law. I am not referring to anything that has taken place today, but it has been done, and it must stop."

The Bay State agreed to file a brief on the matter.

$43,000,000 in Gold Sent by Allies to U. S. for Munitions

New York, Aug. 1.—The largest sum of money shipped to this country by the Entente allies for payment for munitions was brought to port by the French liner Rochambeau from Bordeaux.

The shipment, according to a statement at the pier, consists of $43,000,000 gold, probably a greater amount than was ever before placed on shipboard.

Hitherto the sums shipped by the allies have ranged around $10,000,000.

T Wharf Is Sold; To Build Million Dollar Freezer

T Wharf has been sold. The sale was announced today.

The wharf, with some rights on Long Wharf, was bought for $400,000 by the Quincy Market Cold Storage & Warehouse Company from Francis C. Welch and Frederick H. Smith, co-trustees of the T Wharf Land Trust.

The storage company will erect an eleven-story, million-dollar freezer on T Wharf, filling in a part of the slip between T Wharf and Long Wharf for the purpose.

JUSTICE CLARKE TAKES THE OATH

Washington, Aug. 1.—Justice John H. Clarke of Cleveland today took the oath of office in the Supreme Court to succeed Charles Evans Hughes. The oath was administered by Chief Justice White, who came from his Summer home at Lake Placid, N. Y., to conduct the ceremony. Only court officials witnessed the swearing in of the new justice, who left immediately after for Nantucket, Mass.

24 AUTOISTS IN EAST BOSTON COURT

Twenty-four automobilists were arraigned in the East Boston Court today for violations of the automobile laws, where they paid fines amounting to $100. Failure to give proper signals at intersecting streets, unlighted lamps and the lack of registration cards were some of the offences charged. The police crusade was instituted with a view of preventing reckless driving on the part of automobiles returning from Revere Beach and other North Shore points.

FEDERAL ACTION IS FAVORED

By International News Service.

New York, Aug. 1.—Charles Evans Hughes, Republican candidate for President, today declared himself in favor of an amendment to the federal constitution granting women the right to vote. He made his views known in a telegram sent in reply to an inquiry from Senator George Sutherland of Utah.

Mr. Hughes states that the proposed amendment should be submitted and ratified in order that the question of woman's suffrage should be removed from political discussion. The text of his message to Senator Sutherland follows:

"Your telegram has been received. In my answer to the notification I did not refer to the proposed Federal amendment relating to woman's suffrage, as this was not mentioned in the platform. I have no objection, however, to stating my personal views.

"As I said in my speech, I think it to be much desired that the question of woman's suffrage should be settled promptly. The question is of such a nature that it should be settled for the entire country.

"My view is that the proposed amendment should be submitted and ratified, and the subject removed from political discussion.

"CHARLES E. HUGHES."

SUTHERLAND'S LETTER.

The telegram of inquiry from Senator Sutherland was given out at the same time that Mr. Hughes' answer was made public. In this Senator Sutherland said:

"You will, no doubt, recall our conversation a few days ago when I urged you to make public your views with regard to the equal suffrage federal amendment. I feel quite sure there is nothing in the Republican platform which in any manner would conflict with such a declaration. That platform commits the party to the principle of women's suffrage and recognizes the right of each State to determine the question for itself.

"It is silent upon the subject of the constitutional amendment and therefore leaves everybody of the party free to determine for himself this question. The submission of the amendment is desired by many millions of voters, and I think the day has come when Congress should recognize the widespread desire by adopting the resolution of submission, thus enabling the State to pass upon the question, which, without the preliminary action of Congress, they will be prevented from doing.

"There is a feeling of intense interest in all the suffrage States in regard to your attitude, and I think it most important that you should as soon as possible publicly voice personal position in respect to the matter.

"(Signed) "GEORGE SUTHERLAND, "United States Senator from Utah."

HUGHES ELATED.

Mr. Hughes was highly elated today over the enthusiastic reception given to him at last night's notification meeting.

"To me mind it was a most gratifying reception," said the candidate. "It showed most conclusively that there is no misunderstanding with respect to the issues of the campaign.

"We have had an inadequate administration, and I think the people know it."

Mr. Hughes was a luncheon guest of the editors of the Republican papers who came here for the meeting last night. Later he held a number of informal conferences with his political advisers.

McCall Letter to Martin Hays Cause of New Wrangle

A letter of commendation written to Senator Martin Hays by Governor McCall is causing a merry rumpus in the Republican Representative contest in Brighton.

Sometime since the Governor wrote a letter to Senator Hays, complimenting him on his good work on behalf the Republican party. Recently Senator Hays decided to be a candidate for the House, instead of seeking re-election to the Senate. There are two other candidates from Ward 25, also seeking the Republican nomination. They are Representative Dowling, who now represents the district, and former Surveyor of the Port "Jerry" McCarthy.

Representative Dowling and Mr. McCarthy had interviews with the Governor today and complained that Senator Hays is showing the letter written him by the Governor to voters in the district, claiming that it is an endorsement by the Governor of his candidacy.

After the interview Representative Dowling claimed that the Governor said this constituted an improper use of the letter.

The Governor declined to be quoted for publication, except to say that he did not desire to take any part in factional contests.

WALSH IN CHICAGO; IS DUE HERE SOON

Former Governor David I. Walsh reached Chicago today and will remain there for two days, or more, to attend a personal business matter, according to a telegram received today by his brother, Major Thomas L. Walsh.

It is quite probable in view of his insistence on a quiet homecoming, that he will not let it be known to his friends definitely the time of arrival. Major Walsh expects him to do direct to his home in Clinton, after reaching Boston, the last of the week.

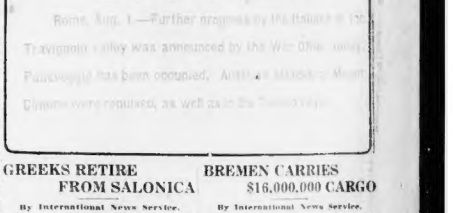
ALDERMAN GUILTY OF AUTO CHARGE

Haverhill, Aug. 1.—Alderman Roswell G. Wood, head of the Highway Department, summoned into court by Patrolman Frank E. Kelley on two charges of driving his automobile on the wrong side of the street, was found guilty today by Judge Winn. Both charges were filed.

"I think this officer did as he should have done," said Judge Winn. "He was right to summon Alderman Wood into court, for if he did not do so, people would have a right to say he was discriminating. Alderman Wood, though a city official, deserves no consideration when he violates the ordinance."

TWO STEAMSHIPS REPORTED SUNK

London, Aug. 1.—Lloyds announces the sinking of the Norwegian steamer Mars and the British steamer Claudia.



GREEKS RETIRE FROM SALONICA

By International News Service.

Athens, Aug. 1.—Greek soldiers with the exception of one battalion, have retired from Salonica. The retirement followed a conference between King Constantine and his war minister.

HURLED TO HARBOR BY IMPACT

Patrolman Patrick J. Carr of City Point station was killed today when he was hurled from an automobile on Castle Island bridge, over the guard rail and into the harbor water.

Patrolman Daniel Moriarty jumped in after Carr when the latter, weakened by recent illness, was unable to handle a life preserver thrown to him.

Moriarty more than had his hands full trying to keep Carr and himself afloat but both were pulled into the power boat Madeline which came over from the public landing at City Point.

Carr and Moriarty were hurried to the Carney Hospital.

The automobile accident came as Moriarty, Carr and Patrolman Nolan of Broadway station were being driven across the Castle Island bridge in a private automobile, in answer to a telephone notice of some accident among the children on the Randidge Fund outing at the island.

RUSHED IN AUTO.

The notice was sent in by Patrolman William Kinsman, who was on duty at the island. Patrolman Moriarty, a night officer, was in City Point station house and was sent out. He met Patrolman Carr and both started along toward Castle Island. They met Elmer E. Given, baker at No. 355 K street, South Boston, who was driving an automobile. They accepted his offer of a ride over to the island.

Meanwhile the Broadway station had started its ambulance with Patrolman Nolan. The ambulance and automobile met at the city end of Castle Island bridge, and Nolan changed into the auto, joining Carr and Moriarty.

The auto started along the bridge. Near the beginning of the old drawspan, which is not in operation now, the automobile suddenly swerved and ran into one of the bridge posts with such force that Carr was catapulted over the guard rail into the water.

TAKEN INTO BOAT.

The other officers threw a life preserver within Carr's reach, but the latter seemed unable to handle it. Patrolman Moriarty threw off his coat and, without stopping to shed any more clothing, jumped in, boots and all, and held up the helpless Carr until both were picked up in the Madeline.

BREMEN CARRIES $16,000,000 CARGO

By International News Service.

Rome, Aug. 1.—Advices from Berlin state that the Germans are deeply apprehensive over the safety of the merchant submarine Bremen. The vessel is said to carry a cargo worth $16,000,000.

HARD TIMES STILL AHEAD, SAYS KAISER

By International News Service.

London, Aug. 1.—A message from Emperor William to the German Imperial Chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, on the second anniversary of the war, transmitted by Reuter's correspondent at Amsterdam, quotes the Kaiser as follows:

"There are still hard times ahead. After the terrible storm of two years of war the desire for sunshine and peace is stirring all human hearts. But the war continues because the battle cry of the enemy governments still is the destruction of Germany.

"The blame for further bloodshed falls only on our enemies. Germany knows she is fighting for existence; knows her strength and relies on God's help. Therefore there is nothing to shake our resolution of endurance."

In a proclamation to the army and navy the Kaiser says:

"MUST CONTINUE STRUGGLE."

"The strength and will of the enemy is not yet broken. We must continue the severe struggle in order to secure the safety of our beloved homeland and preserve the honor of the Fatherland and the greatness of the Empire."

In the proclamation the Kaiser also says:

"Like the first year, it was for Germany's arms a year of glory. On all fronts you inflicted new and heavy blows on the enemy.

"Whether the enemy, retreated, borne down by the force of your attacks, or whether reinforced by foreign assistance, collected and pressed into service from all parts of the world, he tried to rob you of the fruits of former victories, you always proved yourselves superior to him.

"Even where England's tyranny was uncontested, namely, on the free waves of the sea, you victoriously fought against gigantic superiority. Your Kaiser's appreciation and your grateful country's proud admiration are assured to you for these deeds, for your unshaken loyalty, for your bold daring and for your tenacious bravery.

"FAME WILL ENDURE."

"Like the memory of our dead heroes, your fame also will endure through all time. The laurels which our ever-confident forces have won against the enemy in spite of trials and dangers are inseparably linked with the devoted and untiring labor at home.

"The strength at home has sent an ever fresh inspiration to the armies in the field. It has continually quickened our swords, has kindled Germany's enthusiasm and has terrified the enemy. My gratitude and that of the Fatherland are due the nation at home."

E. R. KIMBALL DIES AT FRAMINGHAM

Edward R. Kimball, for nearly three years a member of the Boston Stock Exchange, died at Framingham today. He was taken ill in April. He was born in Boston, September 6, 1849, the son of Oliver Denner Kimball and Emeline (Whipple) Kimball. He was prominent in the Dudley Street Baptist Church, being a deacon of that church for eighteen years.

IRISH PARTY TO MAKE WAR ON ASQUITH

London, Aug. 1.—The delivery of control in the government of Ireland to the Unionists today brought a declaration of war by the Irish leaders on the British coalition government.

This left the Irish question in its most serious plight in a long time, but the chief feature of the day's developments is the hostile attitude of the Irish leaders, who have taken occasion to declare the "truce" at an end.

From now on the Irish leaders will harass the Asquith government on almost every possible occasion, it is announced.

CALLS ASQUITH COWARDLY.

The out-and-out declaration was made by Joseph Devlin that the next time he marched with the Nationalists through the division lobby it would be for the purpose of turning out the coalition government.

Devlin in the House of Commons accused Premier Asquith of cowardice in turning over to Lloyd George the attempt to settle the Irish question and in general roundly attacked the Premier.

John Redmond said the action of the government left the Nationalists free to watch, criticize and oppose if necessary the coalition government when and where they pleased.

During his address the Premier told of conditions in Ireland, referring to the "deplorable manifestation of sympathy with Great Britain's enemies" by Irishmen.

The Premier said the government would not tolerate a repetition of the recent revolutionary events. The Premier also paid a warm tribute to the administration of General Sir John Maxwell in Ireland.

Premier Asquith made a conciliatory speech, but he had little to announce tending to appease the Nationalists, although he expressed the conviction that a permanent settlement would be reached sooner than many persons imagined.

The present turn leaves the prospect of an amicable settlement of the Irish problem as distant as before.

UNIONIST SECRETARY.

The main ground for Redmond's objections to the government's plan for an interim government was that it would be in the hands of the new secretary for Ireland, Henry Edward Duke, and the attorney-general, Sir Frederick E. Smith, both Unionists, that, in fact, it was a revival of the Castle government.

The leading features of Premier Asquith's speech were the announcement of the new secretary for Ireland, his side-tracking of the so-called Plunkett scheme for an advisory council, which had been strongly supported outside the House, but which the Premier declared was impracticable, and the announcement that there would be no reduction of the military forces in Ireland.

He also indicated that all the Unionist members of the cabinet were in practical agreement with Lord Lansdowne.

The Premier, countering the demand for the discontinuance of martial law, admitted that the present military control in Ireland was a makeshift arrangement, but asserted that it had succeeded in maintaining peace.

A characteristic feature in Ireland, the Premier said, compelled vigilance on the part of the government, though he said his belief was that the vast majority of the Irish people were loyal.

The Premier praised the tact and mercy of General Maxwell.

WAR SUMMARY

The Germans today opened simultaneous assaults on the French and British lines in Picardy, in an effort to crush in the sides of the salient which the allies have thrust into German lines.

On the south, they attacked near Lihons, against the French. On the north, they attacked near Bazentin, against the British.

French and British official statements say that the early stages of the attack failed to gain any ground.

The effect of German gains would be to wipe out the allied salient, and restore the lines to something like their old position.

The German official statement dealing with the concerted French and British attack from Longueval to the Somme, says that not one foot of ground was gained by the attackers.

The British claimed slight gains—but even admitting their claims, they only recaptured ground they had announced as captured two days before. The French claimed gains of from a quarter to a half a mile in the open country north of Hem.

Activity at Verdun continues without intermission. The German bombardment there slackened somewhat yesterday, according to the reports.

The Russian grand attack, according to the German summary, gained ground only in the Stokhod curve, and elsewhere was beaten back. In general, the past three weeks have seen only one improvement in the Russian positions, and that was the advance which culminated in the capture of Brody.

In the Zeppelin raids on Britain, according to dispatches from London, an aerial torpedo was used by the Germans for the first time.

If this be true, it may mean the Germans have perfected a new weapon which they will employ in more numerous raids hereafter.

Turks Tell of Advance in Egypt

By International News Service.

Constantinople, Aug. 1. — A statement issued by the War Office today announces that Turkish troops are advancing on the Egyptian front and also reports some successes against the Russians in the Caucasus. The statement follows:

"On the Caucasus front, Mt. Antuck, southwest of Musch, was recaptured by our troops. Attacks in the Ognotta sectors were repulsed with the bayonet and a thousand of the enemy killed. The enemy was driven out of entrenched positions south of Guomuesch canal and thrown back to the eastward.

"On the Egyptian front we are advancing."

Germans Attack British Positions

By SYDNEY B. CAVE.

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

London, Aug. 1.—Sir Douglas Haig's troops are holding the ground gained in the Somme campaign against severe attacks by the Germans. The official report issued today announced the repulse of a German assault at Bazentin-le-Petit, between Poziores and Longueval.

In general, according to the official statement, the situation is unchanged. The War Office statement follows:

"The general situation is unchanged. North of Bazentin-le-Petit an attack against our line was repulsed. There was a heavy artillery duel throughout the night. Elsewhere there is nothing to report."

FRENCH RAIDERS ROUTED, SAYS BERLIN

By International News Service.

Berlin, Aug. 1.—Defeat of a French air squadron that had invaded Germany for an attack on Muelheim and other Rhine cities was announced by the War Office today. The machine carrying the commander of the squadron was shot down.

The battle in the air occurred Sunday and was reported from headquarters in the following statement under date of July 31:

"A French air squadron engaged against Muelheim was attacked, routed and pursued to the vicinity of Nuerlerg by our Fokkers. The enemy's head aeroplane was shot down northwest of Muelhausen.

"Lieutenant Hoehndorf shot down his eleventh foe north of Bapaume. Lieutenant Wintgens brought down his eleventh aeroplane east of Peronne. A French biplane was shot down east of Pont-a-Mousson. Another was brought down by anti-aircraft fire south of Thiaumont (Verdun front)."

British reports that the allied air service had gained the mastery over German fliers was declared at the War Office to be unworthy of denial. "The facts speak for themselves," said an official there.

AMERICAN L-10 IS MISTAKEN FOR BREMEN

Uncle Sam's newest submarine, the L-10, kicked up a great flurry along the waterfront this noon by being mistaken for the German U-liner Bremen.

In the past ten days power boats, shark-fins, soap boxes, seaweed or any little thing afloat have caused the cry of "Bremen" to be raised.

When a real submarine was sighted scooting along near Minot's Light, that was good enough for a real sensational report, one of the twelve-cylinder type, with electric equipment and all the fixings.

The waterfront became as fussed up as a hen on a hot stove. Reports were telephoned to newspaper offices, garnished with varying details. The story grew until it lacked nothing except interviews with the Teutonic crew.

Meanwhile the innocent L-10 was cruising around outside the harbor, taking a final spin before heading for the Navy Yard. Today was the day for formal delivery of the submarine by the builders at Fore River. So the sea-diver was having a practice trip to see that everything worked well.

But, as was inevitable, the L-10 was quickly mistaken for the eagerly awaited Bremen.

uBt this report had the edge on previous ones. It was a real submarine at least.

Bremen Here by Friday, Is $5,000 Wager

FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS at even money was wagered yesterday by a group of prominent Germans in New York that the Bremen, the second submersible merchantman to leave Germany, would reach some port on the Atlantic Coast of this continent before Friday.

The men who got up the pool seemed confident of winning. Smaller wagers were placed that the Bremen would be here by Thursday morning.

BOSTON STRANGER IN SOUTH AMERICA

"Though Boston has long possessed a special appeal to the Latin American through his enthusiasm for her history and respect for her culture and conservatism, she is almost unknown in South America as a centre of commerce," said Dean Everett W. Lord of the College of Business Administration of Boston University in an address at the "Eight Bells" meeting of the Pilgrim Publicity Association today.

DEUTSCHLAND NOW READY FOR DASH TO SEA

Continued from First Page.

they both lay to off the Deutschland's pier, ready to insure a clear channel and a fair start for the submarine.

After half an hour of jockeying, the Timmins drew up inside the log boom around the Deutschland and signalled for the two official boats. They steamed inside, and after fifteen minutes of pilot house conferences both moved out into the stream and returned to their piers, several miles away.

The Timmins once more sealed up the log boom, and the excitement was over.

Captain Owen Coleman, expert Chesapeake Bay pilot, was ordered aboard the Deutschland today for the trip down the bay.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

BELL-ANS
Absolutely Removes Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.

OUR PLAN
Everything here must sell quickly or we lose
25% after 15 selling days
50% after 18 selling days
75% after 24 selling days
Goods given away after 30 business days.

Filene's Automatic Bargain Basement

$1 Reward will be paid to the first person reporting any exaggeration in our advertising.
—We are always ready with cash to buy overstocks, samples or discontinued lines, dependable "seconds," when underprice.

Such bargains as below should not remain until noon tomorrow!

Only 66 of these
All white sport COATS
$1.95
women's and misses'
Who ever heard before of good style white polo cloth coats for $1.95? All-around belts, patch pockets. Plenty of women's and misses' sizes 16 to 44.
Light weight, but heavy enough for cool evenings. READY TOMORROW.

Just 400 Jap crepe awning striped SKIRTS
75c

Ready tomorrow when the doors open at 8:30 A. M.
Full flare, gathered back sport models. Detachable belt. Blue, pink, blacks or lavender stripes.

Hundreds of good house dresses 50c

Dainty lawn or percale dresses in low collar effects, some trimmed at neck with embroidery.
Plenty of all women's sizes 36 to 46.
Better come early tomorrow.

Women's linen dresses $3
Tailored models—some combined with voile in coat effects. Organdy collars, silk ties, pearl buttons. White and colors; misses' sizes, too.

Patent leather strap pumps

Full broad toe, ... are first quality. Turned soles.
Infants' sizes, no heels, 85c.
Infants', with spring heels, $1.45.
Children's sizes, 8½ to 11, at $1.49.
Misses' sizes, 11½ to 2, at $1.79.
Growing girls' sizes, 2½ to 6, at $1.95.

Hundreds of Other Bargain Lots

To insure Victor quality, always look for the famous trademark, "His Master's Voice." It is on every Victrola and every Victor Record. It is the only way to identify genuine Victrolas and Victor Records.

Every kind of music for everybody

Your kind of music for you! The kind of music you like best!

Do you prefer to hear magnificent operatic arias, portrayed by Caruso or Farrar or Melba? Or are your favorites the charming old songs of yesteryear—the ballads so sweetly sung by Gluck and McCormack?

Or it may be that your tastes run to instrumental solos—the exquisite renditions of Elman or Kreisler or Paderewski. Then again, perhaps, you would rather hear Sousa's Band play some of his own stirring marches, or enjoy Harry Lauder's inimitable witticisms.

Victrola XVI, $200
Victrola XVI, electric, $250
Mahogany or oak

No matter—you can hear them all on the Victrola. It is the instrument for all kinds of music. It has not only gathered to itself the greatest artists in the world of song, but the most celebrated bands and orchestras, the famous instrumentalists, the leading comedians.

The Victrola is supreme in all fields of musical endeavor. It is the instrument for every home.

Hear your favorite music today at any Victor dealer's. He will gladly play any music you wish to hear, and demonstrate the various styles of the Victor and Victrola—$10 to $400.

Victor Talking Machine Co., Camden, N. J.

Important warning. Victor Records can be safely and satisfactorily played only with Victor Needles or Tungs-tone Styles on Victors or Victrolas. Victor Records cannot be safely played on machines with jeweled or other reproducing points.

New Victor Records demonstrated at all dealers on the 28th of each month

Victrola

EIGHTH REGIMENT HUNTS FOR BANDITS WHO KILLED TWO AMERICANS IN BORDER BATTLE

A war correspondent is photographed as he is filling his desert water bag in preparation to starting on a trip along the border to secure news about the troops.

Picture showing a border gate in Texas. Armed guards are on duty under a canopy. Persons crossing border are obliged to pass through one of these border gates and exhibit the required credentials.

CUSTOMS OFFICER AND TROOPER ARE SLAIN

By BERT FORD.

Fort Hancock, Tex., Aug. 1.—Captain H. Dwight Cushing, commanding C Company of Cambridge, Eighth Massachusetts Infantry, gave the order to a detachment of cavalry to round up a band of Mexican bandits which resulted in a fight at the Sanches ranch, the killing of two Americans, the wounding of one and the deaths of two of the outlaws.

Early reports that Cambridge boys were victims and that C Company had been attacked by Mexicans in a raid, startled the Second Massachusetts Brigade, but investigation showed that the ten-minute battle was fought by eight troopers of Troop F, Eighth Cavalry, under Sergeant Lewis Thompson, and that Captain Cushing of Hingham, a superior officer of the border patrol at Fort Hancock, had assigned the cavalrymen to the bandit hunt.

To that extent, coupled with the fact that Colonel Frank A. Graves rushed to the scene in a "flivver" to take control of the situation and Lieutenant Colonel Wesselhoeft, a Boston practitioner attached to the Eighth Medical Corps, gave first aid to the wounded and buried the two bandits the Cambridge company and the Eighth Regiment was involved.

EIGHTH'S GUARD ON DUTY.

The Cambridge company was not in action, but it sent a detail under Sergeant Thomas Chalmers to guard the scene and to kill or capture any returning bandits, while customs inspectors and Texas rangers hit the trail for the two bandits that escaped in their barefeet.

The guard from the Eighth was made up besides Sergeant Chalmers, of Corporal F. G. Haines, J. A. Hofe, Adjutant Foster, R. J. Burns, William M. Walsh, Thomas F. O'Connor, E. D. Stevens, H. S. McLeod, Harry V. Tyler, C. V. Elliott and T. W. Hanus.

Captain Cushing and his men have been at Fort Hancock since they relieved a company of the Fifth Regiment last Wednesday. Fort Hancock is sixty miles from El Paso. Sunday night, Alfred Craft, manager of a nearby mine, reported that bandits were in an adobe but six miles southeast of the fort in a secret rendezvous a mile back from the Rio Grande on the American side and reached over a stretch of treacherous desert.

The retreat had not been known to the regulars. It was so secluded that Customs Inspector James B. Bean had to act as guide for the Eighth Cavalry detachment, which Captain Cushing started on its way. The order was to take the bandits by surprise as they had been raiding the Harris spur mine and other American property in the neighborhood.

BANDITS OPENED FIRE.

The cavalrymen passed several Mexican hovels on a Paisan before reaching the bandits' retreat. Sergeant Thomson ordered two of his men to dismount and search an outhouse where one outlaw was overlooked and escaped.

Sergeant Thompson and Inspector Bean approached the door of the shack built in the centre of the clearing. An old man named Pas Sepulveda came to the door and admitted that Mexican bandits were inside. The old Mexican invited the American to step inside, but Bean and Thompson said they preferred to have their guests come into the open.

With that the Mexicans opened fire and the inspector and sergeant retreated to cover with the cavalrymen who surrounded the place. The volleys into the shack were so warm that the bandits began to come out like rats smoked from a hole.

Robert Woods of New York State, a former cowboy who was sworn as a customs inspector Saturday, was with the cavalrymen. He fired at Guador Elias, the bandit chieftain who stepped out of the door with leveled rifle when someone from inside sent a bullet through Woods' lung which killed him.

Trooper Michael Twomey of New York State crouched behind a bush and sent a bullet through the bandit chieftain when the man overlooked in the rear shed, shot Twomey through the heart. Sergeant Thompson was wounded under the left arm and, after treatment by Lieutenant Wesselhoeft, was sent by train to Fort Bliss.

WOUNDED MAN FIGHTS BRAVELY.

Sergeant Thompson fired ten shots after his arm was wounded. Trooper Riley of Norfolk, Va., ran against the barrel of a Mexican's rifle in circling the hut. The bandits are Villistas.

The hut was burned.

The guard from Company C dug trenches and slept in them last night. It was feared the bandits that escaped might return with reinforcements.

Chief Elias and old Sepulveda dropped a few paces from the adobe hut where a woman and ten-year-old girl huddled during the shooting. In the fray, Sepulveda's son, Hipilito, a noted outlaw, escaped with Marcia Castrellon and they are today being hunted in the mountains. The bodies of Trooper Twomey and Cowboy Woods were carried to the fort barracks.

Lieutenant Wesselhoeft who enlisted in the Eighth Regiment Medical Corps at Framingham a few days before the brigade started for the border, saw his first field practice. He was early on the scene but could aid only Sergeant Thompson. The others were beyond aid.

Lieutenant Wesselhoeft ordered Company C men, who had been rushed to the scene in a motor truck to dig a grave for the Mexicans twenty paces from where they fell. They were laid one on top of the other and covered with canvas.

Lieutenant Wesselhoeft in his triple capacity as surgeon, nurse and undertaker, built a cross out of an old box and with a lead pencil wrote the names of the victims and that they were "bandits killed in battle, July 31, 1916."

When the sheriff and posse of customs inspectors and ranchers arrived, the bodies were dug up for further identification, and reburied. The sheriff searched the premises for hidden ammunition, remarking that the retreat had every appearance of being a smuggling cache. It was a day's trip there and back, and I was in time for the burial, which oaths were the only funeral rites.

In searching the hut where a pig and chickens roamed, Lieutenant Wesselhoeft found a soldier's identification tag, which read, "Private Arthur Hildekinger, C Troop, Eighth Cavalry." How this aluminum tag got there is a mystery.

WILSON TO SEND NOTE TO TURKEY

Washington, Aug. 1.—President Wilson is planning to call Turkey sharply to account for her mistreatment of the Christian population of Syria and for the cruelties practiced upon Armenians, it is stated by persons close to the President.

Turkey has not replied to the American note of July 5. Turkey was warned that continued failure to meet the request of this government would put a severe strain on her friendly relations with the United States.

Some officials believe President Wilson, in the next note to Turkey, will insist that provision be made for the relief for the persecuted Christian population of the Turkish Empire.

RUSH AT CITY HALL TO PAY POLL TAXES

City employes in swarms, avoided down on the city collector today, begging his corks to take their money. Today is the last day that city employes can pay their poll taxes. According to the mayor it is a case of pay up today or be fired.

Militia to Remain at Border Until Oct. 31

By BERT FORD.

Second Massachusetts Brigade Headquarters, El Paso, Texas, Aug. 1.—The 7,000 Bay State troops on the border and the militia units from other States are destined to remain on guard along the Rio Grande until October 31, at least, according to General Order No. 17 from the War Department made public today.

This order provides that the National Guard and regulars concentrate on company drills and practice from August 1 to 31; battalion drills, September 1 to 15; regimental, September 16 to 25; brigade drill, September 26 to 30, and practical field work and maneuvers, October 1 to 31.

The order provides for from four to five and a half working days each week and urges that the "training of troops be expedited."

Officers' schools and lecture courses will be part of the program. Each regiment will hold one regimental and three battalion reviews each week. Marching will be the big feature.

The order insists that the maneuvers include night operations, hurling of sand grenades, combat and field exercises, field fortifications, care of men and animals, and "swimming of men and horses when practicable." Loading and packing and transportation problems, signalling, first aid, use of field glasses and range finders, schools, equipment inspection and a grand finals of rigid tests will also be featured.

Under the Federal law these members of the Massachusetts militia who have been serving as inspectors of small arms are to be mustered out. Major John M. Portal, Lieutenant Stuart W. Wise, cavalry, Captain Thomas Mowbray of the Fifth, Captain Harold J. Patten of the Eighth, and Captain Joseph Lawless of the Ninth, the latter one of the best marksmen in the country, are included.

Sore Throat Epidemic Among R. I. Troops

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 1.—The border patrol B Troop, under command of Sergeant Ward, was uneventful except that the patrol lost its way for several hours and floundered about the bank of the Rio Grande. The men were tired upon returning. There is an epidemic of sore throats. Men of the R. I. Cavalry are being treated by the Massachusetts Ambulance Corps with the Massachusetts cavalry. M Troop, Rhode Island Cavalry, is now on border patrol. Lumber for mess halls and saddle racks have arrived. Belief here is that the Rhode Island troops will stay two months and then go to camp in home State.

Tents later may be hoarded up and screened. Captain Dean, Troop A, has his tent so fixed. Captain Charles, Battery A, wants to take command on long hike over practice. Horses and mules broken in, Rhode Island Cavalry having little trouble with new horses. Most all of them are trained partially. Rare-back drills are being held here.

N. H. Infantry Gets Down to Hard Work

By CAPTAIN SAMUEL H. EDES.

Laredo, Tex., Headquarters of New Hampshire Troops, Aug. 1.—The First New Hampshire Infantry has at last got down to the hard routine of camp life on the border.

After five days of work the militia-men managed to get their camp here in first-class shape. Streets have all been cleared and leveled and the camp is considered one of the most attractive along the whole border.

So far the officers and men of the New Hampshire delegation have stood the high temperature very well. Thermometers in our camp range from 98 to 110 every day.

Colonel Michael J. Healy is one of the busiest men in the camp. He leads off with an energy which makes everything go. Colonel Henry P. Hollett, the regimental adjutant, has found many difficult problems to solve.

Just across the highway from the New Hampshire camp the Missouri militiamen are encamped. These troops gave the New Hampshire men considerable aid in getting camp.

The new tents of the New Hampshire troops and the wonderful new comfortable. The soup kitchen, presided over by the citizens of New Hampshire, is a novelty to the other organizations.

Many of the troopers have toads as pets. They carry the toads about in their pockets and often the men have their pets race one another. The Franklin Machine Gun Company claims to have the speediest toad in camp.

Company M furnished an escort to the train for the body of Private Harding of the Second Maine, who was drowned in the Rio Grande. The New Hampshire company furnished the detail owing to the absence of the Maine regiment on patrol duty.

Eighth Is to Elect New First Lieutenant

By SERGEANT-MAJOR FREDERICK A. WARD.

El Paso, Tex., Aug. 1.—An election has been ordered in Company F of the Eighth Regiment for next Wednesday evening to fill the vacancy of first lieutenant and such other vacancies as may occur. It is expected that Second Lieutenant John D. Hardy of Haverhill will be elected to fill the vacancy and one of the non-commissioned officers of the company will undoubtedly be elected second lieutenant.

The Eight Infantry has been ordered to provide a guard for the quartermaster stores in El Paso, relieving the Fifth Infantry at this post. Sixteen men will compose the guard, which will be on duty from 6 p. m. to 7 a. m. until further notice.

Colonel Graves has left here to make a visit of inspection to Company C, which is located at Fort Hancock, near the scene of the battle between the Eighth Cavalry and the Mexican bandits.

The regimental band rendered its usual concert. One of the members of the band is under arrest for a minor infraction of discipline and was forced to play with a guard beside him all the evening.

Plans are already under way to comply with the three months' course of instruction mapped out for the National Guard. The band is in good shape that the Eighth will soon start to hold evening parade and formal guard mount regularly.

The soldierly appearance of the band is mainly due to the drum major, Sergeant Myron A. Macfaffe, formerly of B Company, who spends most of his time in drilling the band in the various formations.

Second Regiment Gay; Pay Day Thursday

Columbus, N. M., Aug. 1.—The entire Second Regiment signed the payroll and are enjoying the news that by Thursday they will be paid. Most of the men are financially embarrassed, as their first money went to pay obligations. Twenty-seven recruits from Framingham arrived in good health. They were in charge of Corporal Gerrish and Private Harry Adamson, who was formerly an ambulance driver in France.

The new recruits reached El Paso Sunday morning, and because an unknown recruit broke a serious sanitary rule all were detailed to shovel cinders for five hours in a military camp.

Captain Fred H. Lucke of Worcester has appointed the following sergeants for his company: Jorgen A. F. Clason, Carl E. Thompson and John Miller; corporals, Charles J. Wilson, Roger O. Swensen, Harry Watson, Alfred Moore, Phil Gerrin, Roy Duchvine and John Baker.

PROTEST LIFE AT EL PASO

The AMERICAN has received the following letter, written on the correspondence paper of the Army and Navy branch of the Young Men's Christian Association, at El Paso, Texas.

"We results of the Ninth Regiment are taking the liberty of writing you these few lines. We have been abused since we arrived here. We want to make the situation clear to the people of Boston.

"We are at present sleeping on the bare ground. We were told we were going to get cots. To date we have not received them.

TELLS OF THREATS.

"The government issue of clothing has not arrived. As the boys have only one change of clothing, they have none to wear while they are being washed.

"A physical examination was held this afternoon. A number of the men were found to be suffering from the dire results of undernourishment, due to lack of clean clothing.

"We were informed that any man continually sick and unable to report for drill will receive an immediate discharge, which is the same as dishonorable expulsion. If we talk back we are put in a guardhouse for ten days and fined $10.

"Our condition while at Framingham is known to the people of Boston. Those conditions were good when compared with what we undergo here.

"If we apply for a pass to go uptown we are turned down because we do not appear neat enough. How can we when we have no clothing."

HAVE RECEIVED NO PAY.

"We have received no pay to date, either State or Federal. We are not worrying much over the State pay, as we will only get $4 out of $12 which is due us. Nobody knows where the other $8 is going. I wish you would look into this.

"We long for our homes and good positions. We volunteered to fight for the country. We are being used like dogs. We can't say a word for ourselves, but the people left behind can, and we appeal to you to do so, as you owe it to us by at the border, and we feel that if this is done our health will not be endangered and our living conditions will be improved.

"Hoping to see an account of this in your paper, we remain,

"RECRUITS OF THE NINTH."

BANK STOCK OF CHURCH EXEMPT

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 1.—Bank stock owned by a charitable institution or church whose other property is exempt from taxation may not be taxed in this State, the Department of Taxes and Assessments has ruled, reversing the Essex County Tax Board. The cases at issue affected the Protestant Foster Home Society, the First Presbyterian Church, Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church and the Newark Orphan Asylum, all of Newark.

THRASHER SHARKS SEEN AT NEWPORT

Newport, Aug. 1.—Large thrasher sharks have been seen at several places in the inner harbor at Newport.

A twelve-foot specimen was seen within a stone's throw of Long Wharf, and many were seen in the proximity of Briggs' Wharf and the Breakwater at the Torpedo Station. Soon after they were sighted the patrol went the length of the shore, ordering everyone out of the water.

DENIES ALL 'BUBBLE' GUILT

By International News Service.

Olney, Ill., Aug. 1.—Roy Hinderliter, charged with the murder of seventeen-year-old Elizabeth Radcliffe, today protested his innocence of any responsibility for the "air bubble" death. Hinderliter made to his attorney, Judge R. R. Welch, the first statement regarding his last tryst.

"They have everything wrong," he said, "everything about that ride we took. I tell you we only stopped once, and that was when Elizabeth tumbled down from the seat and fell against the dashboard. I tied the reins around the whipsocket and did everything I could to revive her. I don't know how all those things they found under the big oak tree ever got there. Somebody must have put them there.

"I didn't have any gun or a slungshot with me that night, either. I don't know how they got into the bottom of my buggy. I suppose somebody put them there, too. I don't know where any of all this evidence they found against me ever came from. I don't know anything about any of it."

Developments on the legal side of the case today indicated that the "air bubble" murder will probably come to trial in November.

ICELAND WOMEN HELD BY BRITISH

Berlin, Aug. 1.—The National Zeitung of Copenhagen reports that the Norwegian steamship Flora has been picked up on the coast of Iceland by the British patrol and taken into Lerwick. On board the Flora were 150 Icelanders, of the poorest class, including a number of women and children on their way to the Iceland fjords to catch herring.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND AFTER SELF-RULE

London, Aug. 1.—Home rule for the Church of England, in distinction from state control of the legislation of the Convocation of Canterbury, and yet the acknowledgment of the state's power of veto, are the chief points in the report of the committee appointed three years ago by the Archbishops of Canterbury and York to consider problems of church reform.

WAR, NO MERCY, SAYS REVENTLOW

London, Aug. 1.—"We must wage war with everything and for everything. And as our very existence is at stake, we will show no consideration."

These statements were made by Count von Reventlow in a speech at Munich, according to a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam.

SEEK HARVARD MEN FOR FRENCH DUTY

The American Ambulance brigade in France has sent word to this country that it needs ten more men for service this month and ten more for September. Wallace Fleming, a member of the Harvard Summer School is trying to recruit several dozen from fellow students in the school.

PENSION GRANTED WIDOW OF FRYATT

London, Aug. 1.—The government has recommended granting of an extra pension of £100 annually to Captain Fryatt's widow, besides the sum to which he is entitled under the government's compensation scheme. The Great Eastern Railroad, of one of whose ships Captain Fryatt was the master, is also granting his widow a $350 annuity.

Wildcat Escapes from Hunters in Chase at Lenox

Lenox, Aug. 1.—Fourteen heavily armed hunters with lanterns and accompanied by a pack of dogs, drove the wildcat which has been robbing hen-roosts and terrifying women here for weeks from the estate of Courtland Field Bishop, which has been its roaming ground. The hunt was organized with the hope of killing the animal, but it escaped to an adjoining estate.

Mr. Bishop's estate of forty-five acres includes a large forest of white pine, which the wildcat has made the base of operations for a series of raids on hen-roosts. A short while ago it scared a woman into hysterics. A number of experienced hunters were in the party, but they were unable to bring down the quarry, which out-ran the fleetest hounds.

Adjoining the scene of the chase are the estates of many wealthy Lenox Summer residents, among them Charles Lanier, Mrs. William Douglas Sloane, Samuel Frothingham, Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt and Gifford Foster. If the cat continues its depredations another hunt will be organized.

Girl at Harvard in Dainty Frock Twirls Big Cane

Gentlemen's canes for ladies have made their first Harvard appearance.

A handful of gold rays, a bank of hair—"elephant breath" at that—she strolled down Massachusetts avenue. All alone, save for a cane, quite elsewhere paraded several blocks the target for all eyes.

Once or twice she twirled it nonchalantly in the air, but in the main used it to guide her pretty footsteps about the avenue. Harvard merchants are now expected to dust off their large assortment of walking sticks in expectation for a run on the market.

LARGER COTTON CROP INDICATED

Washington, Aug. 1.—The Department of Agriculture today estimated that the condition of the cotton crop on July 25 was 72.3 per cent. of a normal, as compared with 78.5, the average for the past ten years. This condition forecasts a yield per acre of about 172.4 pounds and a total production of 11,191,820 bales. The area planted area for abandonment) of about 12,930,000 acres. That is, the final out turn will probably be larger or smaller than this amount, according as conditions hereafter are better or worse than average conditions. Last year's production was 11,191,820 bales.

KILL TWO SHARKS AT RAINSFORD ISLAND

Boys in the Suffolk School at Rainsford Island early today discovered a shark caught in a shallow pool among the rocks and called John Newman, a guard.

Newman killed the shark with a piece of lead pipe after a strenuous battle. Then he discovered a baby shark in the pool, evidently just born, and killed that, too. The larger shark was four feet long.

BOMB WRECKS HOME OF CHICAGO EDITOR

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Two bomb explosions tore a side out of the home of Abraham H. Liebling, editor of the Jewish Daily Press, published at No. 1215 South Racine avenue, in the same building, today. Liebling and his family and the family of I. Troy were thrown from their beds and bruised. Liebling declares after he testified in the recent trials of labor union agents charged with "shaking down" business men he was warned they would "get him."

BABIES GET SIDEWALK RIGHTS

The bugaboo of West End mothers that they were no longer to be allowed to air their babies on the sidewalks was dissipated by Captain Irving Peabody of the Joy street station today.

"Baby carriages on the sidewalks," he said, "which are not blockading the sidewalks were never and never will be interfered with by the police.

"But it is the duty of the police to keep the sidewalks clear enough for traffic to pass, and this will be done.

"Don't bring on the baby carriages leave room for the pedestrians to pass, they will not be interfered with, and they never have been interfered with under those conditions."

NEED'S COMMON SENSE.

Edward F. Murphy, commissioner of public works, declared that mothers who wished to get a permit authorizing them to occupy the sidewalks for the purpose of airing their children in carriages must pay the city fifty cents a month. He said each mother must also furnish a bond of $1,000 to safeguard the city against any suits which may result from persons stubbing over a baby carriage.

Commissioner Murphy, however, believes that the issuing of such permits are unnecessary and involves too much red tape. He refused to issue a permit to a Charlestown man who desired to air his baby in a carriage on the sidewalk near his home. Commissioner Murphy said:

"The police could settle the whole matter by using common sense. I think there are plenty of ways in which they can use their energy besides driving the mothers from the sidewalks. One thing they could do would be to enforce the ordinance which forbids the littering of the streets with paper and city refuse.

FORCED TO GO TO ALLEYS.

"Of course, it is not likely that any North End mother will put up a $1,000 bond for the sake of sitting on the sidewalk. In my opinion the whole matter is up to the police."

Many West End mothers, impressed by the recent summoning to court of Mrs. William Applebaum, who left a baby carriage standing on the sidewalk, put their babies out in the alleys back of their tenements rather than in the open street.

GERMAN MEDICAL EXPERT IS DEAD

Berlin, Aug. 1.—Professor L. Albert Niesser of Breslau University is dead.

Professor Niesser was a famous dermatologist, and for many years made important discoveries in his studies of incurable diseases.

In 1894 he went to Norway to study leprosy, and was later sent to Batavia at the expense of the German government to prosecute his research work into other malignant diseases.

The dermatologist was born in 1855 at Schweidnitz. He wrote many books on diseases and was connected with the University of Breslau since 1878. He was placed in charge of the clinic in 1892.

OR QQ
Every Night
For Constipation
BRANDRETH PILLS
Safe and Sure

U. S. TO DEMAND ACTION AGAINST TRADE LOSSES

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Specific action on individual claims of losses to American firms and individuals resulting from interference with their rights by European belligerent nations will be deferred until the end of the war. Meanwhile the general protests against abridgement of American rights will be pushed to Great Britain and her allies in the effort to have existing discrimination done away with.

To insist upon an adjustment of existing grievances for individual or single firms in the midst of the war would jeopardize the best interests of American commerce, officials are convinced. They believe that the question of collecting damages should be left to an international commission on trade claims that is sure to be named after the war.

Details of the number of protests that have been filed with the departments of justice and commerce, listing discrimination and damages resulting from delayed mails, diverted cablegrams and the like, are withheld. It has been admitted that the total is very large. Each individual protest has been referred to the State Department, carefully investigated and the result of the investigation placed on file.

The great majority of these protests antedate the announcement of the British blacklist by many months. It is considered certain here that in many instances these protests resulted from a secondary boycott that Great Britain has had in effect and the details of which are still unpublished.

This "secondary boycott," as it is called, is the one which Secretary of Commerce Redfield and the members of the Federal Trade Commission have considered in their investigations into the necessity of anti-dumping legislation. It has never had the sanction of public proclamations.

It has been put into force by British consular and diplomatic representatives by word of mouth. They have let it be known that British importers and exporters, and their representatives in South America, Africa, Asia and in neutral Europe must enter into no contracts that would benefit permanently any foreign merchant who, after the war, would be likely to come into competition with British trade.

In every instance this insidious effort to capture American trade has had the backing of the British Board of Trade. That organization has furnished information of open markets, details of contracts that could be secured, and in every way possible worked to prevent American export trade reaching the positions where, after the war, it would prevent British merchants getting back all of the trade they had lost and all that they may was forced to surrender.

Britain Adds 13 More Firms to Blacklist

THIRTEEN additional American business firms have been placed on the British blacklist.

The British government made public an official list of blacklisted firms on July 19. On July 22 the New York American printed a supplementary report from a confidential document of the Foreign Trade Department headed: "List of Names and Persons and Firms Whose Transactions It Is Undesirable to Facilitate or Finance." This was dated May 31.

In the new list under the same heading dated June 30, the following firms are named:

Atlas Steel Company, Dunkirk, New York.

Becker Steel Company, West street, New York.

John A. Croxley, New York Works, Detroit.

H. Hackfeld & Co., Ltd., Wall street, New York.

Heller Bros., Newark.

Latrobe Steel Company, Latrobe, Pa.

George A. Lorch, New York.

Lindenburg Steel Company, West street, New York.

Ludlum Steel Company, New York.

L. P. Mainetty, Hudson street, New York.

Manhattan Reduction Company, Broadway, New York.

Primos Chemical Company, Primos, Pa.

York Metal and Alloy Company, York, Pa.

'Health Is the First Wealth'

The rich man suffering from asthmatic or pulmonary trouble knows this even better than the poor man thus afflicted. Either may be able to obtain relief by using Eckman's Alterative, a preparation containing calcium iodid, which for more than twenty years has been giving widespread satisfaction in such cases.

Of course, its use should be seconded by rest, pure food and fresh air, for no medicine can be of much help where these provisions of Nature are not made use of. But in numerous instances where they have not produced desired results, Eckman's Alterative has furnished the missing link in the chain.

It contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, so is truly safe.

Sold by all Liggett-Jaynes Drug Stores and leading druggists.

Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia.
—Advertisement.

TEUTONS STRIKE FRENCH SOUTH OF SOMME

By CHARLES F. BERTELLI,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, Aug. 1.—German attacks against the French in Picardy have been shifted south of the Somme in an effort to hold back the advance on Peronne. The communique issued by the War Department today reports that the Teuton forces attacked Lihons. The assault was repulsed, however.

Lihons is on the southern side of the salient which the French troops have driven toward Peronne and into the larger German salient which terminates at the junction of the Oise and Aisne. Success for the Germans at that point might interefere with the French plans, but thus far the Germans have made no gain.

On the Verdun front the bombardment on the right bank of the Meuse has increased in violence, the communique states.

"Guns of the heaviest calibre are being used. It is understood that the Germans are preparing with their artillery for a great infantry assault.

The text of the official communique follows:

"North of the Somme the enemy did not renew his attacks during the night. North of Ayre, after a violent bombardment, the Germans tried two surprise attacks on our positions in the region of Linons, which were checked by our fire.

"On the right bank of the Meuse the artillery duel became extremely violent in the course of the night in the region of the Haumont Work. The bombardment was carried on with shells of the heaviest calibre at Fumin wood and Laufee.

"West of Pont a Mousson, in the sector of Flirey, the enemy blew up three mines. We occupied the southern edge of the three craters before our trench.

"The night was comparatively calm on the rest of the front.

"Adjutant Lenoir brought down an enemy aeroplane which fell within its lines north of Verdun. This is the fifteenth German machine brought to earth by this aviator. Another German aeroplane attacked by one of ours crashed to earth west of Etain."

40 DROWNED OFF CHILEAN HARBOR

By International News Service.

Santiago, Chile, Aug. 1.—The steamer Ecuador capsized today off the port of Constitucion and forty persons were drowned. Many were saved by boats that put out from the mouth of the Maule River.

RUSSIANS GAIN MORE GROUND ON STOKHOD

Continued from First Page.

river and captured 1,000 Austrians and Germans.

"In the Caucasus the pursuit of the Turks in the direction of Mosul continues."

A wireless dispatch from Rome states that Germany is removing great quantities of food and munitions, as well as many heavy guns, from Kovel, in preparation for abandoning that city, and that Vladimir-Volyniski, to the south, has already been evacuated.

Another wireless from Rome says that the army of General von Bothmer has already been enveloped by a sudden flank movement of the Russians in Galicia. If this report is correct, the collapse of the Austro-German defence in Galicia is imminent.

Military experts, analyzing the situation from the latest official reports, point out that the Austro-German forces defending the Kovel-Lemberg fronts are in grave danger of being caught in a trap from which they will be unable to extricate themselves.

The Austrians, they assert, have waited too long to carry out an effective retreat and when their withdrawal from the points now being defended begins, the Russians will be able to turn the retreat momentarily into a rout.

This will leave, according to these experts, the right flank of General von Linsengen almost unprotected, from the south and unless he evacuates Kovel before the attacks on this flank begin, his entire army may be bottled up.

The general opinion in Russian officialdom is that Lemberg and Kovel will be evacuated, though desperate fighting is expected before both these important points.

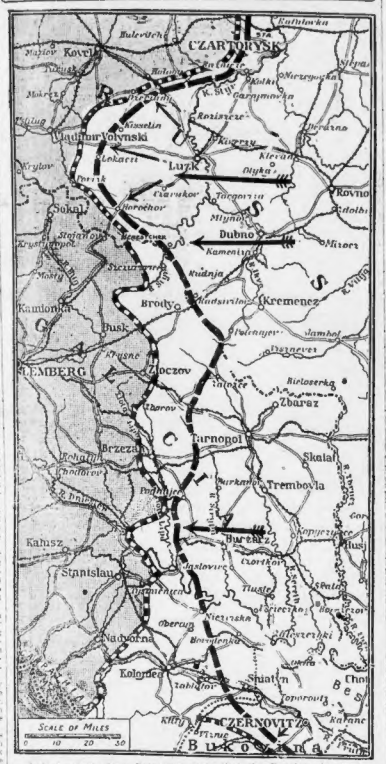
With Lemberg and Kovel in their hands, the Russians believe that Field Marshal von Hindenburg will be compelled to abandon the Riga front and that Prince Leopold of Bavaria, who is north of the Pripet marshes, will have to quit his advanced lines.

"It is inconceivable that the Teuton armies in the north should hold their positions when all the forces forming the right of the line have been compelled to give way," a high Russian military official said to the International News Service correspondent today.

"No one is foolish enough to say that our enemy is beaten yet, but the pressure is steadily becoming greater. The attitude of the prisoners taken by us shows that the German morale is weakening."

Train after train of prisoners is coming into Russia from the western front. They are being brought back as rapidly as the exigencies of active operations permit.

CZAR'S GAINS IN THE EAST



Latest reports from Petrograd state that the Russians have won a signal victory against the Germans and Austro-Hungarians along a 100-mile front from east of Kovel, in Volhynia, to the vicinity of Tarnapol and south of the Dniester River, in southen Galicia.

On the Kovel-Rovno Railway, the Germans were driven back in the region of the River Styr, northwest, west and southwest of Lutsk.

On the Lemberg-Rovno Railway the Germans and Austrians were driven back on the lower Styr and its affluents—the Lipa and the town was captured by the Russians.

On the Zlota-Lipa River, west of Tarnapol, the Russians drove the Austrians beyond Brezany, which is southwest of Stanislau and flanks that city.

NEW ARREST IN INQUIRY ON EXPLOSION

By International News Service.

New York, Aug. 1.—While New Jersey authorities were seeking sufficient evidence today to warrant the arrest of two millionaire railway presidents in connection with the ammunition explosion on Black Tom Island, E. L. Mackenzie, president of the National Dock & Storage Company, was arrested at his home in Plainfield, N. J. Mackenzie is charged with manslaughter, the accusation growing out of the loss of life in Sunday morning's disaster.

The arrest of Mackenzie was the fourth ordered as a result of the explosion. Three other men, also charged with manslaughter, are out on $5,000 bail.

The fire on Black Tom Island, which appeared to be dying out during the night, burst forth again today. Firemen fighting the flames were almost driven from the island. It is now believed that the fire will burn for a month in the sugar that was stored in the warehouses near which the explosion occurred.

From time to time boxes of ammunition exploded today, sending a shower of shrapnel and burning embers over the island. The firemen would throw themselves flat at each blast. It is probable that a special Grand Jury will be called in Hudson County to retush indictments against the men under arrest.

INFANT PLAGUE DEATHS HIT HIGH MARK

By International News Service.

New York, Aug. 1.—Deaths in the infantile paralysis epidemic broke all records in the twenty-four hours ending at 10 a. m. today. The number of new cases also increased materially. There were fifty-seven deaths and 153 new cases as against thirty-five deaths and 132 cases the day before, the total deaths and cases now being 838 and 4,125 respectively.

While the children of the city are dying by the score, the physicians to whom the residents look to check the epidemic are disputing among themselves as to the efficacy of the Adrenalin treatment advocated by Dr. S. J. Meltzer of Rockefeller Institute. Despite the fact that one baby has been discharged as cured from the New York Throat, Ear and Lung Hospital and thirty others are awaiting only an official "O K" to return to their homes, health department physicians refuse to admit that Adrenalin may be regarded as a cure for the plague.

Wagon Drivers Fined.

In the East Boston Court today two men were fined for failing to have the lamps on their wagons lighted one hour after sunset. They were Morey Friedman of Walnut avenue, Revere, who was fined $5, and Hyman Mandelson of Milton street, Boston, who paid a fine of $3.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision for over 30 years. Allow no one to deceive you in this. Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments, and endanger the health of Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic, all Teething Troubles and Diarrhœa. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, assimilates the Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

In Use For Over 30 Years

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

REMEMBER!

In addition to the many bargain lots, we carry full lines of Regular New Summer Goods in every Basement Department, at prices averaging much lower than elsewhere.

Jordan Marsh Company

Great Basement Store

The Store of Absolute Satisfaction

Business Hours
9 A. M. to 5 P. M.
Saturdays We Close at One O'Clock

Come to This Busy Basement Store for

These Cool Voile Waists at 98c

Eight Pretty Styles Are Pictured Here

Original Value 1.50

98c

Original Value 1.50

Remarkably pretty waists in a variety of tailored effects and fancy lace and embroidered trimmed models.

There are styles here to suit every fancy. Made with long sleeves. The sizes run from 36 to 44.

Sample Voile and Novelty Waists, lace and embroidery trimmed, also plain models. Value 1.98 ..... 79c

Voile and Organdie Waists, included are several very attractive new models; original value 3.00, our price now 1.98

Middy Blouses and Sport Coats, in a number of smart styles, original values 1.50 and 2.00. Our price 98c

Georgette Crepe Waists, daintily trimmed with val. lace, long sleeves, large flat collar, flesh and white; sizes 36 to 44. Value 4.98 ..... 2.98

Jap Silk Waists, in a splendid new model, with long sleeves, ecru, flesh, white and black. Val. 3.98 ..... 1.98

Tub Silk Middy Blouses, ¾ sleeves, large collar, white with blue, white, maize and light blue. Value 2.98 ..... 1.98

Fill Your Trunks Full of These DAINTY UNDERMUSLINS

For That Long Awaited Vacation Trip

Muslin Corset Covers, neatly trimmed with lace and emb. Original value 25c. Special for this sale at 15c

Silk Crepe de Chine Camisoles, lace and insertion trimmed, also nainsook corset covers, slightly mussed. Values up to 50c. In this sale .. 29c

Crepe and Nainsook Gowns, also envelope chemises and long petticoats, embroidery and lace trimmed. Original value 69c. Sale price 49c

Extra Size Crepe Gowns, torchon lace trimmed; also nainsook gowns, emb. and lace trimmed. Value 1.00. Special for this sale at..... 79c

Cambric Petticoats, embroidered and lace trimmed flounce. Value 1.00 ..... 69c

Cambric Petticoats, deep flounces of embroidery and lace; regular and extra sizes. Value 1.50. In this sale 98c

Nainsook Corset Covers, trimmed front and back with insertion and embroidery. Value 69c 49c

Nainsook and Crepe Combinations, prettily trimmed with lace and insertion. Value 1.00. In this sale 69c

Pink Batiste Envelope Chemise, crepe de chine yoke; also nainsook chemises, daintily trimmed with lace and insertion. Original value 1.50 ..... 98c

Cambric Drawers, circular and straight styles, trimmed with pin tucks and embroidery; regular and extra sizes. Original value 50c 39c

FATIMA

A Sensible Cigarette

Here's cigarette-comfort

FATIMA may never become the only cigarette smoked by keen, substantial men of this type. But Fatima has already become more popular with such men than almost any other cigarette.

This is because men who smoke wisely want a SENSIBLE cigarette—a cigarette that is comfortable to the tongue and throat and that leaves a man feeling "fit" and clear-headed even after smoking more often than usual. You should try Fatimas.

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

20 for 15¢

2 BOSTON MEN HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Mitchell Freiman, well known Boston attorney and social worker, and for years connected with the West End House, has been seriously injured in an automobile accident at Syracuse, N. Y., according to dispatches today.

He was on an automobile tour to Niagara Falls with a party of Boston friends. Near East Syracuse, the automobile in which they were riding ran into a bump.

One of the shafts crashed through the windshield and penetrated Mr. Freiman's chest. It did not pierce the lung, however, and Dr. Howard Case, who attended him, said over the telephone today that though the injury was serious, it was not at present dangerous, and that unless blood poisoning set in, Mr. Freiman would recover.

Freiman, with Dr. Albert C. Holzman, a dentist, Harry E. Burroughs, an attorney, and Barnard J. Lewis, head of a Boston publishing house, set out for Niagara Falls by auto several days ago.

Burroughs, who has offices in the Kimball building, was painfully but not dangerously injured in the accident. The other two men escaped with bruises and a shaking up.

Dr. Holzman has an office at No. 89 Green street, and lives at No. 119 Howland street, Roxbury.

Burroughs was thrown out of the car in the collision, and landed in the road head first. One foot caught in the top of the tonneau, so that he nearly sprained his ankle.

The party was taken to the Hospital of the Good Shepherd in Syracuse for treatment, after Dr. Holzman had given him first aid.

CAMBRIDGE BOY DROWNS IN RIVER

William Stone, ten years old, of No. 267 Concord avenue, Cambridge, was drowned today while swimming in the Charles River, near Gerry Landing, in the Mount Auburn district. Companions brought the body to the shore, where a pulmotor was used in vain.

SANFORDS

GINGER

Don't risk baseball without Sanfords. It's so good for sudden cramps, pains and chills. Put a little in all water drunk during play.

A delicious combination of ginger, aromatics and French brandy for the relief of cramps, pains, colds, chills, weakness, nervousness and insomnia. Look for the Owl Trade Mark on the wrapper, lest you get a cheap, worthless or dangerous substitute. Forty years the standard of purity, flavor and strength. Sold by all druggists and grocers.

Mother knows Resinol will heal it

She has been through it so many times before that she never hesitates now. When anyone in the family comes to her with a spot of eczema or an itching rash, she gets out a tube of Resinol Ointment and gives prompt relief. And a few applications seldom fail to clear away the irritation completely.

Resinol Ointment is an excellent healing dressing, too, for burns, scalds, cuts and stubborn little sores. Sold by all druggists, for sample free, write to Dept. 41-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Use Resinol Soap for baby.

SANFORD'S TWO 'NIECES' ARE ARRAIGNED

Further revelations in the affairs of the late Arnold Borden Sanford, the rich and aged cotton broker of Fall River and New York, who died at New Rochelle on July 10, were expected at the arraignment in New York city today of Eleanor Beebe and Maude Richardson on charges of grand larceny from his $200,000 estate.

For nearly five years they were his stenographer and secretary respectively, but affidavits filed in the case say they were known at times as the old broker's nieces and again as his daughters.

Mr. Sanford made a fortune in cotton in Fall River and was at one time president of the Board of Trade there. About five years ago he moved here and business to New York.

His wife, Mrs. H. Emma Warren Sanford, did not go to New York. She lived in Fall River a while, then moved to Brookline. The developments following the broker's death have revived reports of an estrangement in the Sanford household.

The two were arrested in the Grand Central Station at New York city as they were about to board a train for Boston.

According to affidavits, the Beebe and Richardson women went to live at Sanford's home on Riverside Drive soon after they entered his employ. They were devoted in their attentions to him.

After a few months on the Drive, Mr. Sanford transferred to Greenwich, Ct., where he leased Mrs. Gertrude Astor Pierce's home, which he occupied for three months. His stenographer and secretary were there and were known to Greenwich society as the broker's nieces.

Then Sanford set up a fine home in New Rochelle, where the Beebe and Richardson women were supposed by many to be his daughters. When he fell ill they assumed charge, it is said, of his affairs.

The women declare that Sanford gave them a $10,000 bond and other property. They are expected to tell about the alleged gifts today.

According to an affidavit filed in the Surrogate's and Magistrate Courts in New York a few days ago, by Edward S. Sanford of Gramercy Park, a son of the deceased broker, and his sister, Miss Ruth E. Sanford, executors, valuable papers and money belonging to the estate disappeared on the day of Mr. Sanford's death, together with furniture and personal property contained in his home on Fraser and Eighth streets, New Rochelle.

POLICE FIND PAPERS.

Some of these papers subsequently were found by the police of New Rochelle in a box deposited under the name of "Mrs. Anna T. Hart," in the Lincoln Safe Deposit Company, East Forty-second street.

From evidence gathered by the New Rochelle police, the description of "Mrs. Hart" tallied with that of one of the two women who are to be arraigned, and they were both arrested for removing Mr. Sanford's property from his home after his death. On this occasion they will have a hearing in the Police Court in New Rochelle Wednesday.

STEAMER ARRIVALS HERE ON INCREASE

Figures tabluated by the Boston steamship lines show a marked increase in the number of European passengers arriving in Boston as compared with July, 1915. There were 49 saloon passengers, 225 cabin, 1,303 steerage, 9 stowaways and 420 returning horsemen. The figures for July of last year was 85 saloon, 211 cabin, 7 steerage, 4 stowaways and 308 horsemen.

Last month 100 steamers, twenty-six schooners, one ship and an oceangoing towboat arrived here.

FOUR BOYS HELD IN STEALING OF AUTO

James Walsh, Thomas Sokoloski, John J. Hill and Carl Lenzi, boys of fifteen and sixteen, all of Somerville, were held in $200 bail by Judge Wentworth Dewey Waitham Court today for breaking into a garage and stealing Dr. Wilson's automobile, which the police say the boys ran into a tree and wrecked. Hill and Lenzi were held in additional $200 each on another charge of breaking and entering charge.

DESTRUCTION OF POST IS CHARGED

James H. Curry, of Francis street, appeared in the Roxbury court today, charged with the wilful destruction of a post, the property of the city of Boston. He pleaded not guilty, and the hearing was continued until Aug. 15. Curry was allowed to go on his own recognizance. The Street Department erected four posts near the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. Each post bore a sign, "Warning! Hospital. Make No Noise." One of these posts was recently chopped down.

MAN HIT BY POLE MAY NOT SURVIVE

Daniel Keefe of East Boston, employed as a foreman by the Edison Electric Light Company, was probably fatally injured today when a telegraph pole fell upon him. The accident occurred on Ames street, East Boston. He sustained a broken hip and internal injuries. He was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital.

DR. L. A. JONES HEAD OF STATE HYGIENE

Dr. Lyman A. Jones, former district health officer, took the reins of the division of hygiene of the State Department of Health today. Professor Selskar M. Gunn of Technology has held this position since its establishment, but was obliged to resign on account of pressure of other work.

WRITES HEAT MADE HIM LEAVE HOME

Herbert G. Adams of Mechanic street, Waltham, was disappointed from his home July 16, is in Pueblo, Col. In a letter written to his wife, Adams explained that soon after he started for his work in Worcester on the day he disappeared he was overcome with the heat. He did not know where he was going until he finally came to a few miles east of Pueblo. He will return home immediately.

MRS. WARREN DIES, AGED NINETY-SEVEN

Mrs. Rebecca Bennett Warren, aged ninety-seven, who gave liberally to many Boston charities, is dead at Hotel Bristol, where she had lived thirty-seven years.

She was the daughter of Joshua Bennett and Eleanor Richardson Bennett of Billerica and Lowell and was the last to sign the original Ursuline Convent in Charlestown, which was burned.

$877,992 LEFT BY DR. LOUIS KLOPSCH

New York, Aug. 1.—The appraisal of the estate of Dr. Louis Klopsch, owner of the Christian Herald, who died on March 7, 1910, which has been filed in the Surrogates Court here, places his gross estate at $877,992. From this amount were deducted $78,957 due to the China Orphan Fund, and $25,620 due to the Children's Home. The entire net estate goes to his wife.

COLLECT AND REDEEM LEGAL STAMPS AT BACONS' — COLLECT AND REDEEM LEGAL STAMPS AT BACONS'

OVER A CENTURY OF SQUARE DEALING

BACONS' STAMPS

YOUR GRANDMOTHER TRADED AT BACONS'

MILL AND FACTORY

45 MINUTES

EXPLANATION A Bargain Picnic—12 Bagains in each 45-Minute Period—9 Sales though the day—15 minutes between each sale, for shopping in other depaments. Every one of these bargains is the PICK OF THE HOUSE. For One Day Only—Tomorrow —Wednesday. Every value offered in this sale is a Big Money-Saver. The first sale and last sale will obtain the BIGGEST VALUES of all. But every sale will be worth attending. COME EARLY! AND STAY ALL DAY! First Sale Starts at 8:30 SHARP. Last Sale Ends at 5:00, ON THE DOT!

No C. O. D., Mail or Phone Orders on n of these items. You must come in person if you wish to takeadvantage of these unusual values.

9 Separate Sales——12 Matchless Values in Each Sale——108 Bargains in All

FOR "45" MINUTES ONLY
From 8:30 to 9:15 A. M.
None Sold Before 8:30
None Sold After 9:15
BE PROMPT
1st Sale

$1.00 Bacon Special Flour—Per bag, ½ bbl. Fifth Floor 78c

$1.00 "Parisian Lady" Corset—Made of striped and figured coutil, long hip, medium and low busts; sizes 19 to 30. Second Floor 59c

79c Crepe Dressing Sacques—Made of soft crepe, in polka dot or flowered patterns, collar trimmed with hamburg edge, sizes 36 to 52. Second Floor 49c

Boys' 50c Wash Suits—Made in season's newest models and shades, sizes 2½ to 8 years. Third Floor 25c

89c White Linene Dress Skirts—Women's and misses' sizes, pearl buttons. Bargain Basement 29c

Women's Silk Hose—Black and colors, all sizes, imperfect. Bargain Basement 7c

FOR "45" MINUTES ONLY
From 9:30 to 10:15 A. M.
None Sold Before 9:30
None Sold After 10:15
BE PROMPT
2d Sale

59c Bungalow Aprons—Percale in striped effects, light and dark colors, cut full and long. Second Floor 39c

Children's $1.50 to $2 Dresses—Middy or French style, good line of colors, 2 to 6 years. Second Floor 75c

$1.39 Japanese Porch Screens—Made of tough outside bark of the bamboo, in extra wide slats, fitted with cotton cord and metal pulleys; size 6x8. Third Floor 79c

$1.50 Bread Makers—The "Economy" bread maker, heavy tin, easy to operate, 6-loaf size. Basement 95c

$1.00 Bust Forms—Jersey covered, straight hips, all sizes. Main Floor 58c

30c Unbleached Sheeting—Double width, heavy quality. Main Floor 19c

Men's 4c to 6c Handkerchiefs—White, hemstitched, with ¼ and ½ in. hems, each. Second Floor 2c

29c White Hebutai Silks—Excellent quality, for slips, waists, underwear, children's dresses and millinery purposes. Yard. Main Floor 16c

25c White Bird Veile—36 to 40 inches wide, a splendid quality, yd. Main Floor 11c

Women's 19c Stockings—Outsizes, black cotton with unbleached cotton foot; sizes 8½ to 10, pair. Main Floor 9c

69c and 79c Middy Blouses—Good quality galatea, trimmed with red, blue and white. All sizes. Bargain Basement 26c

$20, $25 and $30 Women's and Misses' Silk and Cloth Suits—In all colors and all sizes. Bargain Basement $5.00

FOR "45" MINUTES ONLY
From 10:30 to 11:15 A. M.
None Sold Before 10:30
None Sold After 11:15
BE PROMPT
3d Sale

$1.00 Tub Skirts—Very snappy new models, made of very fine quality of linene, all full flare, pretty pockets, belts, women's and misses' sizes. Second Floor 59c

39c Sofa Pillows—Well filled floss pillow, size 18x24 inch, covered with good quality cambric. Third Floor 21c

50c Rug Border—One yard wide, yd. Fourth Floor 27c

20c-25c Enamelware—Gray enamel, in 2-qt. handled Sauce Pan and 2-qt. Berlin Sauce Pans with covers. Basement 10c

15c-19c Teacups and Saucers—American porcelain, 2 floral patterns, gold border line. Cup and saucer. Third Floor 7c

$1.00 Fountain Syringe—3 qt. Main Floor 49c

35c Corset Covers—Nainsook, lace and embroidery trimmed. Bargain Basement 13c

19c Rice Cloth—36 inches wide, splendid quality, handsome patterns, yd. Main Floor 9c

$1.50 Luncheon Sets—15-piece set, with 54-inch shaped cloth and doylies. Main Floor 55c

Men's 50c Shirts—Plain and pleated, white only; sizes 14 to 17. Main Floor 19c

24c Bathing Caps—Pure gum rubber, a large assortment of colors, gathered effects. Main Floor 13c

$2.98 and $3.98 Summer Dresses—Dozens of beautiful materials and styles, all women's $ and misses' sizes. Bargain Basement 1.10

FOR "45" MINUTES ONLY
From 11:30 A. M. to 12:15 P. M.
None Sold Before 11:30
None Sold After 12:15
BE PROMPT
4th Sale

Luncheon Special—Choice of soup, chicken salad with mayonnaise, half cantaloupe, coffee. Restaurant, Fifth Floor 25c

30c Cocoa—Excellent quality. Per lb. Fifth Floor 18c

98c Envelope Chemise—Of nainsook, handsomely trimmed with lace medallions and insertions. Second Floor 39c

98c and $1.25 Blouses—Made of voile or organdie, deep sailor collar, frill or trimmed styles, white and colors. Second Floor 46c

$2.00 Garden Dresses—Made of lawn, gingham or crepe, hamburg trimmed collars, some with frills, tunic effects, skirts all sizes. Second Floor 83c

Infants' 39c Flannel Jackets—White, with pink or blue trimming. Second Floor 19c

59c Japanese Straw Matting Rugs—Size 3x6 feet. Fourth Floor 29c

29c Gingham Rompers—Good quality gingham; 2 to 6 years. Bargain Basement 16c

15c Women's Vests—Fine ribbed cotton, regular and extra sizes. Bargain Basement 6c

Women's 29c Pants—Outsizes, jersey ribbed cotton, side button, band and extra wide lace trimmed knee; sizes 7, 8 and 9. Main Floor 15c

50c to 75c Silver Deposit Ware—Beautiful designs. Main Floor 29c

89c and 79c Garden and Porch Dresses—Good quality percale, muslin and ginghams, variety of styles. Sizes 36 to 46. Bargain Basement 29c

FOR "45" MINUTES ONLY
From 12:30 to 1:15 P. M.
None Sold Before 12:30
None Sold After 1:15
BE PROMPT
5th Sale

$3.98 Pongee Silk Russian Blouses—Deep sailor collar, trimmed with rose or light blue, with belt, at. Second Floor $1.90

$6.95 Misses' and Junior Sport Suits and Dresses—The very latest models, coats can be worn separate, in natural linen lean, trimmed with awning stripes, striped and figured voiles; all sizes. Second Floor $2.19

25c Brassieres — Made of good quality cotton hamburg, embroidery trimmed; open front; sizes 34-44. Second Floor 14c

Tennis Racquet Combination—Up to $5.00 racquet and 3 for $1.00 1915 Spalding Championship tennis balls, all for. Third Floor $1.25

Men's $5.00 Linen Suits—In plain and stripes, sizes 32 to 38. Third Floor $2.00

25c to 50c Assorted Jewelry. Main Floor 10c

79c and 98c Embroidered Muslin Petticoats—Good quality gingham, all sizes. Bargain Basement 39c

Men's 50c Athletic Shirts—Nainsook, madras and pongee cloth, all sizes. Bargain Basement 15c

Women's $1.00 Silk Gloves—16-button length, in black, white, tan, pongee and grey, pair. Main Floor 59c

25c Mesh Veiling—Octagon fancy meshes with chenille or woven borders, yd. 12c

65c Double Boilers — White enamelware, triple coated enamel covers, 1½ qt. size. Basement 34c

$1.98 Women's and Misses' Bathing Suits—Good quality surf poplin; trimmed in various styles, 36-to 44. Bargain Basement 79c

FOR "45" MINUTES ONLY
From 1:30 to 2:15 P. M.
None Sold Before 1:30
None Sold After 2:15
BE PROMPT
6th Sale

$1.75 Night Gowns—Fine nainsook, dainty trimmings of embroidery, medallions and lace combined. Second Floor 97c

$5.00 Women's and Misses' Linen Auto Coats—Made of pure linen, extra full sweep to skirts, very pretty model. Second Floor $1.95

$3.00 and $4.00 Summer Wash Dresses—Percales and voiles, all sizes. Second Floor $1.49

Men's $3.50 Bathing Suits—2-piece and shirt styles; solid and combination colors; guaranteed fast; sizes 34 to 50. Third Floor $1.98

69c Hamburg Flouncing—Yard. Main Floor 25c

15c Corylopsis of Japan Talcum Powder—2 for. Main Floor 16c

25c to 50c Belts—White kid, black and white effects. Main Floor 12c

5c to 10c Laces—Cotton torchon and insertions, also venise bands, white and ecru, yd. Main Floor 2½c

Women's 50c and 59c Union Suits—Fine quality, lisle or cotton, low neck, sleeveless, cuff face and bloomer knee; sizes 4, 5 and 6. Main Floor 26c

25c Cuticura Toilet Paper. Main Floor 5c

$1.39 Dutch Curtains—Of fine quality scrim, with hemstitched bands, lace edges, in white only, pair. Third Floor 75c

Men's 25c Silk Neckwear—Large range of stripes and figures, made with wide open ends. Main Floor 9c

FOR "45" MINUTES ONLY
From 3:30 to 4:15 P. M.
None Sold Before 3:30
None Sold After 4:15
BE PROMPT
8th Sale

$2.50 Women's, Misses' and Children's Bathing Suits—Very pretty, three-piece model, with bloomers, made of poplin. Second Floor $1.24

$7, $8, $9 and $10 Misses' and Small Women's Auto and Traveling Coats—Lined and unlined, in checks and serges; samples. Second Floor $1.99

29c Opaque Window Shades—All perfect, size 36x72 inches, all wanted colorings, complete with ring and fixtures, each. Third Floor 23c

$1.00 Floor Brushes—Long handle floor brushes, 14-inch block, bristle and fibre filled. Basement 59c

Women's $1.00 and $1.25 Silk Stockings—Pure thread silk, black, white and an excellent assortment of new colors, sizes 8½ to 10, pair. Main Floor 60c

FOR "45" MINUTES ONLY
From 4:15 to 5:00 P. M.
None Sold Before 4:15
None Sold After 5:00
BE PROMPT
9th Sale

5c Ivory Soap—10 bars for. Fifth Floor 38c

89c Jap Silk Camisoles—Trimmed with organdie and medallions, with short sleeves or out, white, pink or blue. Second Floor 55c

$1.98 and $2.98 Habutai Silk Blouses — Habutai silk blouse made full or tailored styles, all the new colors, at. Second Floor 90c

25c Cuticura Soap—Limit 2, each. Main Floor 17c

$2.50 Child's Oak Rocking Chairs—Solid built, curved slat back and shaped seats. Third Floor $1.45

$5.00 Sport Dresses — Norfolk style, plaited yoke effect, trimmed with contrasting stripe; all sizes for women and misses. Second Floor $2.00

50c-75c Enamelware—Blue and white ware, triple coated, in 6-qt. Berlin Kettles and Sauce Pans. Basement 24c

$2.49 Pure Silk Poplin Waists—White and colors, 36 to 46. Second Floor 79c

Middy Blouses—Regulation smocked and a special with laced front and sides, deep hem, button, all sizes. Two Middies for. Second Floor 95c

$1.25 Cut Glass—In celery trays, flower baskets, fern dishes, vases, footed compotes, berry bowls, handled bon bons, etc.; both deep and light floral cuttings. Third Floor 74c

$2.00 Wool Smyrna Rugs—Size 26x54. Fourth Floor $1.19

Children's 15c Hose Supporters—Good elastic, black and white, pair. Second Floor 5c

$1.50 and $2.50 P. N. and "Her Majesty" Corsets—Made of coutil, pink and white broche, long hip, medium and low bust; sizes 19 to 30. Fifth Floor $1.19

Women's $3.00 Pumps and Low Shoes—In gun metal calf, tan kid and patent colt. Good-year welt soles, pair. Second Floor $1.00

Men's 59c Work and Outing Shirts—Blue chambray, black and white percales. Collars attached; sizes 14 to 17. Main Floor 33c

50c Black and White Checks—In best selling size checks —42 inches wide, yd. Main Floor 28c

Children's 50c Rompers—Amoskeag gingham, baby checks and stripes. Sizes 2 to 6. Second Floor 29c

$2.50 Colored Dimity Bed Spreads—Size 86x90. Only two to a customer; no mail orders. Each. Main Floor $1.19

15c to 24c Ribbon—Moire and satin taffeta, all good shades, 4 to 5½ in. wide, yd. Main Floor 9c

39c to 79c Lace Edges—Gold and silver. Main Floor 19c

$1.50 Grey Camp Blankets—Large size, 80 in. long, no mail orders, pair. Main Floor 97c

Men's 59c Union Suits—Fine rib, summer weight, white only, short sleeves, ankle length. Main Floor 29c

85c Aluminum Sauce Pans—Pure aluminum, seamless body, Berlin shape, with aluminum cover; 3-qt. size. Basement 39c

$1.00 Collars—Hand embroidered batiste, also collar and cuff sets, ecru only. Main Floor 39c

Boys' 39c Khaki Pants—Sizes 6 to 15. Third Floor 21c

50c Glass Shelves—Sanitary glass shelves for bathroom, nickel-plated brackets, 18 in. x 5 in., 20x5 in. wide. Basement 24c

$1.00, $1.25 and $1.50 Waists—Voiles and organdies, trimmed with lace and embroidered panels; all sizes. Bargain Basement 45c

Women's 6c to 10c Handkerchiefs—Swiss and cambric, lace trimmed, one corner embroidered effects and a few odd 3c initials in the lot, each. Main Floor

$1.00 Mercerized Table Cloths —Hemmed ready for use, size 60x84. Main Floor 49c

Girls' $2 White Wool Sweaters —Fancy stitch, with pocket. Sizes 28, 30, 32 Second Floor 65c

And Don't Forget the Thousand Other Bargains——All Matchless Values Too——Not Advertised Above

COLLECT AND REDEEM LEGAL STAMPS AT BACONS' — COLLECT AND REDEEM LEGAL STAMPS AT BACONS'

BRISBANE, FAMOUS EDITOR, IS 'MOVIES' ACTOR FOR AN HOUR

New York, Aug. 1.—Arthur Brisbane, who recently made some remarks about motion pictures that created a furore from one end of the country to the other, is soon to be seen on the screen.

The highest-salaried newspaper editor in the world is not to forsake the editorial chair of the Evening Journal, however, to become a film actor. His first and only appearance in the "movies" came about on Saturday afternoon through the fact that he is a cog—a very important cog—in a great organization.

When William Randolph Hearst decided that the International Film Service, Inc., should have a moving picture serial of the stirring incidents that come to the attention of Beatrice Fairfax, he conferred with Mr. Brisbane, who, as much as any other individual, was responsible for Beatrice. It was decided that nothing should be left undone to make the screen presentation of "Beatrice Fairfax" the most realistic possible.

"STAR" ON THE SCENE.

When the scenario arrived it was found to contain a prologue, showing a scene in the inner sanctum of the Evening Journal with Mr. Brisbane at his desk. He outlines a plot to the cartoonist, and then summons Beatrice and gives her some hurried instructions. Then the scene shifts, and the first episode of "Beatrice Fairfax" begins.

Mr. Brisbane read the prologue. He was thoughtful for a second when the proposition was made that he pose for the scene.

"Yes, I'll do it," he said.

Saturday afternoon the camera men invaded the office of the Evening Journal. Mr. Brisbane went through the various scenes, offering suggestions here and giving orders there. The director, after his work was completed, declared that Mr. Brisbane could have made a fortune as a moving picture actor.

Asked for his opinion of his experience and of the moving picture business in general, Mr. Brisbane said:

With the exception of the head from the light, having your moving picture taken is only interesting and amusing. It will not, however, be described as merely amusing or interesting when it is written about in ages to come as one of the very great steps in education, with the first being writing, the second movable type, the third the moving picture, which gives life and action combined.

PHOTOGRAPHY NOW ALIVE.

I think it would be worth while for anyone to read Ruskin's statement as to the importance of the work of Daguerre and his first almost invisible photograph. I believe Ruskin writes about it in his "Stones of Venice." Ruskin has devoted all of his energies and his artistic education to a vain effort to make St. Mark's and the other great beauties of Venice familiar to everybody living on the planet, and without leaving his own house. There are at least one thousand great things in the world thoroughly known to nearly all of the half-way educated people of the world—yet never seen by them.

Hitherto, however, photography has been dead. The moving pictures make it alive.

In years to come men will know exactly what was the method, the manner, the personality of those in whom they are interested.

Think what it would mean if we could have a moving picture of Caesar at the battle of Alesia, riding with his red shirt, on his horse, with no stirrups in the saddle, or of Alexander jumping over the ramparts all alone into the beleaguered city, or the building of barricades in Paris during the Commune, or any other of the things worth while in the world's history!

I hope the day is coming when the art of the moving picture genius will be devoted 90 per cent. to education, to history, in reality, and only 10 per cent. to amusement, instead of being as at present 90 per cent. to amusement and only 10 per cent. to education.

MAN WHO CONVERTED BILLY SUNDAY DEAD

By International News Service.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Harry Monroe is dead. The man who converted Billy Sunday, and who, as assistant director of the Pacific Garden Mission at No. 67 West Monroe street, persuaded hundreds of human derelicts to "start all over," has himself gone the way he tried so hard to paint for others.

Mr. Monroe died in his Morgan Park home, after a long illness, caused by a nervous breakdown over a year ago. He had preached at the mission every Sunday night since the 1877 until his illness forced him to remain away. A widow and three children survive him.

IOWAN CALLED TO CHURCH IN LONDON

London, August 1.—The London City Temple has called Rev. Thomas J. F. Newton of Cedar Rapids, Ia., to become its pastor.

Mr. Newton sails on Saturday on the St. Louis. He is not expected to reply to the call until his arrival in America.

Motor Notes.

By J. C. KERRISON.

A reduction of $50 in the price of its touring car and one of $45 on its runabout is announced today by the Ford Motor Company. This is the greatest single reduction made by the Ford Company for years, and comes somewhat in the nature of a surprise, inasmuch as it is about twice the reduction anticipated by the trade. The production of the car will be made in greater volume than ever, and all assembling plants of the company will be kept working on full time.

No change in the chassis or body construction has been announced, and so far as known none is anticipated.

* * *

The latest car to capture the transcontinental record from New York to Frisco is the Marmon 34, which, according to a telegram received yesterday by Frank E. Wing, the local distributor, covered the distance between the two points in 5 days, 18 hours and 30 minutes. The distance was 3,476 miles and the time was 161 hours and 22 minutes better than the best previous time. This is by the least, is gross time, and fully demonstrates what speed the Marmon is capable of developing and holding.

* * *

J. W. Bowman, distributor of the Dan-lele and Velie cars, has returned to his desk after a somewhat lengthy tour through the Middle West and points in Canada. He found business conditions wherever he went decidedly interesting and lively. He prophesies a prosperous year.

* * *

J. H. MacAlman, distributor of the Stearns Knight cars, has the distinction of having won the motor play at the Belmont Country Club last Saturday. He will now be called upon to defend his honor against the attacks of Maguire, Johnson, Nettleton, Donovan, Crittenden, Hines and other of the golf experts of the motor world.

MID-SUMMER ATTRACTIONS AT THE BOSTON THEATRES

MISS CREWS STAR AT KEITH'S

KEITH'S THEATRE—Miss Laura Hope Crews, the legitimate star, is the headliner at Keith's this week and is seen for the first time in Boston in a laughable sketch "Her Husband's Wife." a one-act comedy by A. E. Thomas, arranged for vaudeville by Edgar Allen Woolf.

Miss Crews is seen at her best as Irene Randolph, who is suffering from insomnia. Dick Rush, Miss Irene's husband, is the cause of her ailment, for he is about to die. All the medicine from physicians and friends do her no good and she admits it, but scoffs at taking them just the same. Her one wish before leaving this world is that her husband shall have a good wife and she picks out Emily Ledow, her friend, for her husband's future wife.

MISS CREWS SHOWS SKILL.

When Miss Ledew and Stuart, her husband, meet and at once get fond of each other, the flexibility of women is shown. Miss Crews' changes of moods suddenly disappear and there are funny scenes showing love, anger, hate and it all give Miss Crews an excellent opportunity to show her talents.

Ably assisting Miss Crews in the comedy are Ronald Byram, Edwin Stockdart, Percy Bush, Elsie Mackay, Shart and Mary Fitzsimes.

There are plenty of other acts to make a well-balanced bill. Rudinoff, the celebrated artist, entertainer, has a novel act in smoke painting and his whistling act, in which he "speaks in the language of the birds," is the best seen in vaudeville. Johnnie Dyer and Frank Fay are two clever comedians and keep the audience in an uproar all through the act.

Another clever comedy sketch, "The New Bell Hop," is presented by Ben Deedy and Lillian Steele. Mr. Deedy as a colored bell hop is certainly funny and he entertains the audience by several of his own song hits.

OTHER CLEVER ACTS.

In a nifty business sketch, "Somewhere in Jersey," Billy Halligen and Emma Sicres keep the audience on the go every minute. Others on the bill are McGuinness Brothers, the dancing rapiers; Ralph Riggs and Katharine Witchie, in "dance divertissements," and an exceedingly clever acrobatic act. "The Octopus," with Fred and Lydia Weaver close the bill. Hearst's International News Pictorials are also shown.

ST. JAMES THEATRE—One need have no fault to find with the calibre of entertainment offered in the initial half of the week at Low's St. James Theatre. Back Bay theatre-goers will agree that the bill is of unusual excellence and of just the sort that will appease the appetite of the most critical. The program is headed by the famous Russian dancing troupe of Russian dancers and singers. There are eight clever people in the act, who dance the lively and reinforced steps of the Slav nations with remarkable versatility and sing songs of the land of the Czar with melodious effect. Another number that is well received is the Newsboy Sextette, composed of five boys and a clever little girl. Others are Berlke and Broderick, late principal players with "The Blue Domino," who won instant approval in charming dance features of their own creation; Juggling De Lisle, a marvelous manipulator; Greenlee and Dayton, colored entertainers, and others. The feature photo play selected for the first half is Myrtle Gonzales in "The Secret of the Swamp." It is an appealing story, in which the captivating charm of Miss Gonzales may be seen at its best. Other photo features included a Keystone Comedy and the Pathe News. The entire bill will be changed on Thursday.

GLOBE THEATRE—If one seeks an abundance of photo features they will find them at Loew's Globe Theatre, where the program is made up entirely of photo plays. The program of complete photo features which was inaugurated as a Summer attraction, has met with decided favor among the large number of patrons of this newly remodeled playhouse. The bill is changed in its entirety three times a week, the changes taking place on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The feature number for tomorrow and Thursday will be Leah Baird in the five-reel thrilling masterpiece, "The Lights of New York." For the last two days the management has selected "The Secret of the Swamp," a Bluebird feature with the captivating Myrtle Gonzales in the principal role. Keystone comedies, Pathe news and other shorter photo plays constitute a complete bill.

FENWAY THEATRE—One of the biggest audiences since the opening of the Summer season seemed greatly pleased with the bill offered at the Fenway last evening, and which will be continued today and tomorrow. Lucille Stewart, beautiful, clever and delightful, was in the leading role of the Vitagraph production, "The Destroyers," a story of the frozen north, with snow, mountains and most thrilling plots of the year. Billie Burke is as fascinating as ever in the latest episode of Gloria's Romance, and the comedy subjects were of rare selection. The bill for the last half of the week is to be headed by Muriel Ostrich and Carlisle Blackwell, in the newest of new photoplays, "Sally in Our Alley." This feature will be supported by a carefully selected array of shorter subjects, including the latest news pictorial. Mary Pickford will appear for the next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, in the greatest success of her career, "Hearts Adrift."

MODERN THEATRE—Of all the stories that Ouida wrote, which were many and more popular in their day than those of any modern novelist, her greatest was "Under Two Flags." In this she let her marvelous ability run unchecked in the manufacture of plot, incident, atmosphere, locale and adventure. Her central figure of the story was a wild daughter of the French in the African possessions of France. An extremist in temperament, Cigarette ran the scale of moods and actions. Trempling was the story for dramatists, and after the moving-picture camera began handling large subjects watch has been anxiously kept for the screen version that inevitably would be shown. Speculation was equally rife as to who would play the principal role. William Fox has won the honor of being the producer of the photo dramatization of the book, and of all the actresses in filmdom who could most perfectly play the part, that the ideal is in his fold. Hence there was shown for the first time at the Modern Theatre yesterday, where it will continue for the entire week, Theda Bara in the role of Cigarette in "Under Two Flags." Perfect her characterization of the daughter of the regiment, drawing upon her most highly developed singular abilities, it may be said that this is the best that she has shown in her work for the screen. The Paramount Pictures offered the companion feature of the bill, Mario Dore in "Common Ground." In this the delightful actress, whose personality is the greatest of any American actress, plays the part of a girl of the poor whose regeneration is worked out in a most appealing story of lower city life. There were also shown the latest Mutt and Jeff Animated Comics.

BOSTON THEATRE—The biggest and longest bill of motion picture features and vaudeville attractions ever offered on one program was shown at the Boston Theatre yesterday. Starting promptly at 10 a. m. and running continuously until 11 p. m. the show includes the first film appearance of Bert Williams, the star of Ziegfeld's "Follies," in his new two-part comedy, "A Natural Born Gambler," Irene Fenwick, the star of "The Song of Songs," making her first appearance in Boston in her new role, "The Child of Destiny," in five parts; Charlie Chaplin, king of the movies, in his funny two-part comedy, "Woman," Mary Pickford, in one of her prettiest romances, George Ade's latest two-part fable in slang, "The First Families"; the Boston Theatre Topical Review, showing all the world events of interest in special motion pictures, and some of the best vaudeville acts, including Scotland's Minstrels, the Five Mcarens, four pretty girls and a man in a lively musical act; Francis & Ross, in songs and dances; Pilksbury and Robinson, two extremely pretty girls in a novel sister turn, and Claude Sauter, the American tenor. Bert Williams' new comedy, "A Natural Born Gambler," is founded upon his famous pantomime police scene and song, and is full of laughs from start to finish. "The Child of Destiny" is a fascinating romance of the desolate swamp country of Florida, with winsome Irene Fenwick in the title role, and an excellent cast. Chaplin appears in woman's garb in his funny two-part farce comedy, "Woman," replete with special request, and dainty little Mary Pickford also appears in a somewhat romance.

REVERE BEACH—This hot weather drove a record weekday throng to Revere Beach and all day the sands were crowded with nymphs in bathing suits and Adonises and Callipygians as well. Revere is Boston's Coney Island, but an orderly and attractive one. Every amusement device that pleases Coney is almost immediately installed for Boston at Revere. There are more than a mile of entertaining. This year the old-fashioned circus sideshow has come back into its own and Revere has several of them. The fascinations of the Pit, and the charm of the fine ball rooms, the Nautical, Cendit's, Crescent and other resorts combine to make a visit to Revere worth while. The whole boulevard is lined with such shows as Dragon Gorge, Pit, Derby Racer, Circus Sideshow, Jack Rabbit Coaster, Revere Theatre, Velvet Coaster, Hurley Hurdlers, Rough Riders, Divan Theatre, State Bath House, Old Mill, Whip, Panama Canal, Palace of Wonders, River of Doubt, Maze, Virginia Reel, Hippodrome, Mountain Railway, Nautical Ball Room, hotels and other attractions.

VILLA NAPOLI—Mid-season crowds are flocking to the Villa Napoli at Nantasket, where unsurpassed advantages are afforded for outdoor pleasure. The villa is regarded as one of the most popular seaside resorts in the State and the popular dining resort of the motorist. It has excellent dining facilities, including a screened veranda for the accommodation of several hundred, in addition to the main dining hall, which caters for several hundred more. The villa may be reached by boat or rail. It is but a short distance from the boat landing. It overlooks the waterfront and is one of the coolest spots along the South Shore. It has nearly fifteen acres of beautiful grounds, and ample free parking space for autos.

DEVEREUX IN HARVARD PLAY

CLIFFORD DEVEREUX and his company of players made the first of their three appearances at Harvard last night when they presented "Twelfth Night" in the Bever Quadrangle before a large audience.

To Miss Viola Knott went the histrionic honors of the evening. This little lady played Viola and in her impulse as a lad played the part with true boyish spirit. Her personality was pleasing and her reading splendid. Miss Knott was given the lion's share of the plaudits during the evening for her interesting portrayal.

Clifford Devereux, as Sir Toby Balch, played the old roysterer almost true to life. While parts of his reading were lacking, in the main his lines were given distinctly and he extracted quite all the humor Shakespeare intended for the part. The illustrious bard, however, would hardly seek the honor of being sponsor to some of the modern business Sir Toby introduced.

Olivia was handled well by Helen L. Merriam. Her lines with Viola, when she seeks the latter's love believing her a lad, were earnest. The other members of the cast rendered their lines up to expectations.

This afternoon "The Comedy of Errors" will be given on the same plane of high grade as "The Scourge of Conquer," that delightful comedy from the pen of Oliver Goldsmith, will be presented this evening.

ORPHEUM THEATRE—For a program of well-balanced variety that affords good, clean, wholesome entertainment, the bill for the early half of the week at Loew's Orpheum Theatre is one of the best that has been presented at this beautiful playhouse in a long time. Manager Victor J. Morris has topped the bill with Birdie and Eddie Conrad, a versatile pair, that won a major portion of the day's applause in an unusually clever stunt entitled "A Vaudeville Classic." The couple are well remembered for their important associations with musical comedy successes, including "The Soul Kiss" and "Nobody Home." The other number on the program is a novel playlet from the prolific pen of Edgar Allen Woolf, whose reputation stands eminently supreme in the annals of vaudeville, he having written over 150 one-act plays in the last few years. The latest is "Friends," that yesterday won the plaudits of two capacity houses. The piece is finely presented, with special scenic effects, by Betty Swartz and company and is possessed of all the refreshing charm and effervescence that the title implies. The remainder of the entertainment is made up of Lillian Doherty, styled as the "Ginger Girl." Miss Doherty is a vivacious little creature with an excellent voice. Russell Vokes, the celebrated character artist, appears in his usually interesting act; Gold and Beal are clever performers on roller skates and Lawrence and Hurl Falls provide plenty of laughs in their acrobatic novelty.

MEDFORD BOULEVARD SUMMER Theatre—"The Millionaire Princess" opened a week's engagement at the Medford Boulevard Summer Theatre yesterday afternoon and evening to capacity attendances. The audiences were kept in constant good humor by this jolly musical farce. There are a score of catchy musical numbers, which are interpolated with dancing specialties, including "Are You From Dixie?" "Along the Rocky Road to Dublin," "Dreamy China Lady," "Good Old Days Back Home," "There's a Quaker Down in Quaker Town," "They Call It Dixie Land," "Old-Fashioned Waltz," "America Is Ready, That's All," and other song successes. The company, headed by Willie Lander, comprises a clever aggregation of fun makers, singers and dancers, including Emma Morgan, Willie Lander, Joe Baker, Maurice Prince, Marguerite Murray, Marie Avis and Harry Lander. There will be performances every afternoon and evening throughout the remainder of the week.

GORDON'S OLYMPIA THEATRE—An orchestra of twelve pieces greeted the patrons of Gordon's Olympia yesterday, which added greatly to the interest and success of the vaudeville bill offered and also to the beautiful Famous Players star, Mary Pickford, who is seen in "Hulda from Holland," taken in the land of tulip bulbs and roses. Mary is more than pleasing, now in the quaint costume, her wooden shoes and red kettle, dancing to the tune of a hand organ. Mary Pickford is always planting tulips in a wooden shoe and presenting them to her lovers. All of which means that the popular star is gracing the title role of that company's delightful production, "Hulda from Holland," by Edith Barnard Delano, which is the Paramount Picture at Gordon's Olympia Theatre this week. Her Italian, Japanese, Indian and just plain American characterisations have proven so overwhelmingly successful that it is a foregone conclusion that this picturesque little Dutch girl who travels from Holland to America in charge of her three tiny little brothers will strike deep in the hearts of Miss Pickford's innumerable admirers. Never has Miss Pickford played a more sympathetic role than that of Hulda. Other pictures are: Burton Holmes' Travels, Selig athletic film of the world's greatest athletes and Pathe News. The vaudeville was pleasing throughout, the five Masetlis making a hit.

MAJESTIC THEATRE — Another great week in the history of that daring photoplay, "Where Are My Children?", commenced at the Majestic Theatre yesterday afternoon, witnessing the 100th performance of the wonderful film in this city. Hot weather has but little effect upon the attendance. There must be a reason for this striking continuance of patronage. And the reason is that the play contains a powerful appeal to all sorts and conditions of persons, for the family life is of interest to everybody.

BRAVES FIELD FIREWORKS—Another mammoth display of fireworks will be given at Braves' Field tomorrow night. The old interest in fireworks has been revived by the exhibitions here, and increasing multitudes are turning out at each display. The show tomorrow night will contain a number of set pieces of unusual character and will conclude with a bombardment of marvellous proportions.

BAYER
Bayer-Tablets of Aspirin
Do You Use Aspirin?
If so, buy the one genuine.
Every package and every tablet of genuine Aspirin bears "The Bayer Cross" — your protection against counterfeits and harmful substitutes.
"The Bayer Cross—Your Guarantee of Purity"
The trade-mark "Aspirin" (Reg. U. S. Pat. Office) is a guarantee that the manufacturer of salicylicacid in these tablets is of the reliable Bayer manufacture.
Boxes of 12 Bottles of 24 and 100

Jordan Marsh Company

Notes Around the Store

Very cool and well liked are Men's Good-looking Shirts of heavy striped silk and crepe de chine at 4.85. Men's Store—Summer Street Entrance.

Electrical Toasters help keep the temperature down these hot mornings. They're 3.50 to 5.00—among the electrical appliances. Second Floor—New Building.

Use "Zit," an automobile dry wash, the easy and entirely new method of washing automobiles. No chamois or sponge required. Second Floor—New Building.

The coolest spot to be found these warm days—one of our music rooms where you may listen to your favorite selection on the Victrola. Third Floor—New Building.

Striking Striped Envelope Pocketbooks to carry with stunning sports clothes are 3.50 and 5.00. Street Floor—New Building.

Many a good bargain may be picked up at the Sale of Silks now in progress. First Floor—Main Store.

All our Men's Motor Dusters have been marked down to a small fraction of their original values. Men's Store—Summer or Avon Street Entrance.

A recent importation consists of India Druggets so desirable for Summer homes. Fifth Floor—Main Store.

Our good-looking Baby Carriages are the source of many favorable comments. The fact is, many are exclusive with us and are upholstered in our own workrooms, adding further to their individuality. Third Floor—New Building.

Jordan Marsh Company

Occasionally Something Like This Happens—And Then You Buy a Bargain!

JORDAN MARSH COMPANY

We have just purchased

1500 Yds. of Sports Stripe Washable Skirtings

The price paid is much below the regular wholesale price—in fact, these very styles have been among the most popular in stock and the best sellers at about twice the price we are asking for this lot. This purchase includes:

Ginghams 150 new styles of William Anderson's 32-inch Ginghams just received. A yard ... 17c

New basket cloth, new beach suitings, gabardines and linen finish suitings, new cloth poplins and repps.

The stripes range from the narrowest to wide awning stripes.

Also some from our own regular stock marked down into this price. } 29c a Yd.

38 in. Voiles

Printed and seed voiles in all this season's styles. Earlier in the season these voiles were sold at a much higher price. Now marked down to, a yard..... 19c

36 in. Linen Suitings

Also 40-inch silk cord voiles in plain colors with self colored silk cord; the linen suitings are in a Scotch mixture effect. Marked down to, a yard 15c

We fill mail and telephone orders on anything we sell, subject, of course, to the lots being exhausted. For prompt service call Oxford 3200 and ask for Mail Order Department.

Consult our Travel Bureau on the street floor, Main Store, for all needed information about Trips, Tours and Cruises in any direction to any destination.

Jordan Marsh Company

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

New Prices August 1, 1916

The following prices for Ford cars will be effective on and after August 1st, 1916

Chassis . . .	$325.00
Runabout . . .	345.00
Touring Car . .	360.00
Coupelet . . .	505.00
Town Car . . .	595.00
Sedan	645.00

f. o. b. Detroit

These prices are positively guaranteed against any reduction before August 1st, 1917, but there is no guarantee against an advance in price at any time.

Our Branch in Cambridge, Charles River Road and Brookline St.

Boston Salesroom: 567 Boylston St.

NAME OF DEAD MAN ON REPORT FOR SUFFOLK

A dead man's alleged signature may invalidate the report of the apportionment commission or Suffolk county. This is the latest development in the controversy over the report.

Today Republican politicians, who say the report unfairly deprives them of representation, secured a temporary injunction from the Supreme Court restraining the commission from filing its report. If the injunction is not made permanent they are considering proceedings to have the whole report invalidated on the ground that it could not have been signed by one of the men whose name is attached to it.

Charles G. Roberts of Chelsea died on June 28. A contest may be made over his alleged signature. It is well known that the report was not written until a day or two before its premature publication yesterday. Over the name of Mr. Roberts appears the words:

"In witness whereof the undersigned have set their hands the first Tuesday in August, 1916."

Then follows the name of the commissioners, including that of Mr. Roberts. And today is the first Tuesday in August, 1916.

CONTROVERSY STARTS EARLY.

An asterisk after Mr. Roberts' name calls attention to a foot note which states that Mr. Roberts died on June 28, although the report states that he was one of the several commissioners who set his hand to the instrument on August 1.

The controversy about the report commenced long before the report was out when two or three weeks ago Herman Hormel, president of the Republican City Committee, declared he knew what it would be and complained that the report would be unfair from a Republican standpoint.

Then after Chairman Brennan accused with the newspapermen for the publication of the report today, a premature publication of it was made two days ahead of time and the commission received much criticism for allowing it.

The Republicans who brought the petition for an injunction in the Supreme Court are Henry L. Shattuck, David T. Montague, William H. Squire, Frederic W. Rugg, George W. Brock, Edward G. Graves, Herman Hormel and Grafton D. Cushing. Arguments will be heard Friday, when the commission will be represented by its three lawyer members.

The commission today announced that there was no error in the report made by the printers. The report gives two representatives to Ward 18 and one to Ward 17. The figures should read one representative to Ward 16 and two to Ward 17.

Former Surveyor of the Port "Jerry" McCarthy called on the Governor today to enlist his support in attacking the report. The Governor announced that he was studying the report.

THE APPORTIONMENT.

David T. Montague, Edward G. Graves and former Lieutenant-Governor Grafton D. Cushing are three of the most prominent among the nine petitioners associated with President Hormel in carrying the redistricting issue to the courts.

Judge Crosby set next Friday, August 4, for a hearing.

The commission, of which James H. Brennan is the chairman, declares that the apportionment is fair, and states that it is favorable in every way. Below is given the apportionment:

District 1—Ward 1, Boston, 8,905 legal voters, entitled to two representatives.

District 2—Ward 2, Boston, 8,885 legal voters, entitled to two representatives.

District 3—Ward 3, Boston, 8,804 legal voters, entitled to two representatives.

District 4—Ward 4, Boston, 8,387 legal voters, entitled to two representatives.

District 5—Ward 5, Boston, 7,916 voters, two representatives.

District 6—Ward 6, Boston, 8,618 voters, two representatives.

District 7—Ward 7, Boston, 10,714 voters, two representatives.

District 8—Ward 8, Boston, 7,766 voters, two representatives.

District 9—Ward 9, Boston, 6,351 voters, three representatives.

District 10—Ward 10, Boston, 6,056 voters, three representatives.

District 11—Ward 11, Boston, 5,997 voters, two representatives.

District 12—Ward 12, Boston, 8,871 voters, two representatives.

District 13—Ward 13, Boston, 7,206 voters, two representatives.

District 14—Ward 14, Boston, 8,012 voters, two representatives.

District 15—Ward 15, Boston, 8,091 voters, two representatives.

District 16—Ward 16, Boston, 6,182 voters, one representative.

District 17—Ward 17, Boston, 6,105 voters, two representatives.

District 18—Ward 18, Boston, 6,034 voters, two representatives.

District 19—Wards 19 and 21, Boston, 11,971 voters, two representatives.

District 20—Ward 20, Boston, 5,852 voters, two representatives.

District 21—Ward town of Winthrop, 5,445 voters, one representative.

District 22—Ward 22, Boston, 5,666 voters, two representatives.

District 23—Ward 23, Boston, 5,096 voters, one representative.

District 24—Ward 24, Boston, 4,042 voters, one representative.

District 25—Ward 25, Boston, 4,282 voters, one representative.

District 26—Ward 26, Boston, 3,918 voters, two representatives.

District 27—Ward 1 and 2, Chelsea, 5,383 voters, one representative.

District 28—Wards 3 and 4, Revere, and Ward 5, Chelsea, 4,169, voters one representative.

District 30—Wards 1, 2 and 4, Revere, 3,971 voters, one representative.

Report Cuts Down Middlesex Districts.

A report of the Middlesex County Redistricting Committee, made today, shows a radical change in several Democratic representative districts. The number of representatives, forty-eight, remains the same under the committee's report, but the number of districts is reduced from 31 to 29.

Cambridge loses one in the First Middlesex District, wards 1, 2 and 8 of East Cambridge, which has two representatives. Lowell, at present connected with Dracut, Tewksbury and Billerica, will be known as the Fourteenth. Fifteenth and Sixteenth Middlesex Districts, and will have six representatives.

WHEREVER I'D been.
IT WAS late.
AND I was walking.
ON BEACON street.
AND I heard something.
AND LOOKED down.
AND THERE was a kitten.
RUBBING ITSELF.
AGAINST MY shoes.
AND I picked it up.
AND SAT on the steps
OF A brownstone front.
AND IT purred.
AND I told it.
I LIVED in an hotel.
AND THERE was a sign.
THAT SAID,
I COULDN'T keep pets.
AND WHEREVER it lived.
IT OUGHT to go home.
AND I put it down.
AND WENT on.
AND LOOKED back.
AND IT was coming after me.
AND WOBBLING.
AND I stopped.
AND IT cried.
AND I went back.
AND TOLD it.
IT WASN'T right.
FOR A little kitten.
TO BE following.
STRANGE MEN.
SO LATE at night.
AND IT purred.
AND I scolded it.
AND LEFT it.
AND LOOKED back.
AND IT was coming.
AS FAST as it could.
AND I hurried.
AND TRIED to forget it.
AND COULDN'T.
AND STOPPED.
AND IT caught up.
AND I told it.
IF IT would stay quiet.
UNDER MY COAT.
I'D TAKE it upstairs.
TO MY room.
BUT IN the morning.
IT WOULD have to get out.
AND IT did.
AND I fixed it a bed.
ON A chair.
AND PUT out the lights.
AND IN the morning.
WHEN I woke up.
THE DARN little thing.
WAS ALL cuddled up.
UNDER MY arm.
AND SOUND asleep.
AND I ordered breakfast.
IN MY room.
AND THREW away the mush.
AND GAVE it the cream.
AND THE chambermaid came.
AND I put it in a drawer.
AND IT meowed.
AND I had to meow.
TO FOOL the maid.
AND I heard her telling.
THE OTHER maid.
THAT THE man.
IN 608.
WAS CRAZY.
THAT HE was meowing.
LIKE A cat.
I THANK you.

WANTS TO BENEFIT OTHER SUFFERERS

Reason Given by H. D. Bullock, Who Lives at A1 Berwick Park, for Giving Testimonial.

When one's food does not agree with them, sours on the stomach and the appetite is treacherous, suffers great distress after eating certain kinds of food and has to exercise undue caution as to what he eats, it is indigestion, one of the never failing symptoms of a deranged stomach. Indigestion wrecks the entire nervous system, clogs up the waste matter in the intestines, which in turn poisons the blood. Half-digested food in the stomach ferments and forms the poisonous gases, which in turn press under the heart, causing palpitation. The stomach remedy, Plant Juice, never fails to give relief in such cases. Both men and women who have suffered from stomach, liver and kidney troubles are now enjoying perfect health, due to Plant Juice. Mr. H. D. Bullock, who resides at No. A1 Berwick Park, who has resided in Boston for the last twenty-five years, and is a well-known man, stated:

H. D. BULLOCK.

"I had suffered from stomach trouble, dyspepsia and indigestion for a number of years. The doctors called it catarrh of the stomach. I had to be very careful about my diet, and about an hour after eating I would have heartburn, the food fermenting in my stomach. My tongue was coated, and I was in a general run-down condition. My liver was affected and I was nervous and restless at night, not being able to sleep. I have now taken Plant Juice for about ten days, and it has done wonders for me, as I can digest my food now, and my liver is working fine. I am not at all nervous and sleep fine at night. I am recommending Plant Juice to all of my friends, as it has certainly cured me."

The Plant Juice Man is at the Drug Department of the Houghton & Dutton store, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.—Advertisement.

Advertisement.

HEADACHES

Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every day, other thousands have headaches every week or every month and still others have headaches occasionally, but at regular intervals. The best Doctor is often unable to find the cause of many of these headaches, and in most other cases, knowing the cause, he does not know what will remove it, so as to give a permanent cure. All he can do is to prescribe the usual pain reliever, which give temporary relief, but the headache returns as usual, and treatment is again necessary. If you suffer from headaches, no matter what they are, take anti-kamnia tablets, and the results will be satisfactory in the highest degree. You can obtain them at all druggists in any quantity, 10c worth, 25c worth or more. Ask for A-K Tablets.

SICK-HEADACHES

Sick-headache, the most miserable of all sicknesses, loses its terrors when A-K Tablets are taken. When you feel an attack coming on take two tablets, and in many cases the attack will be warded off. During an attack take one A-K Tablet every two hours. The rest and comfort which follow, can be obtained in no other way.

Genuine A-K Tablets bear the A. —Trade. At all druggists.

TELEGRAPHERS ON 2 ROADS GET MORE

New York, Aug. 1.—The telegraphers of the New York Central and Nickel Plate railroads today won their fight for an increase of wages. The finding of the board, which arbitrated the difference between the men and the railroads for three weeks, was announced today.

An increase of 8 per cent. in pay is granted to the telegraphers who sought 15 per cent. on the lines west of Buffalo. Those on the lines east of Buffalo, pleading for 12½ per cent. were granted 10 per cent. The board's finding grants double pay on Sundays and seven days' annual vacation in all telegraphers who work nine or more hours and who have been two years in the service. Those who have been three years with the roads get ten days' vacation.

The requests of the telegraphers to be relieved of the care of crossing gates, station buildings, grounds, switch lamps, gasoline and steam pumps were denied by the board.

OHIO OIL COMPANY AGAIN CUTS PRICE

Findlay, O., Aug. 1.—The Ohio Oil Company today announced a further reduction in the price of crude oil of 5 to 10 cents a barrel. The new prices are: Wooster, $1.56; Princeton, $1.62; Illinois, $1.62; North and South Lima, $1.48; Plymouth, $1.48, and Indiana, $1.43.

OPEN RECRUIT DEPOT AT WINTHROP

Fort Banks at Winthrop was opened today as a recruiting depot for the Massachusetts National Guard, replacing Camp Whitney at Framingham.

Fourteen rookies at Fort Banks, who has not been sent there yesterday from various armory recruiting stations, passed their physical examinations today, were mustered into the federal service and were partially equipped.

Only one-half of the equipment and ordnance supplies for recruits have arrived at the Framingham Camp Whitney. The other half is still at the camp, awaiting orders. There are equipment coats and caps enough at the fort, but no shirts or breeches. So the hopeful rookies at the fort are struggling along at the start with their civilian costume and half a military one to boot.

Telegrams have been sent to the War Department, asking instructions regarding the remaining federal property at Camp Whitney.

Plans were completed today by Major Thomas Q. Ashburn, recruiting commander at Fort Banks, for housing, feeding and equipping the fourteen rookies now at hand and whatever others may follow. The fort can accommodate up to 1,500 rookies, but nowhere near that number will be allowed to accumulate there. When the present quotas of 11 reaches 100, Major Ashburn will wire the Department of the East, of which Major-General Leonard Wood is commander, asking for orders to send the 100 along to the Mexican border. When the rookies do start southward they will be sent by the most direct route, and in tourist cars, in charge of some commissioned officer, with three noncoms, to maintain discipline. It is thought that the chances for any National Guard officer to go South in charge of rookies is slender, as the rookies are now under regular army supervision.

Rookies up to the number of 40 will be quartered at Fort Banks in the barracks of the First Company, Coast Artillery Corps, which is stationed at the fort. Later arrivals will be put under canvas in pyramid tents at the rear of Lincoln battery.

Asks Orders for Fort Whitney Men.

Camp Whitney, Framingham, Aug. 1.—The opening of Fort Banks at Winthrop as a recruiting depot today ended recruiting here and left doubt as to the immediate plans for those here. The regular and National Guard officers have wired for instructions.

The various bodies of officers and men still here include:

Ten regular army officers and ten non-coms under Lieutenant Beaumont B. Buck.

One company of regulars, which is policing the camp.

Ambulance Company No. 2, consisting of three officers and seventy-eight men, and Field Hospital No. 2, consisting of five officers and seventy-one men, which have been made up here and are ready to go to the front.

One rookie company of one officer and forty-five men, all supposed to be hopeful of starting to Texas soon.

Twenty-one militiamen out of the 600 who did come take the federal oath at mobilization and who hurried back here from their home towns when the order was given for all men who refused to take the oath to appear at once. Only twenty-one are all who have returned so far.

Colonel Warren E. Sweetser, former camp commander, and six officers of the Massachusetts National Guard, who are awaiting orders.

SEEKS FATHER, MISSING MONTHS

George E. Kittredge of No. 472 Broadway, South Boston, has asked the police to help locate his father, Malachi Kittredge, sixty, a stationary fireman, missing from his home in Clinton since December 23. He left home to seek work in Boston and has not since been seen.

MAN BURNED AFTER FALL IN FAINT

Frank Kendrick, of No. 13 Cross street, Somerville, was the victim of a peculiar accident today when at work at the plant of the Boston Electric Welding Company at Central square, East Boston. He fainted and fell underneath a steam gas gauge, receiving burns on both legs and an abrasion on the forehead.

6 SEEK DIVORCE DECREES AT DEDHAM

Six petitions for divorce were filed today with the clerk of the Norfolk County Superior court, Dedham.

Grace Annie E. Wood of Kemp street, Brookline, sues her husband, John Wood, charging cruel and abusive treatment by overindulging in intoxicating liquor one year of drugs. She asks for the custody of their daughter, Ruth Stevens. Mr. and Mrs. Wood were married on June 12, 1895, at Cambridge.

George B. Richardson of Franklin charges his wife, Louise, with unfaithfulness. They were married June 17, 1914, at Franklin.

Clara L. Walsh of Weymouth charges her husband, Clayton H. Walsh of Weymouth, with non-support and desertion. They were married June 24, 1896, at Newton.

Cora W. Barber of Quincy wants a separation from her husband, W. F. Barber of New York, on the grounds of cruelty and non-support. They were married on January 17, 1911, in Boston.

Victoria Dennis of Stoughton sues her husband, James Dennis, charging cruel and abusive treatment. She wants to resume her maiden name of Zuhen. They were married in Stoughton on May 7, 1916.

Bartch Arnland of Quincy wishes to be freed from his wife, Gulia Arnland of Travos, Austria. He charged her with desertion. They were married on February 11, 1893.

10 SOMERVILLE BOYS IN COURT AS WRECKERS

On the charge of wrecking the store of Morris Lesbey at No. 346 Broadway, Somerville, early July 4, and larceny of articles kept there, ten boys were in the Somerville Court today.

James Kelly, eighteen, Ames street; George Rosenthal, eighteen, Trull street; Walter Fairbanks, seventeen, Pinkie avenue, all of Somerville, were each held in $500.

Francis Lynch, fifteen, Hinckley street; Roland Palmer, sixteen, Partridge avenue; John Cummings, sixteen, Robert street; Harold Reeves, sixteen, Nashua street, and James F. Bullen, sixteen, Roberts street, all of Somerville, were sentenced to an indefinite term in the school for boys at Shirley. The court suspended the sentence to allow the boys to restore some of the property destroyed.

Thomas McGoldrick, fifteen, Partridge avenue; William J. Giffin, fifteen, Nashua street; John Ronan, fourteen, Vinal street and Oscar Mullen, fifteen, Pinkie avenue, all of Somerville, were found guilty in the Juvenile session and sentence was continued until August 21, meantime the boys to remain in the custody of the probation officer.

FEAR GENERAL CAR STRIKE IN NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 1.—The spread of the street railway strike to every trolley line in and about Greater New York seems probable today. It is also not unlikely that the subway and elevated lines may be involved.

Public officials express great anxiety over the situation. Mayor Mitchel will hold a conference with representatives of both sides today in an effort to bring about arbitration.

If a general tie-up should come, it will be after 10,000 street railway employes. Police Inspector Cozen al a large force of men remained o duty at police headquarters all nigh

Casement Will Escape Gallows Is London Belief

London, Aug. 1.—There is a growing belief that the death penalty will not be carried out in Sir Roger Casement's case.

The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says:

A large number of responsible persons think the execution would be a ghastly blunder, increasing the difficulty in the Irish settlement and prejudicing us abroad at a time when English clemency should shine more clearly than ever against German ruthlessness. The Irish petition, signed by Cardinal Logue, six bishops and twenty-six members of Parliament, since has been signed by several other bishops and many more members of Parliament and other notable Irishmen.

At least four petitions have been got up in England and signed by many of the most important persons in the country. Most people are not aware of the very strong sentiment that is held by the leaders of public and religious opinion. Besides these petitions, a great many letters have been written to Premier Asquith in favor of a reprieve.

SALE
SEMI-ANNUAL DOLLAR SALE AT SUMMERFIELD'S
ONE DOLLAR CASH
Sends Any Article to Your Home
SEMI-ANNUAL DOLLAR SALE
Dining Room Suites
$85.00 5-Piece Dining Suite, Table, 4 Chairs and Buffet, in beautiful golden oak finish $43.50
$55.00 6-Piece Dining Suite, Extension Table, Buffet and 4 Slip Seat Chairs, in golden oak finish $37.00
$40.00 5-Piece Dining Suite, Extension Table and 4 Slip Seat Chairs, in golden oak finish $24.75
$89.00 7-Piece Dining Suite, Extension Table, Buffet, Wood Seat Chairs, beautiful fumed oak finish $19.75
$1.00 Cash—"Pay the Easy Way"
Odd Buffets and China Closets
$60.00 Colonial Quartered Golden Oak Buffet $45.00
$50.00 Quartered Golden Oak Buffet $37.50
$32.00 Quartered Golden Oak Buffet $24.50
$10.00 Quartered Golden Oak Buffet $24.00
$26.00 Jacobean Fumed Oak Buffet $19.75
$26.00 Colonial Quartered Golden Oak Buffet $19.75
$19.75
$1.00 Cash—"Pay the Easy Way"
Odd Buffets and Extension Tables
$40.00 William & Mary Fumed Oak Buffet $29.75
$33.00 Colonial Fumed Oak Buffet $24.75
$28.00 William & Mary Walnut Buffet $24.00
$26.00 Jacobean Fumed Oak Buffet $19.75
$24.00 Colonial Quartered Golden Oak Extension Table $26.00
$20.00 Octagon Pedestal Golden Oak Extension Table $12.75
$1.00 Cash—"Pay the Easy Way"
Parlor and Library Suites
$50.00 3-Piece Mahogany Finish Plush $37.00
$50.00 3-Piece Mahogany Finish Imitation Leather Upholstered Suite $35.00
$40.00 3-Piece Mahogany Finish velour upholstered $27.50
$26.00 Genuine Spanish Leather Overstuffed Rocker or Chair $16.85
$16.00 Imitation Spanish Leather Overstuffed Rocker or Chair $9.85
$1.00 Cash—"Pay the Easy Way"
Library and Den Furniture
$42.00 Dunfold Bed Davenport, fumed oak, imitation leather cob leather spring seats $32.50
$57.50 Dunfold Bed Davenport, fumed oak, imitation leather cob leather spring seats $29.85
$25.00 Fumed Oak Settee, genuine leather spring seat $16.85
$12.00 Fumed Oak Library or Den Table $6.95
$1.00 Cash—"Pay the Easy Way"
Dressers and Chiffoniers
$45.00 Colonial Mahogany Veneer Dresser or Chiffonier $32.50
$40.00 William & Mary Mahogany Veneer Dresser $28.85
$30.00 Quartered Golden Oak Dresser $19.45
$15.00 Solid Golden Oak Dresser or Chiffonier $16.50
$22.00 Solid Golden Oak Dresser or Chiffonier $14.75
$18.00 Dresser in beautiful fumed oak finish $11.95
$1.00 Cash—"Pay the Easy Way"
Baby Carriages and Refrigerators
All Baby Carriages from $50.00 to $85.00, all finishes $14.85
All Baby Carriages from $40.00 to $45.00 $24.00
All Refrigerators from $60.00 to $15.00 $16.48
All Refrigerators from $20.00 to $30.00 $16.45
$1.00 Cash—"Pay the Easy Way"
Brass and Iron Beds
Floor Samples or Discontinued Designs go for about half price.
All Brass Beds from $18 to $22.50 $13.50
All Brass Beds from $25 to $35 $19.75
All Steel and Iron Beds from $15 $7.95
All Steel and Iron Beds from $18 $13.95
$1.00 Cash—"Pay the Easy Way"
Rugs and Floor Coverings
$35.00—9x12 ft. Wilton Rugs $26.50
$60.00—9x12 ft. Slightly Imperfect Wilton Rugs $32.50
$28.00 9x12 ft. Velvet Rugs $16.48
$18.50—9x12 ft. Brussels effects $12.50
$40.00—9x12 ft. Axminster Rugs $24.50
$1.00 Cash—"Pay the Easy Way"
Summer and Porch Furniture
$5.00 Fibre Rocker $3.45
$10.00 Kaltex Tapestry Cushion Seat and Back Chair or Rocker $6.45
$12.00 Reed Rocker, tapestry seat and back $7.95
All Rockers and Chairs from $14.00 to $20.00 $9.85
$1.00 Cash—"Pay the Easy Way"
We Sell Goods Anywhere in New England Parcel Post, Express or Auto Truck Delivery
Free Delivery Most Nearby Points—$3 Groceries, $2 Liquors
50 Miles.
SUMMERFIELD'S • 727-735 WASHINGTON ST.

BUTTER 33c Lb. Finest Quality Creamery, Received Daily
EGGS "Pine Grove" STRICTLY FRESH 34c Doz. Also Strictly Fresh Western Eggs, Doz. 30c
60c Teas Lb. 35c Oolong, Eng. Breek, or Mixed 35c; Ceylon 30c
30c Coffee Lb. 21c "Golden Rose." Pleasing Brand, Popular Price
Sardines Imported Dozen Smoked Cans 12½c Each
Campbell's Soups All Kinds Can 8c
Old Dutch Cleanser Can 8c
Kellogg's Corn Flakes Pkg. 8c
R. & R. Chicken Boned, 1-2 Can 29c
Corn Corn Flakes, Sweet, Tender Can 8c
Peas Early Wisconsin Standard Size Can 9c
Tomatoes Extra Fancy Cream Standard Size Can 11c
Pineapple Finest Hawaiian Sliced Sugar Syrup Can 14c
Wines, Beverages
Savings of One-Third and Only Finest Qualities. Convenient Stores
Wines Pure California Port, Sherry, etc. Bot. 25c
Wines "Santa Teresa" Port, Sherry, etc. Bot. 35c
Port Fine Old Tarragona, Imp'd. Bot. 49c
Sherry "Pajaro," Fine Old Oloroso Amontillado, Imp'd. Bot. 49c
Duff Gordon Sherry 69c
Old Spanish Port Bot. 75c
Harvard Home Label Beer Doz. 99c
Stout Guinness', Dublin Bottling Nips 10c ½ Bot. 15c
P. B. Ale Brewery Dec. Qt. 17c
Alcohol Pure Grain Distillate Qt. 80c
The Ginter Co
2 Union St., Cor. Elm Opposite Faneuil Hall Market
63 Summer St. South
445 Washington St. Bet. West & Temple Sts.
16 Canal St. Opposite Haymarket Square
45 Prom'd'e St. No. Entrance Scollay Square Terminal
The Ginter Co.'s Products are on sale at C. B. Rowen Co. Inc.
569 Washington St. Adams House
Also the Specialty Shop, The 122 Tremont St.

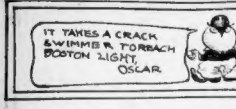
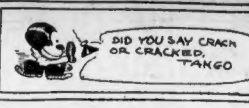
The Man Who Imagines He's the Only Pebble on the Beach Often Lands on the Rocks



BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS



Yacht Race is Close

The Ellen is Picked

STANDING OF THE QUINCY CHALLENGE CUP SERIES.

Boats.	Owner.	Club.	Points.	Total.
Ellen, C. P. Curtis,	Boston Yacht Club		8	6 14
Hayseed IV., H. L.	Bowden, Gloucester	Yacht Club	6	8 14
Britomart, H. S.	Wheelock, Corinthian	Yacht Club	8	5 13
Sayonara II., V. F.	West, Portland Yacht	Club	7	4 11
Bernice, George	Lee, Manchester Yacht	Club	4	2 6
Wasaka II., J. J.	Martin, South Boston Yacht	Club	3	3 6
Ahmeek, C. F.	Adams, Quincy Yacht	Club	0	3 3
Stranger, Lindsley	Loring, Hingham Yacht	Club	2	0 2

Marblehead, Aug. 1.—With only three points separating the first four boats, the third and final race of the Quincy Challenge Cup series started this morning. There is very little improvement in the weather conditions this morning over those which greeted the yachtsmen yesterday. It is predicted that the air will be light from the southwest, which is anything but satisfactory to the skippers of the contesting sloops.

THE ELLEN LOOKS GOOD.

The Ellen, which is owned by C. P. Curtis, and is defending the cup sailing under the Boston Yacht Club flag, is on even terms with the Hayseed IV. of the Gloucester Yacht Club at the conclusion of the first day's races. The Ellen showed at her best in the morning race, which she won by eighteen seconds over the Sayonara II., with the Hayseed IV. thirty-one seconds behind Vernon West's sloop. The Hayseed IV. simply ran away with the afternoon event, leading the Britomart, which was the second boat home, by three minutes and three seconds.

The Ellen was a poor third in the second race, crossing the finish line four minutes and forty-eight seconds after the Hayseed IV. had received the gun. By virtue of a fourth in the morning race and a second in the afternoon event, the Britomart scored twelve points and is installed in third place, one point better than the Sayonara II., which boat, after winning second money in the open classic, was unable to get better than a fifth on her second start.

THAT MIXUP.

The dropping out of the first race by the Ahmeek, after she had fouled the Britomart at the leeward mark, is a great disappointment to the yachting community and especially the Quincy Yacht Club, under whose colors the Ahmeek challenged. By withdrawing from the race after his boat had collided with the Britomart, without waiting for any protests, Charles Francis Adams again demonstrated that he is one of the best sportsmen connected with the game. The mix-up which caused the Ahmeek to drop out of the race occurred at the leeward mark during the morning race. With the Sayonara II. leading by about thirty yards, the Ellen, and Britomart were running for the turning mark with the Ahmeek less than one boat's length astern, and in between the Curtis and Wheelock crafts.

When the Ellen went for the mark she swung up, while the Britomart was obliged to ease off, and the coming together of these boats pinched the Ahmeek. Skipper Adams tried to get under the Britomart's stern, but so ripped the stern off the Corinthian Yacht Club challenger and gauged a hole in his stem. It was rumored that the Britomart had protested the Ellen for not allowing her sufficient room to round he buoy, but as no written protest was made to the regatta committee within one hour after the finish of the race the Ellen was awarded first place.

Because of the fine showings that C. P. Curtis has made in previous Quincy Cup races while sailing sonder boats, many of the yachting fans are picking him to win the third and final race this morning, but it will be well for all to watch Ralph Hendrie and the Hayseed IV. Young Hendrie proved conclusively in both of yesterday's races that he is one of the clever handlers of racing boats in this part of the country and that he could hold his own with any skipper in any kind of a sailing craft.

The Hayseed IV. is an excellently fast sloop and under Hendrie is capable of giving the best "P" boat afloat a battle from gun to gun.

A win for either the Britomart or the Sayonara II. coupled with a fall-down on the part of the Ellen and Hayseed would give one of these boats the cup. Therefore although two of the three races have been held, there is still an opportunity for one of four boats to score a victory and possession of the famous trophy.

SILK HAT HARRY

Copyright, 1910, International News Service.

By TAD

WHO WAS IN THE DINING ROOM BESIDE YOU ON THE EVENING IN QUESTION?
JUST SILK HAT HARRY YOUR HONOR!
HEY INSPID DO YOU KNOW BONESETTER REELY
SORE WHY?
WAS HE EVER A NEWSPAPER COMPOSITOR
BUNNO
DIDN'T YOU HEAR THE MAID TESTIFY A MOMENT AGO THAT SHE FOUND BUNK THERE TOO?
YES, BUT HE WAS LOOKING OUT OF THE WINDOW — SAW HARRY WAS BESIDE ME
I'M GOING INTO POLITICS NOW
I THOUGHT HE WAS WHY?
MAD
BECAUSE HE PUT THE RETORT OF BALL GAMES INTO TYPE
I LOVE EVERY BONE IN YOUR HEAD

Hammer in Boston Bow

O'Leary May Be Tartar

By RINGSIDE.

Ever Hammer, the sturdy little battler from Chicago, one of the reigning sensations among the country's crop of broiler lightweights, and a member of the 135-pound class who doesn't have the slightest bit of trouble making weight, which is most uncommon these highfalutin' days in pugdom, makes his Boston bow tonight.

Hammer treated Hon. Freddie Welsh to an out-and-out trouncing in Milwaukee last April and the notable Britisher, the fox of foxes, has remarked several times that the Bohemian is the best young lightweight in the Queensberry game.

Hammer's views vis-a-vis is to be Johnny O'Leary, a product of far-away Seattle, Wash., holder of Canada's lightweight title, and, according to all report, a mighty efficient gloveman himself.

Following last week's flivver, when the boxing fans failed to afford the Britton-Griffiths bout anything like the lavish patronage expected, and with the two loudly-touted welterweights putting up a hum-drum performance, one sans even the slightest bit of action, it didn't appear as if Miah Murray, Alec MacLean & Co. would come back with two more out-of-town battlers.

SMACKS OF REAL THING.

However, the unexpected has got to happen with a vehement vengeance for the Hammer-O'Leary battle to prove a disappointment. Unlike Britton and Griffiths, who had signed to come together in Ohio on Labor Day, they have no forthcoming battle to fight.

Likewise were they on the ground early, letting the talent gaze at them in training quarters. As for Britton and Griffiths, they reached Boston the night before their booking, arriving too late, of course, to take any workouts.

Hammer got in from Chicago with Manager Howard Carr Sunday morning. O'Leary arrived at the same time with his mentor, "Dark" Kelly, coming over from Buffalo. The rival boxers did both roadwork and gymnasium toil yesterday. Both planned additional work for this morning.

The weighing-in hour is 2 o'clock, and, as so seldom happens in a lightweigh encounter these days, the boys are to make 133 pounds. What's more, the two managers claim that their charges are well within that figure.

It was Miah Murray's forenoon announcement that either Larry Conley or Mike Doherty would referee the Hammer-O'Leary battle. Needless to state Conley is the official the bulk of the Triple A members want to see on the job. A gallant sporting man is Flaherty, a fine, pleasant party, but he is a lamentably bad picker, and as the decision means so much to both boys, it is scarcely possible that Manager Carr and Kelly will stand to have him serve.

Be that as it may, it won't be known until post-time just what official keeps Hammer and O'Leary company inside the padded circle.

Since last February Hammer has vanquished Joe Welling, Joe Sherman, the Bitter Root Kid and Freddie Welsh, July 4 he boxed Johnny Dundee, the speedy New York Scotch-Wop, ten rounds before the Elks of East Chicago. Dundee landed in front, thanks to getting off in front, but it is Manager Carr's claim Hammer had Johnny's number in the final frames and can positively beat him if he gets him again.

CARR PLANS TO LOCATE.

Carr has grabbed at the chance of putting his charge over in Boston. He promised several additional big bookings, including the desired return match with Dundee, providing Hammer delivers big in his set-to tonight with O'Leary.

In O'Leary, Hammer is meeting a very tricky, dangerous boxer. He is a skilled little engman; a tidy combination fighter-boxer. For all that, Hammer has been installed the betting favorite and looms up as the probable winner.

Clever Johnny Donovan, the South Boston featherweight, one of this section's most promising ring prospects, goes on with "Kid" Chakas in the semi-final. The club has booked the usual two six-rounders. Tony Vatlan and Teddy Murphy and Joe Camp and Leo Downey are the pairs carded to mix.

ARMORY A. A. PROGRAM.

Ever Hammer of Chicago vs. Johnny O'Leary of Seattle, Wash., 12 rounds, 135 pounds or 3 weleh.

Johnny Donovan vs. "Kid" Chakas, 6 rounds.

Tony Vatlan vs. Teddy Murphy, 6 rounds.

Joe Camp vs. Leo Downey, 6 rounds.

Referees—Larry Conley and Maffitt Flaherty.

Starting time—8 p. m.

EAST HAS ENTRY IN FINALS

J. J. Armstrong, the crack young Philadelphian, continued his sterling play in the semi-final round for the Longwood Bowl and meets William M. Johnston of California, the national champion, in the finals this afternoon. Armstrong disposed of Ichiyis Kumagae, the Jap, in straight sets, while Johnston won a hard four-set match from Watson M. Washburn.

Armstrong's play in the tournament, even though he loses to Johnston, which is naturally expected, has been of a calibre which presages a champion in the making.

In disposing of Clarence J. Griffin, one of the Coast stars, he eliminated a man who, in turn, eliminated R. Norris Williams, the 1914 champion, and the player favored to win this year's bowl.

Johnston had a narrow escape in his semi-final match with Washburn, and such a thing as Armstrong continuing his surprising work is not entirely outside the realm of possibility.

The young Philadelphian is a sterling player and there are several shrewd critics who predict that if he doesn't defeat Johnston, he will force the match to extra sets.

In his match with Washburn, Johnston led two sets to love, and the third set was four games to love in his favor when he suddenly stopped. Washburn came like a rocket and, ere Johnston knew it, the set was at deuce and then five to four in Washburn's favor. Washburn went on and won, seven games to five. In the fourth set Washburn led four games to two, when Johnston spurted and won the next four games and set.

LONGWOOD CHALLENGE BOWL.
Semi-Final Round.

W. M. Johnston, San Francisco, defeated W. M. Washburn, New York, 6—3, 6—3, 5—7, 6—1.

J. J. Armstrong, Philadelphia, defeated I. Kumagae, Tokio, 6—3, 7—5, 7—5.

NEW ENGLAND JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIP.
Final Round.

C. S. Garland, Pittsburgh, defeated Arthur Farrell, Longwood, 6—0, 6—1.

SICKLING OF NORFOLK GOES TO THE CUBS

Chicago, Aug. 1.—President Weeghman of the Cubs announces the purchase of Third Baseman Sicking of the Norfolk (Virginia League) club. He has batted .326 in eighty-five games.

PURDUE SIGNS O'CONNOR.

Eddie O'Connor, former coach at Brown University, has been selected to coach Purdue's track team next season. In addition to his duties with the track men, O'Connor will also act as trainer of the football eleven. It was O'Connor who developed Norman Tabor, the great Brown miler.

KOLEHMAINEN IS TO START AT CALEDONIAN

Willie Kolehmainen, the Flying Finn, will be among the starters in the American five-mile professional championship at the Scotch games, Caledonian Grove, Saturday afternoon. Kolehmainen wired Manager Tom Grieve today he would arrive Thursday morning.

OLD SOL GETS OLD HONUS.

New York, Aug. 1.—Honus Wagner, the Pirates' veteran shortstop, gave out because of the excessive heat in the second game on the Polo Grounds. He stated this morning he would be on duty this afternoon.

PENDLETON WILL BE OUT ON GRIDIRON

The many friends of Joe Pendleton, the Boston football official, will be pleased to hear that he is to return to the gridiron next Fall. Pendleton is one of the really good officials in football and was forced to lay off last season because of illness.

MAISEL ALMOST READY.

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Fritz Maisel of the Yankees is practicing with the White Sox and expects to be back in the game by the end of the week.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION.

Louisville 1, Indianapolis 2
Milwaukee 3, St. Paul 1.
Columbus 5, Toledo 4.

Seres Noses Out Linart in Long Revere Race

Georges Seres, the famous French ace-follower, finished first in the fifty-mile race, which topped last night's card at the Revere track.

Seres had it out in hammer-and-sings style with Victor Linart, the Belgian flyer. Their finish brought the big crowd to its feet, and it was not until Seres crossed the wire that he was assured first money. Linart held on doggedly and was beaten by less than a quarter of a wheel's length. Seres' time was 1h. 12m. 57 4-5s.

Clarence Carman hardly rode up to the form he displayed Saturday night. Slow to get going, the lone American in the race finished a few feet behind Linart.

Wednesday night the Brassard one-hour race will feature the card.

Walter Cox Lands Two Firsts at Kalamazoo

By International News Service.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 1.—Favorites were upset at the opening day's racing of the Grand Circuit meeting at Recreation Park. The talent took an especially hard fall in the Rickman Hotel stake for 2.12 trotters.

Agota Axworthy, from the Murphy stable, a winner at both North Randall and Detroit, was the choice, but she was beaten in straight heats by Worthy Prince.

The second first choice to be beaten was Derby Custer in the 2:15 pace, Thomas Earl being an easy victor.

The 2:09 trot was a five-heat affair, which Walter Cox also pulled off with Director Todd, the favorite; Bonington, landing third money.

Bookmakers supplanted the mutuel machines, this being the first appearance of the layers of odds in the big ring this season. Speculation was very light.

SPORT FOOD

HAVE A HEART, JOHN!

I know you would not pick upon a cripple
Nor black his eyes nor trend upon his toes,
But answer me, I beg of you, John Evers,
Why did you pick on Rollie Zeider's nose?

LIFE'S MYSTERIES—A semi-pro, Battling Levinsky may never become a world's champion, but he has earned an apartment in the Hall of Fame as the Wandering Jew.

IT BEGINS AT HOME

There are many donating to charity,
There isn't a sign of a doubt of it,
But I oftentimes yearn to be able to earn
What the charity workers get out of it.

The Business of Bookies does not sound quite as classy as the Sport of Kings, but he is closer to the straight of it.

Recent defections from the Ford Peace expedition lead one to suspect that Henry has put the brakes on the exchequer.

INSIDE BASEBALL.

The sweat ran down the athlete's cheek, the sun was hot as blazes
He spoke a lot of words that stirred the umpire's heart to wrath,
The athlete was called because he used such beetle phrases,
And soon was calmly smiling underneath a shower bath.

Jack Johnson, we read, is financially embarrassed in Spain. The Spaniards like foreigners, but not that particular kind.

Freddie Welsh, having agreed to meet Charley White in a twenty-round conflict, all that is needed is a traction engine to get him into the ring.

THE HORRORS OF BASEBALL.

If you chance to see a cripple whose anatomy is sore
He is not, perforce, a soldier who was wounded in the war.
He is not, perforce, a captain or a private in the ranks,
For the chances are that he is just a member of the Yanks.

ANOTHER CATCHER HURT

St. Louis, Aug. 1.—Catcher Severeid of the Browns, first name "Hank," same as the notable Brave receiver who was rendered hors de combat in Boston yesterday, had a finger on his right hand knocked out by a foul tip in the game with the Yankees. Manager Jones fears that Severeid will be out for at least ten days.

FORAN TO ENTER TUFTS.

New Haven, Ct., Aug. 1.—Fred Foran, New Haven High's former track captain and distance runner, is to enter Tufts in the Fall. He is also a speedy baseball player.

HOT LINERS

By FRANK G. MENKE.

Effective stick work enabled the Dodgers to garner both games from the Reds. The victories increased the Dodgers' lead to four games over the Braves.

* * *

The Giants shut out the Pirates in both games by the same score, 7-0. Tesreau came back to form and Sallee won his first game as a Giant. Fletcher was also back in the line-up and now Manager McGraw's team is intact.

* * *

The heat was too much for Hans Wagner. The "Grand Old Man" had to quit early in the second game.

* * *

The Browns chalked up their 11th straight win when they defeated the Yankees for the fifth time in succession. It was also a record run of defeats for the Yankees this season.

* * *

On Saturday the Yankees were in first place. Today they are in third place, two games behind the leading Red Sox and still sliding.

* * *

The Braves and Cardinals did the Alphonse-Gaston act.

* * *

The Nationals thumped the Indians hard, their bats sending eleven runs across the rubber.

* * *

Cravath's home run won for the Phillies over the Cubs.

* * *

The Wackmen made a gallant fight to chalk up their twentieth victory but the White Sox won out in the eleventh.

* * *

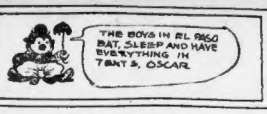
The Tigers were helpless before Ruth and had a bunch of zeros for the warm afternoon's work.

Play 'em straight across the board, Bo—play 'em straight—and pass the good word along.

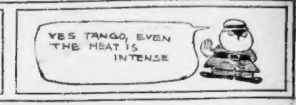
The one best sure-thing always bet, the greatest, grandest little cigarette you've ever smoked.

MECCA

The Speed Merchant Never Makes Much Progress on the Straight and Narrow Path



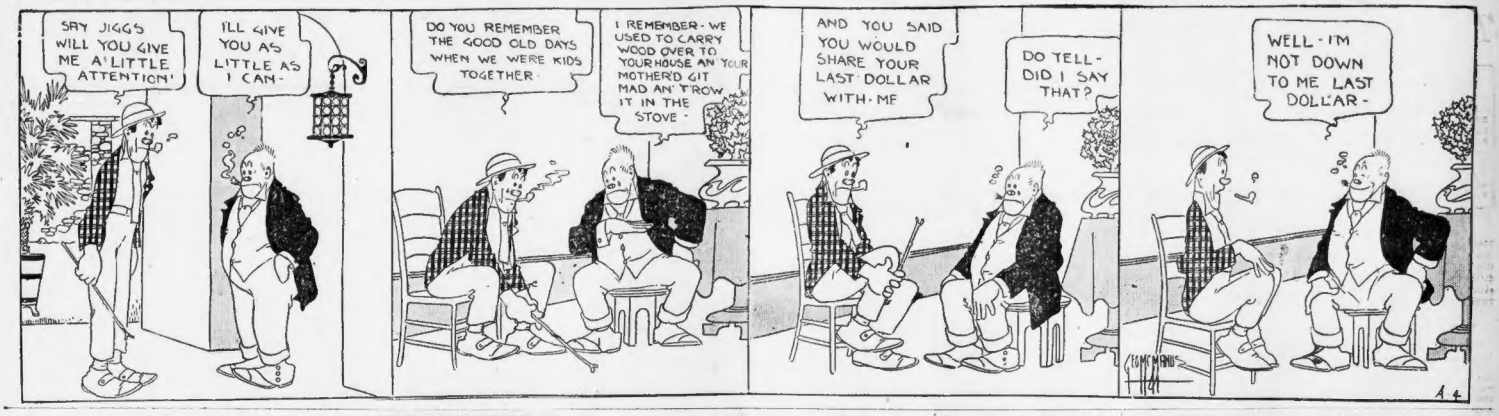
BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS



Bringing Up Father

Copyright, 1916, International News Service—Registered United States Patent Office

By George McManus



SAY JIGGS WILL YOU GIVE ME A LITTLE ATTENTION!
I'LL GIVE YOU AS LITTLE AS I CAN-
DO YOU REMEMBER THE GOOD OLD DAYS WHEN WE WERE KIDS TOGETHER
I REMEMBER - WE USED TO CARRY WOOD OVER TO YOUR HOUSE AN YOUR MOTHER'D GIT MAD AN' T'ROW IT IN THE STOVE -
AND YOU SAID YOU WOULD SHARE YOUR LAST DOLLAR WITH ME
DO TELL - DID I SAY THAT?
WELL - I'M NOT DOWN TO ME LAST DOLLAR -
GEO MCMANUS

Rico Gets His Chance

Braves Going Nicely

By JOHN W. MORAN, JR.

Young Art Rico, late of the Huntington School, gets his second crack at major league baseball this afternoon when he dons the spangles to handle the delivery of either George Tyler or Ed Reulbach. Hennery Gowdy's injury is such as to keep him out of the game for the better part of a month. Tragessor may be in shape today, but chances are that Stallings will allow him to rest up before putting him in again.

Meanwhile the Braves are working with might and main to acquire the services of some seasoned backstop. By seasoned it isn't necessarily meant that they seek a big league player. They don't, instead they are trying to recall Karl Blackburn who was let out to Providence early in the year. Blackburn is a fairly quick-thinking receiver, throws well and can bat well enough to help out.

Rico had his baptism of fire yesterday afternoon when he was forced to go into the second game after Tragessor and Allen collided. He handled himself well and during his only time at bat made a mighty try for a hit with a long fly into left which Bob Boecher ran back for and got. Almost everybody in the park pulled for the former schoolboy to get a hit.

RICO LOOKS GOOD.

He handled both himself and Allen well during the time he was on the job. In fact, he looked so well that this morning Stallings is enthusiastic regarding his future. The Braves' manager thinks more of Rico now than he did down South this Spring. Then he thought him a sure comer. Rico hasn't signed a contract with the Braves as yet. He has, however, signed a tentative agreement with the club which practically binds him to sign with them.

Just who Huggins will rely on to land the game is more or less problematical. However, all signs seem to point toward an afternoon's labor on the part of Jasper. He worked in New York on Thursday and should be about ready to take his turn now. If not he then Watson or Lois should get the job.

CARDS ARE TROUBLESOME.

Huggins and his bunch are kind of cocky this morning as a result of their win in the opener yesterday. They haven't any great license to do, however, for luck certainly played a most important part in the day's doings. An unfortunate base on balls in the opening frame, which gave Wilson a chance to hit, made possible the first two runs, which really won the game.

While the Cardinals have a rather snappy looking bunch of athletes one hardly understand just why they got away with the first game yesterday. The Braves outhit them, but failed to take full advantage of all the opportunities which presented themselves. Today the Braves hope to cop the lone game they play and likewise pray that Cincinnati and Chicago have better luck at Brooklyn and Philadelphia.

Both the fans and athletes are praying today that the weather is a trifle cooler than that which prevailed during the play in the double-header yesterday. Conditions were worse than players or fans in Boston have had to endure in some years. What slight respite the wind storm and shower gave was not lasting, and if anything conditions were worse after it than before. In fact, the only collapse from the heat at the game came after the shower.

NO SUSPENSION POSSIBLE.

Johnny Evers reported for practice this morning uncertain as to what the fates have in store for him. While he doesn't cherish a suspension as a result of his run-in with Rigler yesterday afternoon, he won't be the least bit surprised should one come. We know not what he and Pfeffer found to argue about, but we do think that Rigler was a trifle off when he called a ball that Hank Gowdy swung at and missed a foul.

The passed ball would have put Evers at third with one down, but inasmuch as Rig called it foul, Hank had to go back to the plate and his next swipe was a lusty swing which Snyder gathered in and hugged right. Regan followed with a neat fan. Its always been understood that the team captain had a right to ask an umpire regarding his decision on a close play. Evers may have overstepped the bounds in talking with Rigler—that we don't know—but Rigler certainly kicked one when he called Hank's swing a foul.

Runs Scored by League Teams for the Week

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
July 25 to July 31 Inclusive.

	Boston	Chicago	Cleveland	Detroit	New York	Philadelphia	St. Louis	Washington
Tuesday	4	13	5	6	8	3	8	5
Wednesday	8	2	2	6	2	7	10	6
Thursday	2	6	6	7	6	2	3	4
Friday	3	8	2	5	5	6	8	0
Saturday	11	5	4	10	7	3	6	0
Sunday	8	17	3	3	1	1	4	2
Monday	6	4	4	1	3	2	4	11

High—Washington, 11. Low—Detroit, 0.
*No game.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
July 25 to July 31 Inclusive.

	Boston	Brooklyn	Chicago	Cincinnati	New York	Philadelphia	St. Louis	Pittsburgh
Tuesday	2	6	4	3	*	3	*	4
Wednesday	5	7	0	4	*	9	3	6
Thursday	4	2	3	2	*	5	2	4
Friday	6	4	2	5	*	8	5	2
Saturday	12	4	6	8	*	6	8	3
Sunday	7	4	5	6	*	*	*	*
Monday	5	12	2	3	14	4	5	4

High—New York, 14. Low—Chicago, 2.
*No game.

EASTERN LEAGUE.
July 25 to July 31 Inclusive.

	Bridgeport	Hartford	Lynn	Lowell	Lawrence	New London	Portland	Springfield	Worcester
Tuesday	*	6	2	0	1	0	7	*	*
Wednesday	*	6	2	1	0	3	7	*	*
Thursday	4	3	4	3	0	5	2	3	0
Saturday	10	6	9	8	11	5	7	14	12
Sunday	8	11	*	*	*	*	*	3	5
Monday	4	3	*	3	*	7	3	3	6

High—New Haven, 7, Hartford, Lowell, 3. Low—Portland, Hartford, Lowell, 0.
*No game.

MILLIONS SOLD EVERY YEAR
EL CHO
10 CENT CIGAR

The Links an ARROW Light-Starched Tapelinked COLLAR
15c each 6 for 90c
CLUETT, PEABODY & CO. INC. MAKERS

BASE BALL SUMMARY

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

At Boston—(First game) St. Louis 4, Boston 3. (second game) Boston 2, St. Louis 1.
At Brooklyn—(First game) Brooklyn 8, Cincinnati 3; (second game) Brooklyn 4, Cincinnati 3.
At Philadelphia—Philadelphia 4, Chicago 2.
At New York—(First game) New York 7, Pittsburgh 6; (second game) New York 7, Pittsburgh 0.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Brooklyn	54	34	.614	Chicago	44	49	.473
BOSTON	48	36	.571	St. Louis	43	54	.443
Philadelphia	49	38	.563	Pittsburgh	39	49	.443
New York	45	43	.511	Cincinnati	38	57	.400

TODAY'S GAMES.

St. Louis at Boston (2-15 p. m.).
Chicago at Philadelphia.
Cincinnati at Brooklyn.
Pittsburgh at New York.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.
YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

At Detroit—Boston 6, Detroit 0.
At Cleveland—Washington 11, Cleveland 1.
At Chicago—Chicago-St. Louis game, (11 innings).
At St. Louis—St. Louis 4, New York 2.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
BOSTON	54	40	.574	Detroit	52	47	.525
Chicago	55	41	.573	Washington	49	45	.521
New York	53	43	.552	St. Louis	48	49	.495
Cleveland	51	44	.537	Philadelphia	19	71	.211

TODAY'S GAMES.

Boston at Detroit.
Philadelphia at Chicago.
New York at St. Louis.
Washington at Cleveland.

EASTERN LEAGUE.
Yesterday's Results.

At Springfield—Springfield 6, Portland 2.
At New London—New London 5, Worcester 4 (10 innings).
At New Haven—New Haven 7, Hartford 2.
At Lowell—Bridgeport 4, Lowell 3.
At Lynn—Lawrence 6, Lynn 0.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Portland	53	22	.707	Lawrence	32	40	.444
N. London	51	27	.654	New Haven	29	44	.397
Worcester	48	33	.593	Bridgeport	30	49	.380
Springfield	42	35	.545	Lowell	28	48	.378
Lynn	40	38	.513	Hartford	27	46	.370

Today's Games.

Worcester at New London.
Portland at Springfield (two games).
Bridgeport at Lowell.
Lynn at Lawrence.
New Haven at Hartford.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE.
Yesterday's Results.

At Baltimore—Providence 5, Baltimore 7.
At Buffalo—Jersey City 4, Buffalo 2.
At Montreal—Montreal 3, Toronto 2.
At Richmond—Richmond 4, Newark 0.

Standing of the Clubs.

	W.	L.	P.C.		W.	L.	P.C.
Providence	59	40	.596	Toronto	44	52	.512
Buffalo	59	40	.596	Richmond	43	44	.494
Montreal	46	41	.529	Newark	37	51	.420
Baltimore	47	44	.516	Rochester	35	49	.417

NOTES OF BRAVES' GAMES

THE injury to both Gowdy and Tragessor coming in the same day has worked havoc with Stallings' catching department. Their misfortunes resulted in some rare luck for young Rico, who has pined for the opportunity to get into a real league game.

* * *

WHEN Gowdy first reached the clubhouse after his injury the split thumb was indeed a sore sight. A small piece of bone was apparent through the crack in the skin. Hank manfully stood up while Dr. Whalen pulled the thumb back straight and fixed it up.

* * *

WHILE Tragessor's injury was painful, it wasn't necessarily one that will keep him idle for any great length of time. Dr. Whalen announced that applications of hot towels through the night should bring the soreness out and have Tragessor in shape in a day or so.

* * *

THE heat in the stand yesterday was more than a great many of the regular down-front patrons could stand. A good many of them sought relief in the back of the stand, and yet others found it at the various beaches around Boston.

* * *

ENVIOUS glances were cast from the grandstand over toward Mengine Beach, where hundreds of people, young and old, were in swimming. The scene was a bright one to those in the coop, but didn't aid much in their relief.

* * *

SAM LEIS did something which ball clubs don't very often do to Jess Barnes. They fell on him hard in the opener and, ere the chapter closed, had scored two runs on a trio of hits. An unfortunate walk helped out some.

* * *

WHAT looked like dumb base running deprived Johnny Evers of a hit and Boston a run in the third inning of the first game. Barnes was on second and Maranville on first when Evers lifted a high fly that fell in short right. The Rabbit held back too far and as a result, though the ball wasn't touched, Evers merely gets credited with a fielder's choice, as Maranville was forced at second.

* * *

HARRISON experienced a bad afternoon back of the bat, for he not only missed a strike or two, but in addition clearly missed the play when Evers attempted to steal home. The Trojan had the plate to a certainty; in fact, Gardner hasn't touched him yet. Harrison thought otherwise.

* * *

RIGLER, too, wasn't over successful in his work. He missed one or two back of the plate and, according to some, missed the play at third when he ruled "Red" Smith out on an attempted pilfer. From the Boston bench it looked as though "Red" was in. Others thought differently.

10c CIGAR FOR 5c
1-20-7
HAND MADE—UNION MADE
ASK YOUR DEALER
Mfr. 481 Ferry St., Malden.
Present this ad to your dealer and get a 5c Sc.

Leonard Faces Tygers

Champs Hard to Stop

Detroit, Mich, Aug. 1.—Manager Carrigan and his World's Champions are out to take today's game. They feel that the change in the weather will mean a snappy game, and the boys are surely set for trouble. The Tigers have given the Champs plenty of trouble, but they are no longer feard. Dutch Leonard will be sent to the mound to turn the trick, while Boland is the probable choice of the Jinglaleers' leader. President J. J. Lannin is with the team enjoying the work of his men.

The impression now prevalent throughout the circuit that the Red Sox will be hard to drag back, now that they are in first place, was strengthened by the glistening game they played yesterday.

"Babe" Ruth never gave the Tygers a scoring chance. He held them to two hits, one a pop fly that fell on the foul line and went for a lucky double, and allowed no Detroiter to pass second.

Nor did his team mates find it necessary to do anything startling to help him. Incidentally, Ruth snagged a couple of binsles himself, both solid smashes to right.

GARDNER STARTS RALLY.

One big inning and one for the Boston needs and it came after Coveleskie, another pitch-hair from Saturday, had hurled four innings of splendid ball. Gardner led off with a double that had a bit of steam behind it. It was one of those high flies that fell near the foul line, just out of reach of the fielders.

An error of judgment on Coveleskie's part allowed Larry to reach third when Scott bunted. "Covey" gathered in the tap and threw to third when he had no chance for a play. Then Young booted Cady's grounder for what should have been the second out.

Ruth fanned in this pinch, but Hooper sacrificed and Barry and Lewis singled, Gainer got a real double and all this goulash brought in five tallies, five times as many as were really needed.

M. DUBUC WINDS UP.

In the eighth Gardner doubled, and scored Walker, who had singled. Dubuc had replaced Covelesckie in the sixth and this was the limit of successful mastery of his opponents.

The only real chance the Tygers had to score abstruction came in the first chapter, when Scott threw to the "dugout" on Veach grounder and Oscar took second with no one out.

Veach was run down when Bush feebly rolled to Ruth. Donie, who had taken second on the play, was promptly caught off the bag.

Both Tyger hits came with no one out, but strike-outs and pop-ups were all that Ruth would stand for.

EBBETS OFFERS $20,000 FOR A SHORTSTOP

President Charles H. Ebbets of the Brooklyn National League club confirmed the report that he had made an offer of $20,000 in cash, together with an infielder and a pitcher, for Roger Hornsby, shortstop of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Miller Huggins, manager of the Cardinals, said that he knew nothing of any such deal.

Brooklyn is in dire need of a short fielder. When Herzog was placed on the market Ebbets made a big offer to the Cincinnati club for him, but the New York club beat him to it.

Shortstop has been a weak position in the Brooklyn club for some time, and the general belief is the Superbas are making a desperate effort to land a player who will fill he bill and thus increase the Brooklyn club's chances for the pennant.

Sans Speaker and Morton, Good Ship Fohl on the Rocks

CLEVELAND, Aug. 1.—A lineup is to be torn loose from the bone in Tris Speaker's left ankle and the great outfielder and batter will probably be out of the game at least a month.

Speaker hopes to get back on duty in less time, but the physicians decline to hold out much hope. The swelling has been reduced considerable and "Spoke" was able to be around on crutches today. It is the most serious injury he has had since he has been playing baseball.

BOBBY WALLACE IS BACK WITH BROWNS

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 1.—Bobby Wallace today signed a contract to play with the Browns. Shortstop Ernie Johnson injured his right arm in Sunday's game with the Yankees and will not be able to play for three weeks. Figuring on a spurt and the line for the pennant, Manager Jones dickered with Wallace, and will have him ready to step in and play in case Lavan is hurt. It developed that Wallace had received his release as an American League umpire a month ago and he was free to sign with the Browns.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION.

Atlanta 6, Chattanooga 3; (second game) Chattanooga 6, Atlanta 0.
Nashville 3, Birmingham 2.
Memphis 10, New Orleans 3.
Little Rock 5, Mobile 0 (second game) Little Rock 1, Mobile 0.

Filene's MEN'S SHOPS

MEN who read the papers doubtless know by this time all about the increases in woolen prices. When merchants are laying up stores of woolens against these advanced prices what man can afford not to take the tip and lay by an extra suit or two?

Filene's MEN'S SHOPS

Annual Summer Reduction of Men's

Stein-Bloch and Other Suits

"Why," you probably ask, "don't you save these suits until fall, if it is true prices will be higher, instead of asking us to do so?"

The Filene business has been built and we propose to continue to build it on the basis of starting off each season with brand new stocks no matter how slight the changes in style may be,

CONSEQUENTLY WE OFFER THESE VALUES TO EFFECT A QUICK DISPOSAL.

All of our 3-piece fancy suits—STEIN-BLOCH and others, excepting plain blue, gray or black suits, summer outing suits, Palm Beach, silk suits, etc.

Men's 3-piece spring and summer suits that were $25 $19.50

Men's 3-piece spring and summer suits that were $20 and $22.50 $15.50

Men's 3-piece spring and summer suits that were $15 and $17.50 $12.50

Men's 3-piece spring and summer suits that were $30 $23.50

Suits which were $35 are $26.50

Pinch-backs! Excellent choosing of pinch-back suits, particularly in sizes 33 and 34—younger men's sizes—at all prices.

Raincoats At special prices, $3.95, $6.75, $8.50 and $12.50 —normally higher priced.

(Second Floor by Escalator in Less than a Minute)

The First Episode in "Beatrice Fairfax," the Exciting New Film Serial, Starts Here Today. Don't Miss It.

The American's Magazine and Fiction Page

"BEATRICE FAIRFAX"

Novelized from the Great Film Play by Beatrice Fairfax

Stars in Episode No. 1

'The MISSING WATCHMAN'

Jimmy Barton, a reporter for the Evening Journal, Harry Fox.

Beatrice Fairfax of the New York Evening Journal and Boston American, Grace Darling.

This splendid series of exciting human interest stories is produced in motion pictures by Wharton (Inc.) Studios, for the International Film Service (Inc.).

See the motion pictures at your favorite theatre next week. Here are the first two instalments.

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX.
(Novelized from the Scenario of Basil Dickey.)

Copyright, 1916, International News Service.

"Beatrice, you ought to get married," said Grandmother, firmly.

"Can't, granny, dear—haven't time." I replied, with a trolling of wonder concerning other people's grandmothers; did they always want to marry off the younger generation, too?

"Haven't time," Grandmother's voice mimicked mine cleverly, and there was a twinkle in the keen blue eyes which looked out on life with such interest from her finely wrinkled, pink-cheeked old face.

"Other people's love affairs are all very well, my girl—but every woman needs one of her own.

"Even if you have to be the confidante of the whole United States, I think you owe it to your old Granny to confide a few things to her. Isn't there some man down at the Journal office?"

"No, dear, there isn't. Down in newspaper offices there are a lot of good, honest friendships. Editors and office boys as well have a kindly attitude toward any woman who is trying to earn a living and live up to an ideal. But we're much too busy to think about love and love making. So, you dear old matchmaker, stop dreaming that some day I'll come home to you and tell you how the managing editor took me out to lunch and asked for my heart and hand."

"Perhaps he will," began Grandmother with that eager intent for romantic interest which keeps her young and which makes her loved by our Italian fruit vender and the butcher boy and our maid-of-all-work, as well as by all clever writers or folk who come in our house for Sunday tea.

"Perhaps he won't, dearest; he's married, you see."

Then I kissed Granny good-by, marched over to the subway and started my ride to the land of adventures my work brings me little every day.

AN EXPLANATION.

Dear unknown friends, who come to me so confidently for help in all of life's problems, do you ever wonder what it means to be the confidante of millions of human beings whose faces I have never seen? It means this, the carrying out of my dead father's wishes—and the chance to serve all of you.

My wonderful father—student of humanity as well as of books—had always possessed a heart full of sympathy for girls as well as his motherless bairn.

He had taught me to long to understand myself, to orientate and strive not to fall them when they appealed to me for help.

And so he left me as richer legacy than a letter that held his spirit. This was his concluding sentence:

"And I trust that when I am gone you will find some means of helping girls less fortunate than yourself. Your loving father."

All during the long months of loneliness when I first found myself orphaned and groping about for some way to endure the sorrow that was almost too much for my youthful heart to bear, that letter—my father's dying wish—kept calling a message to me.

ONE WAY TO SERVE.

At last I thought of a way. I had often seen the editor of the New York Evening Journal—I knew of his work in the cause of humanity and of his paper's faith in the ideals of human brotherhood. Alone, I could reach but few people. Through this splendid medium there was a whole world within reach of my voice.

Half bravely and half timidly I ventured down to Brisbin Block, "where tangled webs of traffic wind," and then I sought the next building which houses the Journal.

An office boy took my card and said rather carelessly that he didn't know whether the Managing Editor would see me. Good fortune was with me, for as I afterward learned, I had come at a quiet interval between editors and that Managing Editor did see me.

He listened to my plan with alert intensity and thought it out for a minute or two while I felt that my bubbling heart was there, also sounding its beats aloud. Then he said in the tone of one who makes decisions and stands by them:

"Your idea may interest the Chief Editor. I will take you to him, Miss Fairfax."

Nothing more momentous has ever happened to me than my meeting with the man who is America's greatest editor. I felt force and power and infinite depths and reserve when my eyes met the editor's keen blue ones. His very office had an atmosphere of culture—of kindness. When I was presented to the man, I was at once aware that is most progressive in modern journalism, he asked courteously:

"What can I do for you, Miss Fairfax?"

That, I found, is almost a formula with a man who feels a most urge to serve humanity. Later I repeated it to "Tad" when that beloved, friendly cartoonist of world fame came in to discuss something with the editor who has "discovered" him.

I told him my plan. I found myself stripped of all hypocrisy by the searching keenness of his blue eyes that studied me so kindly, yet so seriously. It was as easy to tell him of my hopes, my fears, as one of my practical plans for a column to be called "Advice to the Lovelorn."

I wonder if any editor of second magnitude would have listened to me—would have given me a hearing as did the one editor of first magnitude in all America?

I got my hearing. I got my chance. The editor had faith in me. I believe I have justified that faith.

I managed to interest him as soon as he found I really had a desire to serve. And so the ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN, born of a father's idealism and a girl's desire to be faithful to her heritage, and of an editor's loyalty to the cause of humanity began.

ADVENTURES EVERYWHERE.

A ride in the subway is an adventure. Every phase of life's human comedy and tragedy are there. One may study all types of fellow beings and find material for the most wonderful, the most beautiful, or the saddest and most sordid of stories as one swings on through the underground night under Manhattan Island.

All the way uptown on the Evening Journal office that morning I kept remembering what Grandmother had said, maybe I would find what every woman's duty to fulfil, her destiny by love and marriage. I smiled to myself, whisper whimsically that I had a super-Beatrice to whom to turn.

But to me it seemed that my chance had come, for a place in the world's work, lay in giving myself unreservedly to those who called to me as girls.

At last we whirled into the Brooklyn Bridge station. I left the train and became part of the stream of life surging down to the Journal Building.

In a corner of the city room stood the edit Service desk which seemed almost like a spirit holding out welcoming arms to me. On it lay the scenario of my picture, written in pencil, letters in red ink, typewritten notes—evidences of the affairs gling writing of one of the toilers to whom the formation of each character meant a task, and letters in the trained chirography of the office man or stenographer, glanced through them hastily, looking for those over-scrawled with impatience.

One letter in particular appealed to me at once. It was written neatly and with no disguising carelessness, there were marks of agitation in the punctuation. "Dear Miss," one corner and "Please read" in another. I read it at once. It was a simple, human document, starting much in little.

"Dear Miss Fairfax: I am engaged to the watchman of the bank. Yesterday I met him on the street with another girl and he will not speak to me. What shall I do?

"Mary Ryan.

"231 East 181st st."

A problem in human psychology this. Why should a man pass a fair fiancee on the street without recognition? Was the girl a friend for whom he is engaged to one girl permit himself to be found in the company of another in whom he took so little pride that he must furtively pass the woman who was to be his wife? Why should any man put himself in such a position?

I gave it a moment or two of thought and then returned to the rest of my mail with the idea of coming back to Mary Ryan's letter later after I had gotten a little more perspective on her trouble.

I was half-way through my mail when the new reporter whose desk was next to mine came in. Jimmy Barton brought a certain freshness and enthusiasm to his work which communicated itself all through the city room. The office boys greeted him and the most blase copy reader on the paper looked up to meet Jimmy's wide, friendly, infectious grin.

"Morning, Miss Fairfax," said he. "Any question that needs a man's broad viewpoint? Can your Uncle Carmen help you any?"

Then he hurried over to the city editor—Howard Barnes—and reported that a reform wave had struck New York, for the police are beats were as white and pure as the snow that would fall next January. A second later Mr. Barnes picked up his phone, and Jimmy's extension phone sounded simultaneously.

Jimmy darted out with an air of excitement and Barnes scribbled an order on his yellow pad and gave it to one of the office boys. I heard a few orders about an extra—and then I went on reading my mail and pondering the human offered me for solution.

An hour later Jimmy Barton came whirling into the office again with the cyclonic effect he always produced when he had a good story.

"Something doing in little old New York now," he remarked as he passed my desk after reporting to the city editor. "Bank robbers got $30,000 in the Bronx. And the watchman in the little old bank has disappeared."

He sat down at his machine and began hammering out a story. Mr. Barnes called to him. "Get out your story as fast as possible. We can't wait more than fifteen minutes."

A SUDDEN CLUE.

But my mind had focussed suddenly on one point. The robbery had been in the Bronx and the watchman missing. East One Hundred and Eighty-first street was in the Bronx, too. Could there be any connection between Mary Ryan and that robbery? A newspaper is often a clearing house for mystery. As Jimmy Barton hammered out his story I put aside the letter I was preparing to answer and got out the neatly written sheet on which Mary Ryan had registered her trouble.

Jimmy got out his copy with the speed a good newspaper man must possess. He handed it sheet by sheet to the waiting copy boy, and when he had finished jammed on his hat in preparation for departure.

"Just a minute, Mr. Barton," I called. I rose and held out Mary Ryan's letter to the city editor. I felt I could best help her by enlisting his interest. He glanced over the letter hastily. His keen face lighted up with the pleasure a good newspaper man feels when he thinks he is on the "inside" of a good story.

"You'd better go along with Mr. Barton," Mr. Barnes said briefly, shoving the letter to the young reporter, who had moved up to his desk.

"Come on. We'll find the girl," cried Jimmy enthusiastically.

But I wanted to help Mary Ryan find her happiness.

Jimmy Barton hurried me over to the subway in frantic speed.

"Let's talk it over," said he, when the Lenox avenue train embarked us at Seventy-second. "Where's your girl in the sweetheart of that missing watchman, we ought to get some story."

"If my girl is the sweetheart of the missing watchman, I hope we can bring some help."

"You're a fine newspaper woman, Miss Fairfax. I believe you'd rather help along a wedding than an 'extra.'"

"Of course I would." I laughed. "How long do you think I could keep the Journal's interest and readers if I thought of them as copy? They're friends to me. I don't want to be a 'story' to any woman. I'm just a 'Big Sister to troubled hearts.'"

"By Jove, I guess about the only way a fellow could get you to notice him would be to have a few little tragedies of his own," laughed Jimmy Barton. "I'll try it sometime when we have a quiet day."

"Try getting into trouble!" I asked.

"No—I'm always in trouble—I have a natural affinity for that; I mean try falling in love."

A SERIOUS BUSINESS.

And ask me to get you out!" I asked. Even a woman, most of whose life centres about other people's stories, may enjoy having a little fun of her own in teasing a dapper youth like Jimmy Barton.

But at the end of our ride all our little efforts were forgotten, for we came face to face with a real tragedy. Mary Ryan lived in one of a long row of ordinary brick apartment houses out in the Bronx. We climbed four narrow flights of stairs and came at last to a door in the centre of which was tacked a card with "Mrs. Ryan" and "Mr. B. J. Ryan." A moment later, in answer to our ring, a motherly, plain-looking woman of about forty-five opened the door.

"Is this Mrs. Ryan?" I asked.

She nodded and ushered us in with unquestioning, courteous acceptance of strangers which the honest workers of the middle class offer more often than their richer and supposedly more cultured "betters." We found ourselves in a plainly furnished little place just a step or two above actual poverty. Over in the window stood a slender girl of about twenty. Her hearing sharpened by her trouble, she trembled "extras" at her feet, which had reached the Bronx as rapidly as we had followed her story.

THE TELL-TALE STORY.

There was undoubtedly a connection between Mary Ryan's troubled question of the day before and the bank robbery which flashed its story to big headlines across the front page of our paper. Jimmy picked up the crumpled bank and smoothed it out. It took me just a second to read it:

THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLAR BANK ROBBERY IN BRONX. WATCHMAN MISSING.

Police Seeking for George McTabe, Trusted Employe.

I hurried to the side of the sobbing girl and laid my hand on her arm. "I've come in answer to your letter," I said. "I'm Beatrice Fairfax."

The two women faced me in absolute amazement. Then the mother rushed forward, caught my hand and covered it with kisses. "Bless be to the saints," she said, "stop cryin', Mary, darlin', and look who's come to help you. It's Miss Fairfax herself, bless her kind heart."

Mary dried her eyes and turned to me, but I felt a suspicious moisture in my own. I winked it back and told myself that it was sentimental folly to be so strongly affected by Mrs. Ryan's simple faith.

"Miss Fairfax," gasped Mary. "You've come all the way out here to help me?"

"Jimmy stepped forward briskly. "And to let you help us a little bit, too. It's going to be a pretty good story"—he began. I presented the cautionary look and he told them that it was his story they had just been reading.

A PUZZLED MOTHER.

"Oh, his George's bank. I can't think what it's all about, Miss Fairfax. George was a good boy and he loved Mary," cried Mrs. Ryan.

"I think we can help you find George, Mrs. Ryan," said I, "that's what I have come for, but of course, Mr. Barton is a reporter and what he wants is a story and a big one for our paper. Do you think you can tell me anything that will help us to solve this mystery?"

"I hope so. Oh, please help me find him. I love him so." And Mary fell to sobbing again. But in a few minutes she regained her self-control and told us her story.

Once a week George got off duty and took her to lunch. He came downtown to the wholesale millinery store where she was one of the trimmers, and on that gala day Miss Ryan proudly went out for her noon meal on the arm of Mr. McTabe.

George was a nice-looking chap and Mary always thrilled with joy when the other girls saw him come for her. On that particular day some people at a neighboring table in the restaurant sat and stared at him.

At first Mary had merely gloried in the clean good looks that always attracted such favorable attention. Then her woman's jealousy stirred, for the girl who was watching him had a cheap and flashy prettiness and she seemed much more interested in George than in the hard-faced man at her side.

THE TANGLED SKEIN.

"I asked him if he knew them—Oh, Miss Fairfax, he said he didn't, but that was the girl I saw him with later and he stared at me as if he'd never seen me before."

Mary fell to sobbing again. "Buck up, Kiddo," cried Jimmy and, however much I disapproved of the easy familiarity of his attitude, I could see that the kindly warmth back of it together with the friendly assurance it conveyed that she had a man to count on, were helping Mary.

The rest of her story was quickly told. At five she left her place of employment and hurried home. She stopped out to a little neighborhood store to do an errand and presently she met George and the flashy looking girl she had seen in the restaurant. Her lover had a heavy bandage about his throat, but he still wore his uniform and badge. She stifled her quick impulse of jealousy and spoke to him. He stared at her blankly with expressionless eyes that had in them no trace of interest.

"Think of it, Miss Fairfax. My George walked along next to that painted-up thing and cut me dead. She took him by the arm and hurried him away—and he didn't even try to stop her. But whatever he did is her fault, I'm sure. George is honest and I love him so. Oh, won't you find him for me, miss?"

MARY GIVES THE PHOTOGRAPH.

"Here's his photograph," cried Mrs. Ryan, pointing proudly to the picture of a good looking, well set up young chap—a picture occupied a place of honor on the mantel.

Mary had fallen to sobbing again and had caught up the picture and was holding to it as if she could not bear her unhappiness without the warmth and comfort of the help she kept begging me to give her.

Suddenly I noticed Jimmy studying the picture and I asked Mary to lend it to him and she tearfully consented. But I felt that I was to protest—and then I sensed that Jimmy Barton had a plan. What it was I could not guess at that time. If I had I might have helped more intelligently and we might all have escaped a very torturing experience.

"Miss Fairfax, won't you stay here with me?" Mary begged and Jimmy cried: "I've a plan and I think we'll get results from it pretty quickly."

"Will you stay?" asked Mary, eagerly.

"If you don't hear from me by dark, come to the office," ordered Jimmy, then added, as an afterthought: "Thanks for the photograph."

Then he hurried out and left me to puzzle over the best way to help Mary Ryan endure her long hours of uncertainty.

(To be continued tomorrow).

Miss Grace Darling
Photograph by Campbell Studios, New York.

A Girl and a Man

By Virginia Terhune Van de Water

CHAPTER XIII.

Copyright, 1916, Star Company.

Agnes Morley ate little luncheon that noon. She had thought that she was hungry before she left the office, but when she reached the street she appreciated that she had gone past the time when she was in the habit of eating and really was conscious of no desire for food. Yet she knew it would be foolish to attempt to get through the afternoon without any nourishment.

She paused in the doorway of the great office building and looked down the sunlit street. She remembered that the restaurant to which she and Annie Rooney had gone together was some eight blocks away.

It was now half past one, and the new employe did not want to return to her post later than the other girls. She decided that it would be well for her to seek an eating-place near at hand.

"Is there a down-town restaurant anywhere in this neighborhood?" she queried one of the elevator "starters," who was just returning from his own luncheon.

"Sure there is," he replied. "Go up to the next corner, then turn to the left and walk half a block."

She followed the directions and entered a place displaying heaps of grape fruit in several bowls of tethered strawberries in the window.

Externally it resembled many other lunch rooms bearing names in huge white letters across the plate glass front. Inside the door the resemblance ceased. The tables were covered with worn oilcloth much splashed with coffee and other beverages.

Waitresses in soiled dresses and spotted aprons called out their orders in a confused jargon to a "chef" on the other side of the open slide at the end of the room. Smells of cooking food rose from the eating with odors of the dead and gone lunches of many yesterdays.

Agnes seated herself at a table and ordered a chicken sandwich. It was a thing which could be eaten, she hoped.

It looked clean enough, but was made of stale bread and dry, tasteless chicken.

A POOR MEAL.

"What'll you have to drink?" the waitress asked.

"Only a glass of water," the girl said. Somehow the idea of drinking milk here was not pleasant, and she did not want such tea or coffee as this establishment might afford.

The water was brought in a thick glass with a generous lump of ice in it. She regarded it gratefully. It looked clean and refreshing.

But as she lifted the glass toward her lips her glance fell upon the

I am late already. Please explain that to Mr. Bainbridge, will you?"

"Yes, Joe, you go tell him just that," Miss Rooney struck in with decision. "You give him Miss Morley's message straight."

"He won't like it," Joe warned her. "And Mr. Hale's not in anyhow."

"You're all to the good!" Annie murmured, as the boy moved off. "Don't you let old Hairbridge boss you. He's sure got a cast-iron nerve and he keeps it right with him all the time."

Agnes hurried away without acknowledging these comments. Entering Mr. Hale's office she found it empty, as she had known it would be. It was not yet the hour at which he had said he expected to return.

She closed the door softly behind her and, crossing the room hastily, seated herself at her machine and slipped into it a slip of paper. Then she began to work fiercely, as if she had not a moment to spare.

No sentence would come to her head but the one that is often used by operators to test the condition of a machine.

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party," she pounded out with feverish speed.

Again and again she wrote it until a quarter of the sheet of paper was covered with the inscription. Then she started another test sentence:

"This is the type of work done by this machine."

This line had been written but three times when the door into the outer office opened and Mr. Bainbridge entered.

To Be Continued.

Some mothers worry with one baby. How about quadruplets? Next Sunday's Boston AMERICAN will relate the trials and triumphs of the mother of girl "quads."

The Biography of a Sinner

The Blow Embitters Vera's Father

By ANN LISLE.

Copyright, 1916, International News Service.

Mother pushed back the covers and leaped from the bed. Then she crumpled in a little heap on the floor.

In a horrible nightmare, out of which other black events rear their ugly heads even now in memory, we got mother back to bed, telephoned Aunt Sadie to come over to be with her and stretched off in Jim Donaldson's racing car to meet our sorrow.

When we got to Millvale, Mr. and Mrs. Francis were already there. And with them was Rex. How he had heard the news so quickly I never knew. But he had forgotten everything and had driven down to Mildred's bedside. She was alive. There was a spark of flickering life in her poor bruised little body. Rex seemed more concerned with the living than the dead.

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party," she pounded out with feverish speed.

Again and again she wrote it until a quarter of the sheet of paper was covered with the inscription. Then she started another test sentence:

"This is the type of work done by this machine."

This line had been written but three times when the door into the outer office opened and Mr. Bainbridge entered.

To Be Continued.

Some mothers worry with one baby. How about quadruplets? Next Sunday's Boston AMERICAN will relate the trials and triumphs of the mother of girl "quads."

a few orders about an extra—and then I went on reading my mail and pondering the human offered me for solution.

An hour later Jimmy Barton came whirling into the office again with the cyclonic effect he always produced when he had a good story.

"Something doing in little old New York now," he remarked as he passed my desk after reporting to the city editor. "Bank robbers got $30,000 in the Bronx. And the watchman in the little old bank has disappeared."

He sat down at his machine and began hammering out a story. Mr. Barnes called to him. "Get out your story as fast as possible. We can't wait more than fifteen minutes."

A SUDDEN CLUE.

But my mind had focussed suddenly on one point. The robbery had been in the Bronx and the watchman missing. East One Hundred and Eighty-first street was in the Bronx, too. Could there be any connection between Mary Ryan and that robbery? A newspaper is often a clearing house for mystery. As Jimmy Barton hammered out his story I put aside the letter I was preparing to answer and got out the neatly written sheet on which Mary Ryan had registered her trouble.

Jimmy got out his copy with the speed a good newspaper man must possess. He handed it sheet by sheet to the waiting copy boy, and when he had finished jammed on his hat in preparation for departure.

"Just a minute, Mr. Barton," I called. I rose and held out Mary Ryan's letter to the city editor. I felt I could best help her by enlisting his interest. He glanced over the letter hastily. His keen face lighted up with the pleasure a good newspaper man feels when he thinks he is on the "inside" of a good story.

"You'd better go along with Mr. Barton," Mr. Barnes said briefly, shoving the letter to the young reporter, who had moved up to his desk.

"Come on. We'll find the girl," cried Jimmy enthusiastically.

But I wanted to help Mary Ryan find her happiness.

Jimmy Barton hurried me over to the subway in frantic speed.

"Let's talk it over," said he, when the Lenox avenue train embarked us at Seventy-second. "Where's your girl in the sweetheart of that missing watchman, we ought to get some story."

"If my girl is the sweetheart of the missing watchman, I hope we can bring some help."

"You're a fine newspaper woman, Miss Fairfax. I believe you'd rather help along a wedding than an 'extra.'"

"Of course I would." I laughed. "How long do you think I could keep the Journal's interest and readers if I thought of them as copy? They're friends to me. I don't want to be a 'story' to any woman. I'm just a 'Big Sister to troubled hearts.'"

"By Jove, I guess about the only way a fellow could get you to notice him would be to have a few little tragedies of his own," laughed Jimmy Barton. "I'll try it sometime when we have a quiet day."

"Try getting into trouble!" I asked.

"No—I'm always in trouble—I have a natural affinity for that; I mean try falling in love."

A SERIOUS BUSINESS.

And ask me to get you out!" I asked. Even a woman, most of whose life centres about other people's stories, may enjoy having a little fun of her own in teasing a dapper youth like Jimmy Barton.

But at the end of our ride all our little efforts were forgotten, for we came face to face with a real tragedy. Mary Ryan lived in one of a long row of ordinary brick apartment houses out in the Bronx. We climbed four narrow flights of stairs and came at last to a door in the centre of which was tacked a card with "Mrs. Ryan" and "Mr. B. J. Ryan." A moment later, in answer to our ring, a motherly, plain-looking woman of about forty-five opened the door.

"Is this Mrs. Ryan?" I asked.

She nodded and ushered us in with unquestioning, courteous acceptance of strangers which the honest workers of the middle class offer more often than their richer and supposedly more cultured "betters." We found ourselves in a plainly furnished little place just a step or two above actual poverty. Over in the window stood a slender girl of about twenty. Her hearing sharpened by her trouble, she trembled "extras" at her feet, which had reached the Bronx as rapidly as we had followed her story.

THE TELL-TALE STORY.

There was undoubtedly a connection between Mary Ryan's troubled question of the day before and the bank robbery which flashed its story to big headlines across the front page of our paper. Jimmy picked up the crumpled bank and smoothed it out. It took me just a second to read it:

THIRTY THOUSAND DOLLAR BANK ROBBERY IN BRONX. WATCHMAN MISSING.

Police Seeking for George McTabe, Trusted Employe.

I hurried to the side of the sobbing girl and laid my hand on her arm. "I've come in answer to your letter," I said. "I'm Beatrice Fairfax."

The two women faced me in absolute amazement. Then the mother rushed forward, caught my hand and covered it with kisses. "Bless be to the saints," she said, "stop cryin', Mary, darlin', and look who's come to help you. It's Miss Fairfax herself, bless her kind heart."

Mary dried her eyes and turned to me, but I felt a suspicious moisture in my own. I winked it back and told myself that it was sentimental folly to be so strongly affected by Mrs. Ryan's simple faith.

"Miss Fairfax," gasped Mary. "You've come all the way out here to help me?"

"Jimmy stepped forward briskly. "And to let you help us a little bit, too. It's going to be a pretty good story"—he began. I presented the cautionary look and he told them that it was his story they had just been reading.

A PUZZLED MOTHER.

"Oh, his George's bank. I can't think what it's all about, Miss Fairfax. George was a good boy and he loved Mary," cried Mrs. Ryan.

"I think we can help you find George, Mrs. Ryan," said I, "that's what I have come for, but of course, Mr. Barton is a reporter and what he wants is a story and a big one for our paper. Do you think you can tell me anything that will help us to solve this mystery?"

"I hope so. Oh, please help me find him. I love him so." And Mary fell to sobbing again. But in a few minutes she regained her self-control and told us her story.

Once a week George got off duty and took her to lunch. He came downtown to the wholesale millinery store where she was one of the trimmers, and on that gala day Miss Ryan proudly went out for her noon meal on the arm of Mr. McTabe.

George was a nice-looking chap and Mary always thrilled with joy when the other girls saw him come for her. On that particular day some people at a neighboring table in the restaurant sat and stared at him.

At first Mary had merely gloried in the clean good looks that always attracted such favorable attention. Then her woman's jealousy stirred, for the girl who was watching him had a cheap and flashy prettiness and she seemed much more interested in George than in the hard-faced man at her side.

THE TANGLED SKEIN.

"I asked him if he knew them—Oh, Miss Fairfax, he said he didn't, but that was the girl I saw him with later and he stared at me as if he'd never seen me before."

Mary fell to sobbing again. "Buck up, Kiddo," cried Jimmy and, however much I disapproved of the easy familiarity of his attitude, I could see that the kindly warmth back of it together with the friendly assurance it conveyed that she had a man to count on, were helping Mary.

The rest of her story was quickly told. At five she left her place of employment and hurried home. She stopped out to a little neighborhood store to do an errand and presently she met George and the flashy looking girl she had seen in the restaurant. Her lover had a heavy bandage about his throat, but he still wore his uniform and badge. She stifled her quick impulse of jealousy and spoke to him. He stared at her blankly with expressionless eyes that had in them no trace of interest.

"Think of it, Miss Fairfax. My George walked along next to that painted-up thing and cut me dead. She took him by the arm and hurried him away—and he didn't even try to stop her. But whatever he did is her fault, I'm sure. George is honest and I love him so. Oh, won't you find him for me, miss?"

MARY GIVES THE PHOTOGRAPH.

"Here's his photograph," cried Mrs. Ryan, pointing proudly to the picture of a good looking, well set up young chap—the picture occupied a place of honor on the mantel.

Mary had fallen to sobbing again and had caught up the picture and was holding to it as if she could not bear her unhappiness without the warmth and comfort of the help she kept begging me to give her.

Suddenly I noticed Jimmy studying the picture and I asked Mary to lend it to him and she tearfully consented. But I felt that I was to protest—and then I sensed that Jimmy Barton had a plan. What it was I could not guess at that time. If I had I might have helped more intelligently and we might all have escaped a very torturing experience.

"Miss Fairfax, won't you stay here with me?" Mary begged and Jimmy cried: "I've a plan and I think we'll get results from it pretty quickly."

"Will you stay?" asked Mary, eagerly.

"If you don't hear from me by dark, come to the office," ordered Jimmy, then added, as an afterthought: "Thanks for the photograph."

Then he hurried out and left me to puzzle over the best way to help Mary Ryan endure her long hours of uncertainty.

(To be continued tomorrow).

Just Apply This Paste and the Hairs Will Vanish

(Boudoir Secrets)

The judicious use of a delatone paste insures any woman a clear, hairless skin. To prepare the paste, mix a little of the powdered delatone with some water, then apply to the objectional hairs for 2 or 3 minutes. When the paste is removed, and the skin washed, every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain attends the use of the delatone and it will not mar the most sensitive skin, but to insure results see that you get real delatone.—Advertisement.

GUARANTEED to DARKEN GRAY HAIR permanently with perfect ease and safety. Wet your hair all over with Q-Ban, the only guaranteed hair stain, and every day and expose it to the sun and air—then your hair will gradually and evenly change to any desired uniform dark shade. Absolutely not a trace of gray hair will be left and nobody can ever tell how it happened. And after Q-Ban your hair will be much more glossy, lustrous, soft and fluffy than ever before—and fascinating to behold.

The secret of this wonderful change in the color of your hair is simply that Q-Ban, by a process of oxidation (oxygen in the air), which results from exposure to the sun and air, is forced to deposit within it the very ingredients which have been applied. Sun and air are Nature's own medicines and a very important part of every Q-Ban treatment. Apply in this way—with Q-Ban and the sun and air—and your hair is then and there permanently and safely restored to color and beauty. Make no mistake about Q-Ban. It contains no poisonous ingredients claiming to instantly restore gray hair. It is a scientific restorative, discovered by a scientific chemist, Prof. Van Huber, and is the result of years of study and approved by the greatest chemists in the world. Everybody uses Q-Ban and finds it easy to use. Q-Ban is sold by the only guaranteed liquid hair color manufacturers in the world, because dangerous, dirty, sticky dyes are liable and we want you to know and learn.

Remember, imitations. Give Q-Ban a trial today—you can't do anything until you get it from Rhter-Jarnes-Lig-you (Drug Stores, Boston, Cambridge, Chelsea)—25c a bottle—or write Hoagland Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn. Money refunded if not more than delighted. You receive Q-Ban supertine Hair Tonique, Q-Ban Soap for shampoos or toilet and also made by us. Write for authoritative booklet on hair culture free.—Advertisement.

Krazy Kat

Copyright, 1916, International News Service. Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Kabibble Kabaret

Copyright, 1916, International News Service. Registered U. S. Patent Office.

DEAR MR. KABIBBLE
I'M IN LOVE WITH A LIFE GUARD — HOW CAN I FIND OUT WHAT HE DOES IN WINTER?
SOOO
IF HE'S A GOOD LIFE SAVER, HE'S GOT ENOUGH TO DO SHINING HIS MEDALS
SOOO

BARON BEAN

Copyright, 1916, International News Service.

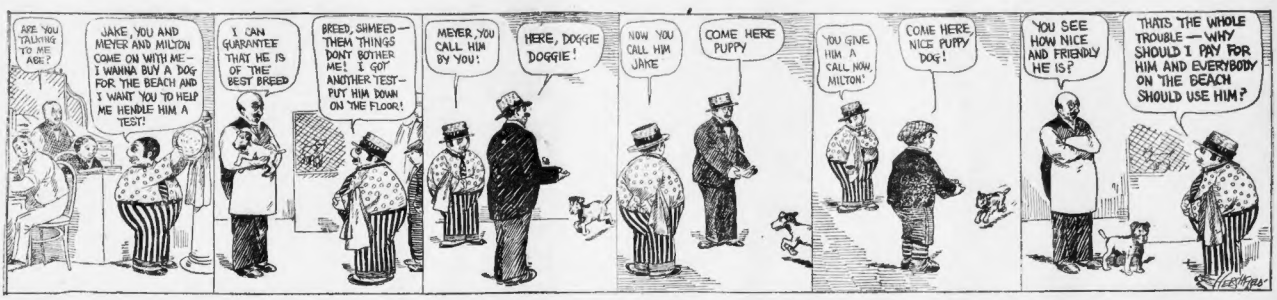
The Most They Spend Is the Day

REFERENCE DEPARTMENT
PUBLIC LIBRARY
SH-H- SILENCE !! I OUTTA KNOW, GRIMES! YOU ARE IN THE PRESENCE OF LEARNING! SO DON'T DARE OPEN YOUR STUPID TRAP — YOU OLD SCATTERBRAIN IS A GREAT STUDENT, SCIENTIST OR SAVANT SOLVING THE INTRICACIES OF THE COSMOS —
AAH - THESE PUBLIC LIBERRIES! IS THE PLACE I'VE SPENT TEN DAYS IN HERE LOOKING FOR A 'OLD FASHIONED FLAP JACK RECIPE' AND AIN'T FOUND NO SIGN OF AYOUE — BA-AAA-AAA-
HERRIMAN
YOU PROBABLY KNOW THAT 'BARON BEAN' AND HIS MAN, 'GRIMES' ARE SPENDING A 'VACATION' AND $240 WITHIN THE CITY LIMITS — HOW LONG ? — OH, TWO WEEKS! —
TO DAY'S TOLL —
LEFT OVER $2.70
FREE VISIT TO LIBRARY — 00
BAL — $2.70
SO YOU SEE THEY HAVE $2.70 LEFT AND 10 DAYS TO GO
— ADIOS —

ABIE THE AGENT

Copyright, 1916, International News Service—Registered United States Patent Office.

Able Does His Own Figuring



ARE YOU TALKING TO ME ABE?
JAKE, YOU AND MEYER AND MILTON COME ON WITH ME — I WANNA BUY A DOG FOR THE BEACH AND I WANT YOU TO HELP ME HENDLE HIM A TEST!
I CAN GUARANTEE THAT HE IS OF THE BEST BREED
BREED, SHMEED — THEM THINGS DON'T BOTHER ME! I GOT ANOTHER TEST — PUT HIM DOWN ON THE FLOOR!
MEYER, YOU CALL HIM BY YOU!
HERE, DOGGIE DOGGIE!
NOW YOU CALL HIM JAKE
COME HERE PUPPY
YOU GIVE HIM A CALL NOW, MILTON!
COME HERE, NICE PUPPY DOG!
YOU SEE HOW NICE AND FRIENDLY HE IS?
THATS THE WHOLE TROUBLE — WHY SHOULD I PAY FOR HIM AND EVERYBODY ON THE BEACH SHOULD USE HIM?
HERRIMAN

JERRY ON THE JOB

Copyright, 1916, International News Service—Registered United States Patent Office.

Which Makes It About Even

YOU MEAN TO SAY THERE ARE NO TRAINS TO NEW MONIA FOR TWO WEEKS?
YES R - Y'SEE THEY'RE RIPPIN UP THE TRACKS AND NOBODY CAN RUN TRAINS 'THOUT TRACKS.
OF COURSE IF Y'GOTTA GET THERE LIKE Y'SAY - WHY - TAKE THE HACK - HE GOES TO NEW MONIA
THIS THING ISN'T HALF AS COMFORTABLE AS THE TRAIN.
THASS RIGHT - BUT IT ONLY TAKES HALF AS LONG.

POLLY AND HER PALS

Copyright, 1916, Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.—Registered U. S. Patent Office. Great Britain Rights Reserved.

Ashur Does a Little Sniping

Y'SAY POLLY'S WEALTH AN' MADE APPLICATION FOR US PERKISES TO JOIN JOE COLES ADIRONDACK ADAM AN' EVE PICNIC?
EXACTLY! AN' Y'CAN'T WEAR A DANGOONE DUD SEPTIN' IT'S MADE OUT OF ANIMAL FUR, LIKE THEIR!
S'POSIN' A FELLER AIN'T GOT ONE OF THESE HERE AMINULE COSTUMES?
IT'S UP TO YOU TO BUY ONE!
BUT SUPPOSIN' A FELLER AIN'T GOT THE NECESSARY CASH TO BUY ONE?
YOU'LL HAVE TO WORRY ALONG IN THE NUDE TILL YOU KIN GIT SOME PHILANTHROPIC VARMINT TO PART WITH HIS PELT!
KITTY KITTY KITTY KITTY KITTY?
GEO. STORRETT

US BOYS

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

Skinny Had One All Ready, but It Didn't Work

G'WAN AND GET A SHOVEL SOMEPLACE AND I'LL LET YOU DIG A TRENCH!
THANKS! GOSH, I GOTTA DO EVERYTHIN!
ROOKIES
HALT!
WHOA!
WHEN I GIVE YOU A ORDER, I DON'T WANT YOU TO SAY ANYTHIN, GET ME?
WELL, I CAN THINK CAN'T I?
NO!
GOSH, IF HE HADDA ONLY SAID YES I'DA COME RIGHT BACK SHARP AS A FLASH AND SAID "ALL RIGHT, IF I CAN THINK, THEN I THINK, I GOTTA DO EVERYTHIN I'LL BET THAT WOULDA GOT HIM!
TOMMY TAMARA

2,2,2, SHA-2,-NERS-GOO, GOO, GOO, GOOGLY 2,3,2, GRRR !!! — DEP'T

GOAT GRABBERS

WHEN THE FILM BREAKS AT THE MOVIES, RIGHT SMACK IN THE MIDDLE OF THE MOST EXCITING SCENE,

STAMP, STAMP, STAMP !!!!

WELL KNOWN SAYINGS ILLUSTRATED BY Sidney Smith

I'M AWFULLY HARD ON MY CLOTHES!

Answer to Yesterday's

WHY ARE DEAF PEOPLE LIKE DUTCH CHEESES? BECAUSE YOU CAN'T MAKE 'EM HERE (HEAR)

HEAR, HEAR !!!!

B-r-o-o-n-y !

FROM ELLEN WILSON, BROOKLYN.

WHAT KIND OF ARTFUL AMUSEMENT MAKES YOU SICK IF YOU STRIKE OUT THE LETTER M?

ANSWER TO-MORROW.

HEARINGS NEAR CONCLUSION ON NEW HAVEN BOAT LINES

New York, Aug. 1.—The Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on the application of the New Haven for permission to continue under the Panama Canal act its ownership and operation of Sound steamship lines was expected to be concluded today before Examiner John H. Hewell.

Arthur P. Russell, valuation counsel of the railroad, was the principal witness yesterday in the rooms of the Merchants' Association in the Woolworth building. Frank M. Swacker, of the Department of Justice, asked him:

"In view of insinuations made here that the Providence line was put on by Chester W. Chapin with a view to blackmailing the New Haven railroad to buy his steamships, what can you tell us on this subject?"

Russell said:

"On the death of Mr. Chapin the directors of the New Haven Steamship Company passed a resolution saying they were cognizant of the pleasure it would give Mr. Chapin to know his line was acquired by the New Haven Railroad Company.

"It seemed to be a peculiar vote, because, as Mr. Chapin was dead, he would certainly not have known of the action given."

The witness said he had no facts and had never heard anything which would lead him to believe that Chapin's intention was to blackmail the New Haven into buying his boats.

Other witnesses were Fremont Whitten of Boston, general agent of the railroad's express department, and J. Howland Gardiner, vice-president of the New England Steamship Company. Whitten said the New England Steamship Company had nothing to do with the withdrawal of freight service from the sound route.

TAKE ATTLEBORO MAN AS COUNTERFEITER

Attleboro, Aug. 1.—Edward C. Macdonald of Elizabeth, street was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Frank Condon on the charge of having counterfeiting implements in his possession.

It is stated he has been counterfeiting nickels and half-dollars. The police say they seized counterfeiting implements, but did not find, after a most careful search of Macdonald's house, find either ones or bogus coins.

Macdonald is a young man, a native of this city. He has been employed about ten years as conductor on the Interstate railway system, and previously was a night operator at the local telephone exchange. He was married about two years ago.

TODAY'S STOCK MARKETS

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor

Stocks were strong in New York at noon, opening higher and after some selling by room traders attaining a higher level in the second hour. Munition issues were the strongest and most active group. Union Pacific made a good gain, but rails and coppers were quiet. Business was of small volume.

Largest gains at 12 o'clock included American Locomotive 1¼, Baldwin 1, Crucible ¾, Industrial Alcohol 2, Maxwell 1½, New York Air Brake 1, Butte & Superior 1¼, Bethlehem Pacific 1½, U. S. Steel was up ¼ and Anaconda ⅝. Texas Company was off 1 and Canadian Pacific 1. Declines were few and small as a rule.

There was a steady tone to Boston at the start, but trading was dull. American Zinc was up a point, by noon Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies common was up ¾. There was no feature of interest about the New York Curb.

On the Boston Curb at the end of the first hour Boston Ely was off 1-16, National Zinc ⅛ and First National 1-16. Jerome Verde was up 1-16 and Cresta de Plomo 1-32. There was a little trading.

The government reports cotton crop condition of 72.3 per cent. on July 25, compared with 75.4 a year ago, and 10-year average 74.8.

The foreign copper supply decreased 1,174 tons in the week just past.

WHAT JAMES J. PHELAN SAYS.

Regarding the advance of the money rate last month, James J. Phelan of Harbleboro & Weeks says New York banks established added strength and taken to prevent the Wall Street situation from what was practically developing into "chronic indigestion." Loans coming due in the first fifteen days of July had been paid off in amazing and increasing tremendous French and Russian loans and the money rate temporarily advanced.

"Liquidation," he says, "has now been quite extensive, but progress is quite complete. All this, however, is in preparation for a higher market, in my judgment, later, based, first on sound financial conditions; secondly, enormous business, with an increasing commercial proportion compared to war orders and the prospect of a favorable election in November. I look before the first of September to see the market anticipating this favorable event.

"The impetus to start the market will probably come, not so much through the renewal of war orders for munitions in the finished state as for basics for munitions, such as steel, copper, lead and spelter, and perhaps a further accumulation of the peace metal, silver, which will be greatly in demand when Europe settles down to work out on the new basis of economic future.

"Thanks to the allies, and England principally, instead of the United States being called upon to finance a part of the finished state as for basics for munitions, such as steel, copper, lead and spelter, and perhaps a further accumulation of the peace metal, silver, which will be greatly in demand when Europe settles down to work out on the new basis of economic future.

"Thanks to the allies, and England principally, instead of the United States being called upon to finance a part of the finished state as for basics for munitions, such as steel, copper, lead and spelter, and perhaps a further accumulation of the peace metal, silver, which will be greatly in demand when Europe settles down to work out on the new basis of economic future.

"Add to this the progress we have made in shipping, and in foreign trade during the last two years, and you have in a general way my opinion as to why, in the course of the next three or four years, I believe that your most prosperous times are yet ahead of us."

BOSTON STOCKS.

Stocks unchanged today not quoted.

Following is the range of prices for leading Boston stocks to 12 o'clock.

	Yesterday's close	High.	Low.	12:00.
Alaska	27½	28¼	26¾	27⅝
Am. Beet Sugar	54	54	54	54
Am. Can	54¾	55	54¾	55
Am. Cot & Fdy	66	66	66	66
Am. Locomotive	66¾	68	67¾	67¾
Am. Smelting	91¾	92¾	91¾	92¾
Am. Zinc	28¾	28¾	28	28
Arizona Com	34	34	34	34
Atlantic, G. & W. I.	10½	10⅝	10½	10⅝
Baldwin Loco	85¾	86¾	85¾	86¾
Beth. Steel	94¾	95¾	94¾	95¾
Cal. Petroleum	21¾	21¾	21¾	21¾
Chino	46¾	47	46¾	47
Crucible	77¾	78¾	77¾	78¾
Cuba Cane	17¾	17¾	17¾	17¾
Cuba Cane Pref	87¾	87¾	87¾	87¾
Cuba Co	37¾	37¾	37¾	37¾
Cuba R. R.	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾
Distillers	34¾	34¾	34¾	34¾
Gen. Electric	169	169	169	169
Goldfield	1	1	1	1
Gt. Nor. Ore	34¾	34¾	34¾	34¾
Inspiration	47¾	47¾	47¾	47¾
Int. Nickel	34¾	34¾	34¾	34¾
Int. Paper	58¾	58¾	58¾	58¾
Int. Paper Pref	93¾	93¾	93¾	93¾
Kennecott	32¾	32¾	32¾	32¾
Lehigh Valley	77¼	77¼	77¼	77¼
Lorillard	77¼	77¼	77¼	77¼
Mex. Petrol	94¾	95¾	94¾	95¾
Miami	24¾	24¾	24¾	24¾
N. Y. Air Brake	102	103	102	103
N. Y. N. H. & H.	53¾	53¾	53¾	53¾
Nev. Consolidated	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾
Nevada Copper	109¾	110¾	109¾	110¾
Pan. Ry.	25¾	25¾	25¾	25¾
Pan. Ry. Pref	26¾	27¾	26¾	27¾
Pacific Mail	23¾	23¾	23¾	23¾
Pacific Tel.	68¾	68¾	68¾	68¾
Ray Consolidated	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾
Ray Con. Copper	25¾	25¾	25¾	25¾
Reading	85¾	85¾	85¾	85¾
Republic Iron & Steel	78¾	78¾	78¾	78¾
Southern Pacific	100¾	101¾	100¾	101¾
Southern Ry.	25¾	25¾	25¾	25¾
Studebaker	57¾	57¾	57¾	57¾
Tenn. Copper	35¾	35¾	35¾	35¾
Texas Company	152¾	153¾	152¾	153¾
Union Pacific	136¾	138¾	137	138¾
U. S. Rubber	65¾	65¾	65¾	65¾
U. S. Steel	86¾	86¾	86¾	86¾
U. S. Steel Pref	119¾	119¾	119¾	119¾
Utah Copper	76¾	76¾	76¾	76¾
Westinghouse	54¾	54¾	54¾	54¾
Willys-Overland	58¾	58¾	57¾	57¾
U. S. dividend

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Stocks unchanged today not quoted.

Following is the range of prices for leading New York stocks to 12 o'clock.

	Yesterday's close	High.	Low.	12:00.
Alaska	27¾	28¼	26¾	27⅝
Am. Beet Sugar	54	54	54	54
Am. Can	54¾	55	54¾	55
Am. Cot & Fdy	66	66	66	66
Am. Locomotive	66¾	68	67¾	67¾
Am. Smelting	91¾	92¾	91¾	92¾
Am. Zinc	28¾	28¾	28	28
Arizona Com	34	34	34	34
Atlantic, G. & W. I.	10½	10⅝	10½	10⅝
Baldwin Loco	85¾	86¾	85¾	86¾
Beth. Steel	94¾	95¾	94¾	95¾
Cal. Petroleum	21¾	21¾	21¾	21¾
Chino	46¾	47	46¾	47
Crucible	77¾	78¾	77¾	78¾
Cuba Cane	17¾	17¾	17¾	17¾
Cuba Cane Pref	87¾	87¾	87¾	87¾
Cuba Co	37¾	37¾	37¾	37¾
Cuba R. R.	15¾	15¾	15¾	15¾
Distillers	34¾	34¾	34¾	34¾
Gen. Electric	169	169	169	169
Goldfield	1	1	1	1
Gt. Nor. Ore	34¾	34¾	34¾	34¾
Inspiration	47¾	47¾	47¾	47¾
Int. Nickel	34¾	34¾	34¾	34¾
Int. Paper	58¾	58¾	58¾	58¾
Int. Paper Pref	93¾	93¾	93¾	93¾
Kennecott	32¾	32¾	32¾	32¾
Lehigh Valley	77¼	77¼	77¼	77¼
Lorillard	77¼	77¼	77¼	77¼
Mex. Petrol	94¾	95¾	94¾	95¾
Miami	24¾	24¾	24¾	24¾
N. Y. Air Brake	102	103	102	103
N. Y. N. H. & H.	53¾	53¾	53¾	53¾
Nev. Consolidated	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾
Nevada Copper	109¾	110¾	109¾	110¾
Pan. Ry.	25¾	25¾	25¾	25¾
Pan. Ry. Pref	26¾	27¾	26¾	27¾
Pacific Mail	23¾	23¾	23¾	23¾
Pacific Tel.	68¾	68¾	68¾	68¾
Ray Consolidated	19¾	19¾	19¾	19¾
Ray Con. Copper	25¾	25¾	25¾	25¾
Reading	85¾	85¾	85¾	85¾
Republic Iron & Steel	78¾	78¾	78¾	78¾
Southern Pacific	100¾	101¾	100¾	101¾
Southern Ry.	25¾	25¾	25¾	25¾
Studebaker	57¾	57¾	57¾	57¾
Tenn. Copper	35¾	35¾	35¾	35¾
Texas Company	152¾	153¾	152¾	153¾
Union Pacific	136¾	138¾	137	138¾
U. S. Rubber	65¾	65¾	65¾	65¾
U. S. Steel	86¾	86¾	86¾	86¾
U. S. Steel Pref	119¾	119¾	119¾	119¾
Utah Copper	76¾	76¾	76¾	76¾
Westinghouse	54¾	54¾	54¾	54¾
Willys-Overland	58¾	58¾	57¾	57¾
U. S. dividend

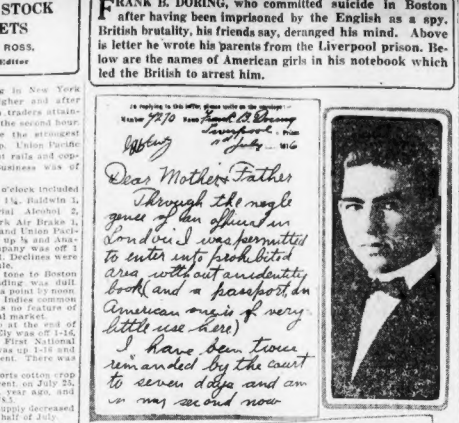
HEAT WAVE TOLL IN CHICAGO 325

Chicago Aug. 1.—Stirred to life by a northeast breeze, Lake Michigan, which had been quiescent for a record-breaking period, brought relief to Chicago and today the city is really alive again after a week of parting. The mercury dropped almost to the 70 mark. The total toll of deaths during the heat wave is placed at 325.

DEATHS.

McGUIRE—In Revere, July 31, Clarence E., husband of Margaret J. McGuire, 50 years. Notice of funeral services from his late residence, 78 Highland st., Wednesday, Aug. 2, at 2 p. m. Interment at Forest Hills. Relatives and friends invited.

FRANK B. DORING, who committed suicide in Boston after having been imprisoned by the English as a spy. British brutality, his friends say, deranged his mind. Above is letter he wrote his parents from the Liverpool prison. Below are the names of American girls in his notebook which led the British to arrest him.



RAP BROOKLINE FOR 'SQUALID POCKET'

Brookline, the richest town in the world, comes in for some severe criticism by the Massachusetts Exchange, the official organ of the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange.

The article criticises the "smugness" of the town in permitting unsched conditions to exist in Brookline Village and describes the tenement section of this part of the town as "squalid pocket."

According to the article, a stranger entering the town from Boston by Huntington avenue would wonder since Brookline got the reputation of being the model town in the world. That Brookline has spent large sums of money in erecting magnificent public structures, while neglecting the housing problem in its poor quarter, is the contention of the article.

"Huddled there," concludes the article, "are the mean dwellings of some of the inhabitants of the richest town in the world. It is on the edge of the affluence reflected in the opulence of the Metropolitan Park system, for the boulevards of the Fenway which wrest valuable land from the sea, and 39 minutes off, the article says, can be an estate that probably could not be bought for $1,000,000.

Yet Brookline, in its smugness, contemplates with equanimity, if not satisfy, the squalid pocket just around the corner."

TO HAVE TROLLEY PARTY AND DANCE

Plans have been completed for the annual trolley party and dance to be held Friday evening under the auspices of Pere Marquette Council, K. of C., of South Boston. Cars will leave Broadway, corner Dorchester street, at 8 p. m., and after three hours' ride through the suburbs the members and their guests will return to Bethesda Hall, where refreshments will be served and dancing enjoyed until 2 a. m. The committee is composed of Arthur J. Geary, J. Hugh Blair, Frank Blair and Francis J. Hurney.

TRAVEL GUIDE

CHARMING SUMMER TOURS

THE HIGHLANDS OF ONTARIO

(Within easy reach of New England)

Offer unlimited attractions to the tourist, camper, angler and sportsman. Good hotel accommodations at reasonable rates. High altitude (2000 ft.), pure air and all the attributes that go to make health and happiness.

Handsome Illustrated literature and any further information you desire, including fares, may be had on application to

E. H. BOYNTON
256 Washington St. Boston

U. S. ACTION IN DORING CASE EXPECTED

The funeral of Frank B. Doring the Quincy youth whose suicide in a Boston hotel revealed how he had been jailed by the British as a spy and how he had been mistreated in an English prison, will take place from his home in Quincy this afternoon.

Congressman Olney has instructed his secretary in Washington to lay the facts of the case before Acting Secretary of State Pops and to urge that the condition of American citizens in British prisons on false charges be investigated. Action by the State Department is expected.

Doring, in one of his letters, told of seeing many Americans in an English prison.

Friends of Doring say they are convinced that the brutal treatment accorded the young American citizen, by the English, deranged his mind. This brutality has been generally denounced and led to the demand that the Wilson administration take action at once to put a stop to such practices.

Doring, who was twenty-four years of age, left through England on his way to France, where he was to engage in the manufacture of wooden limbs for the wounded soldiers.

He was arrested by the British as a spy because of the addresses found in his notebook of four young women whom he met at a New Hampshire Summer resort a year ago and one of whom had a German name.

Letters to his family and friends tell of his terrible suffering and indignities suffered while in the English prison.

To prevent other Americans from being driven to the same fate as his son, Irving Doring of Quincy, father of the young man, sought the aid of Congressman Olney.

Melrose Girl to Wed.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Carter of No. 51 Hatchelder street, Melrose, announce the engagement of their daughter, Doris, and Leonard Vernon Howe, eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. Leonard N. Howe of Sanborn street, Melrose Highlands. Howe was graduated from the Winchester High School in 1914.

PORT OF BOSTON

ARRIVED.

Tunisie, Rotterdam.
Virginian, St. Nazaire.
Howard, Baltimore.
Mohawk, New York.
Bay State, Portland, Me.
Bristol, Bangor, Me.
City of Rockland, Bath, Me.
Cape Ann, Gloucester.
Brandon, Lamberts Point.

SAILED.

Saxon Monarch, Glasgow.
Prince Arthur, Yarmouth, N. S.
Dorothy, Portland, Bangor and St. John, N. B.
Catalda, Baltimore.
Massachusetts, New York.
Harvey H. Hall, Sewalls Point.
Edward Pierce, Sewalls Point.
Middlesex, Philadelphia.

DUE TODAY.

Benguela, Cape Town.
Carignano, Palermo.
Ionian, Port Antonio.
Lavinia, Nipe Bay.
Saxonia, Liverpool.

DUE WEDNESDAY.

Evangeline, Maritimeport.
Nicholas Cuneo, Tanamo.

CUNARD

NEW YORK—LIVERPOOL
ORDUNA ..... SAT., AUG. 5, 10 A.M.
LUSITANIA ..... SAT., AUG. 19, NOON
CARPATHIA ..... SAT., SEPT. 2, 5 P. M.
MAURETANIA ..... SAT., SEPT. 9, NOON
NEW YORK—PLYMOUTH—LONDON
PANNONIA ..... SAT., AUG. 5, 5 P. M.
SAXONIA ..... SAT., AUG. 12, 5 P. M.
ALAUNIA ..... SAT., AUG. 19, 5 P. M.
THE CUNARD LINE, 21 STATE STREET, NEW YORK.
Or 126 STATE STREET, BOSTON.

When Answering Advertisements Please Mention the Boston American

SHORT SEA TRIPS FROM BOSTON

$20.00 NORFOLK, OLD POINT
$21.15 PHILADELPHIA, ATLANTIC CITY and return
$25.00 NORFOLK, WASHINGTON and return
$39.00 PHILADELPHIA, Savannah Jacksonville and return

Meals and stateroom berth on steamer included. Three sailings weekly to Philadelphia, Norfolk and Baltimore. Ask for particulars.

Merchants & Miners Trans. Co.
C. H. Maynard, Agent, Pier 3, Northern Ave.
Tel. Main Office, 248 Washington St.

NEW YORK $2.95
Via Rail and Boat Daily
Only independent line operating between Boston and New York

COLONIAL LINE 322 Washington St., Boston Phone, F. P. 2765

BAY STATE LINE NEW YORK $2.00
Via Trolley and Boat, $2.50
STATEROOMS, $1, $1.50 & $2.
Steel steamships Georgia and Tennessee, Daily, including Sunday, improved service. Telephone Main 1741.
Ticket Office 214 Washington St., Boston.

THE BOSTON AMERICAN

PUBLISHED DAILY AND SUNDAY AT 8 AND 10 SUMMER ST., BOSTON, MASS.
RATES AND TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
DISPLAY AND CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING: Office of the Publication, 8 and 10 Summer st., Boston. 1780 BROADWAY, AT 53D ST., NEW YORK CITY. 156 HEARST BLDG., CHICAGO.
THE HEARST-CHESTNUT PUBLISHING COMPANY.
Entered as second class matter June 4, 1907, at the postoffice at Boston, Mass., under the act of March 3, 1879, and as second class matter at the Postoffice Department, Canada.
Prices Daily, the issue, Sunday, five cents. Subscription rates, including postage, to points outside of Boston, Canada and Mexico: Boston Postal District double rates.

Daily and Sunday	$6.00
Six months	1.50
Daily only	4.00
Sunday only	2.00
One year	$2.50
Six months	1.25
Daily and Sunday
One year	$5.00
Six months	2.75
One month	.50

On foreign subscriptions add postage at rate of 1 cent per copy daily and 5 cents per copy Sunday.

Summer Resorts.

SUMMER BOARDERS—PLAINFIELD, VT., in the heart of the Green Mountains, 2 new, up-to-date farmers' boarding house; 2 acres; fine location; excellent table, fresh eggs, butter and milk; rates reasonable. F. W. WOOD, on the main road from Boston to Montreal. Bus meets all trains. Rates $2 per day; special rates on application. BANCROFT HOUSE, Plainfield, Vt., or F. J. Bancroft, Penacook, N. H.

Summer Cottages

TO LET—At Cannole Lake, 7-room water front cottage, with boat; Aug. 5th, for rest of the season. Inq. J. KELLER, Pt. Shirley, Winthrop. Tel. 1012-R Winthrop.

NEEDHITH, N. H.—Summer cottages of every kind for sale and to let on Lake Wingpaushee; largest lake in N. E. S. HAY-WARD, Tel. 28-13.

COTTAGE TO LET or for sale at Thousand Island Park, Alexandria Bay, N. Y. Beach at; Manchester, N. H.

Real Estate—Miscellaneous.

MR. WORKINGMAN.

YOUR CHANCE for home and investment: 10 rooms 2-fam. house, good location and neighborhood, $6,000; 6 rooms, heated ready to occupy, $3,000; 6 rooms, heated ready to occupy, $3,000; 6 rooms, heated ready to occupy, $3

Apartments—Medford Hillside.

Continued from Preceding Page.

5-6-ROOM apts., every room sunny; elec. light; etc.; sleeping porches. 288 Boston av., Medford Hillside; 8cm. 1244-M.

Apartments—Roslindale.

TO LET—Single family house, 6 rooms and bath, all improvements, electric lights, reasonable location; also one tenant garage, apply Phone Bellevue 502 or call at 4257 Wash. st.

5-ROOM SUITE, electric lights, front and back piazzas; rent $15. 21 Monks st., Wellington st.; Jamaica 1356-W.

Apartments—Somerville.

4 LARGE rooms, gas, toilet; large yard, $16, $12. MRS. WHITE, 402 Somerville av.

Apartments—South Boston.

SUNNY apartment, 6 rooms, bath; all improvements; $18. Inquire 21 Monks st., tel. Brookline 5845-W.

Apartments—South End.

TWO SUITES of five sunny rooms, all improvements; $4.50 a week. Apply to janitor, Suite 1, 56 Worcester st., Boston.

4 AND 5-ROOM SUITES, $13 and $15; gas and ranges, $15 to $18. Apply AGENT, 22 Village st.

Apartments—Winthrop.

NEW kitchenette apts., furn. or unfurn., 1 to 6 rooms, with or without steam heat, reasonable. Apply 235 Shirley st., also at 18 Dolphin st., Winthrop. Phone Winthrop 1586-W.

FURNISHED and unfurnished cottages and apts. to let; also all apts. will be ready at Winthrop. JOHN P. LILLIBACK, Real Estate, 9cm. next Revere Station; tel. 1000.

SELL or rent next 8-room house reasonable; exc. facilities. A. York 964, 464 Shirley st., tel. 53.

WINTHROP BEACH—8-r. house, large piazza; near ocean and trains, steam heat, gas and elec. Tel. 1305-M.

TO LET—Seven rooms to rent, bay or sell quickly. See MOORE; tel. Winthrop 1586-W.

Furnished Apartments.

KITCHENETTE SUITE, 2 rooms and bath, Dorchester; $12 month. Apply 1 Bowdoin service. Apply LEWIS SONNABEND JEWELRY STORE, 1 Bowdoin sq.

WOLLASTON—Furnished 5 room apartment, all modern conveniences. Telephone OWNER, B. R. 1422-M.

TO LET—Suite, 2 and 3 rooms, all improvements; $7, $8, $10 week. RICHARDSON, 1351 Dorchester av.

FURN. modern suite, bath, fine location near Beach; 2 to 4 rooms. 1 Cove st., Winthrop Beach; tel. Win. 206-R.

3 AND 4 rooms, continuous hot water, $22, $33. Phone Brookline 4972-M. MRS. GATES, 182 HUNTINGTON AV.—2-3-room suites, kitchenettes, hot water; Brookline 3519-M.

WARREN AV., 144—Cool 2-room suite for housekeeping; $3 week. Call 9 to 12, or 5 to 8.

353 HUNTINGTON AV.—To let, nicely furnished 3 rooms for housekeeping; $3 week.

Houses to Let and Wanted

12 ROOMS, 2 kitchens, 2 baths, reasonable, 21 Temple st. Apply SONNABEND, B. B. 264 Hanover st.

DORCHESTER—House, 10 rooms, corner lot, 2 piazzas, fine location. Inquire 6301-M.

EO SHAWMUT AV.—10 rooms, perfect condition, rent $57.50. OWNER, 572 Tremont st.

Storage.

BEST AND CHEAPEST

STORAGE IN BOSTON
Free Estimates Cheerfully Given
SLIGHT SQUARE STORAGE CO., 3
$3 to $4 and $5 per month
Pioneer Rookery 1010 and 702

FREE STORAGE

WITH telephone Piano Moving Service
Estimates Cheerfully Given
SLIGHT SQUARE STORAGE CO., 3
$3 to $4 and $5 per month
Pioneer Rookery 1010 and 702

FREE STORAGE

WITH telephone Piano Moving Service
street, MASSACHUSETTS STORAGE WAREHOUSE, 70 Boylston st., Washington st. Boston. Mass. Tel. Roxbury 31.

HUB STORAGE WAREHOUSE,
6, Washington st.; tel. Ox. 6; rms $1 mo. up. Tel. Oxford 4309. Estab. 1870.

NEW ENGLAND STORAGE WAREHOUSE, 32 George st., Roxbury (15 minutes from Washington st. Boston); low rates; warehouse is fireproof; private tracks; furniture vans are also direct to any part of country; one handling 1st. Tel. 1180.

Female Situations Wanted.

ACCOUNTANT will open, close and keep small sets in spare time at reasonable rates. W. O., 259 Washington st.

HOUSEKEEPER, young woman wants position as housekeeper; is a good cook, and could capable, very fond of children, city or country. Address 2077, 370 Washington st., call after 4.

LAUNDRY WORK—Wanted, by the day or week. 22074 Box.

Female Help Wanted.

GIRLS

TO WAIT ON TABLE; SHORT HOURS. CHAFFETTS, 31 SCHOOL st.

WANTED

EXPERIENCED RUSSIA LEATHER REARERS. GEO. E. KEITH CO., 288 A St., SOUTH BOSTON.

10—GIRLS—10

TO TRAIN for nurses; $25 mo. to start, rest, room and board; 2 years' course. HOSPITAL AGENCY, 228 Tremont st., room 15.

EXP. STITCHERS

in silk; steady work and good pay. Apply FRANCK COSTUME CO., 706 Washington st.

LAUNDRY HELP

EXP. MANGLE GIRLS. 827 Shawmut av., Dudley st. MODERN LAUNDRY & SUPPLY CO. 3cc Mr. Steele.

GIRLS WANTED

6B clean work in silk mill. Apply in person or by letter to MR. C. WARING SAGE, Jr., CO., 15 Tudor st., off Brookline, Cambridge.

LOOKING FOR GIRLS?

If branches of work taught; open all the year. 59 Temple pl., Room 806, Boston.

APPLY to MISS BURROUGHS, LAUNDRY LASSES; BURROUGHS, Comptometer, typewriters, multigraph, accounting, penmanship; visiting. MANCHESTER CALCULATING CO., 20 Beacon st.

BULLIS WORKERS—Good bullion workers wanted. Apply to CO., 291 Harrison av.

COOKS, $7 to $12; parlormaids-waitress, 26 x $8 to $10; waitresses, $6 to $7; kitchen-waiting, $6.50 to $8; laundress, must be able to do shirts, $7 to $8; girl for 1st-class cook, $6; also maids as cook and butler, $30 to $70 or me. 10 Boylston pl., Boylston st. Open 9:30-12; kitchen maid and ward and chamber, girls, $20 and $25; also waitress for hotel, leave now open for student nurses and attendants in private families; no fee. Apply 25 ser., board, room, washing, 6 days a week, $6. FISHER, 167 Boylston st.

COOK—Experienced, for boarding house; references. Boston Employment Office, 334 Washington st.

GIRLS to build leather board and remnants; hot work; will train; steady employment; apply to Mr. Lee C. WALTER MARION CO., 9 Worcester sq., Boston.

HOUSEWORK—At once, a girl for general housework, small family, good wages, none but best need apply. RICHARDS, 1 Hillside st., Roxbury.

HOUSEKEEPER—Wanted, married, for elderly lady, no washing, respectable, 3 in family, $36 Tremont st.

LAUNDRY HELP—Feeders, folders and bakers wanted. APPLY AT ONCE. MODEL LAUNDRY, 6-8 Alden court, off Sudbury st., Boston.

LAUNDRY HELP—Wanted, experienced, apply PARKS HAND LAUNDRY, 681 Tremont st.

NURSE—Or attendant for institution for person of quiet habits; must be good cook and room. Address S. LORD, Stanford, Ct.

OFFICE ASSISTANT—Over 18, graduate high school graduate, for clerical position about 3 miles from Boston; state age, etc. Box 2030, 382 Washington st.

OFFICE WORK—Intelligent young woman wanted for general office work in business; long experience not necessary; state age. Address H 2039, Boston American.

SEWERS—Wanted. Apply E. MARSON CO., 18 Lincoln st.

STENOGRAPHER—Must be good figurer, 9 to 5; state salary expected. Box H. S. 2040, Boston American.

WAITRESS—Experienced, for suburban hotel; with cooking. Admirable. Newton (near Union sq.).

WAITRESSES—Two experienced waitresses at Hotel Touraine, Boylston st. Apply at telephone application advance.

WAITRESS—Wanted, neat and experienced, at once. Rear 342 Congress st.

WANTED—Women for government iron $70 each; write immediately for list. BRANCH INSTITUTE, Dept. 621 R, Rochester, N. Y.

WOMAN wanted to care for scrubbed; apply LUCAS, 75 Centre st., Dorchester.

WOMAN—To wash dishes, 87 weekly. VAN LAER CO., 382 Mass. av.

Female Help Wanted.

EXPERIENCED

STITCHING ROOM HELP

Wanted. Steady Work.
CURTIS FACTORY,
Marlboro, Mass.

WANTED,
LINING MAKERS,
CLOSERS,
TOP STITCHERS
and
VAMPERS.
APPLY
GEO. E. KEITH CO.,
288 A St., So. Boston.

STITCHERS WANTED

ON power sewing machines by one of the oldest, most reliable concerns in the state; steady work, large wages, pleasant surroundings; we pay a guarantee to selected applicants during the learning period. APPLY A. J. TOWER CO., makers waterproof clothing, 94 Boylston st., Boston, opp. Gardner, Mass.

PAPER BOXES
GIRLS WANTED

EXPERIENCED beach workers; girls 18 to 25. Apply at once; all girls will be given steady work. THE SLIGHT MANUFACTURING CO., LTD., Brantford, Canada.

Stenographers

HIGH SCHOOL graduates, good experience, permanent and well paid positions; city and suburbs. $12 $15. M. R. & E. A., Room 203, 387 Washington st.

Billing Clerks

UNDERWOOD, Remington and Fisher billing machines; permanent and well paid positions; city and suburbs. $12 $15. M. R. & E. A., Room 203, 387 Washington st.

LAUNDRY HELP

MARKERS and sorters wanted; work also feeders, folders and shakers on mangle. Apply FILLEBAR LAUNDRY, 1 Fillebar pl., Roxbury, take Edward Everett sq. car, get off at Lawrence st.

LAUNDRY HELP

FEEDERS, ratchers, folders and shakers; also experienced starchers and ironers; good girls to find steady, good pay. CRAMER WING LAUNDRY, 1 Cramer pl., Roxbury.

LAUNDRY HELP

WANTED—Markers, sorters, folders and feeders; also girls to learn all parts of the business. ARLINGTON STEAM LAUNDRY, 91 Mystic st., Arlington.

GOOD SALARIES

PAID young ladies after taking short course in Comptometer at BOSTON CALCULATING CO.; no charge while learning. 126 Federal st., Room 409.

Curtain Operators

WANTED: Experienced curtain operators on soft goods; steady work and good pay. Apply STONE CURTAIN CO., 1 Sudbury st.

OPERATORS

EXPERIENCED power machine operators and pressers on ladies' workwear. COLONIAL CLOAK CO.

I COLORED assistance wanted. SO, END EMPLOY AGENCY, 2 Boylston st., 4th floor.

Male Situations Wanted.

GENERAL DRAFTING, patent work, lettering, etc. FOX BROS., 15 School st.; Main 7576.

PAINT-shaved, windows washed, runs best, reasonable. Address 1 Bowdoin sq., Room 16. Parker st., Cambridge.

POSITION wanted by a young man with six foreign languages, German, Jewish, Polish, Russian, Lithuanian and English; fluent speaking and writing. Apply to MR. G. J. KOSLOWSKY, 1 Bowdoin sq., Room 16.

UPHOLSTERER—20 years' experience, desires work by the day; reasonable. Tel. Dorchester 1181.

YOUNG MAN—Would like a job; not afraid to work. J. F. C., 76 Orange st., Bor., Mass.

Male Help Wanted.

LABORERS WANTED

WAGES $2 day and up. GRIFFIN WHEEL CO., 90 Canal st., Boston.

LITHO FEEDERS

WANTED. Apply JOHN WORLEY CO., 42 Stanhope st.

BOYS WANTED

To learn men's clothing business. Apply MARK ANDREWS, 11 Eliot st., Harvard st.

CUTTERS

WANTED at once, PRIMINGHAM SHOE CO., Framingham, Mass.

BENCH MOULDERS

WANTED at WALTHAM PICCADILLY, 71 Bond st., Waltham.

INEXPERIENCED men wanting $120 monthly, board and room; positions, railroads everywhere. RAILWAY ASSOCIATION, Dept. 114, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Joint pipe-fitter wanted. Apply BOSTON ELEVATED RAILWAY CO., 316 Dartmouth st., Boston.

MACHINISTS—Wanted for general repair work at once at MERRIMAC CHEMICAL CO., North Woburn, Mass. Apply in person.

MECHANIC wanted for bicycle repairing; apply Horseman st. Charlestown.

OILER—Apply at Watertown, government jobs, $70 month; write for list positions obtainable. Franklin Institute, Dept. 15, Rochester, N. Y.

MOVING PICTURE operating taught. EASTERN M. P. AGENCY, 18 Boylston st., Room 34.

PORTER—Wanted. Apply HEAD PORTER, Adams House.

SALESMAN and collector wanted on installment accounts, one who can furnish indemnity bonds; steady work. Apply to ELSIE MAID, 31, room 828.

SALESMEN—Young man wanted to pack and ship goods in wholesale shoe house, references required; steady work. Apply to ELSIE MAID, 31, room 828.

SALESMEN—Men and women, U. S. government life jobs, $75 month, steady work, many appointments coming; write immediately for instructions; common education sufficient; no political influence. PATTERSON SCHOOL, 906 Wainwright Building, Rochester, N. Y.

CUTTERS

PIECED linings cutters—Experienced help will be taught; apply to Mr. Palmer, SEARS-ROEBUCK & CO., 3d floor, corner of Washington st. and Boston, Mass.

AUTOMOBILE SCHOOL

Learn to run a motor car in a few days; way Taxi, $15. MR. REID, formerly instructor U. S. Auto School, 91 Church st., Boston.

BRICKLAYERS
WANTED

WHIDDEN-BREKMAN CO., 70 Devonshire.

BOSTON AUTO SCHOOL

LATEST CARS, actual repair work, Hupmobile, Ford, Buick, Overland, Studebaker, etc. BONNEY & GREIG, Props., 222 Columbus av.

COOPER WANTED

TIGHT and slack work; also man to work in basement; steady work. Apply to ELSIE MAID, 31, Washington st., Somerville, Mass.

HAND PULLERS

WANTED on Shaw machine; steady, steady work. Apply EVERETT SHOE & LEATHER CO., near 200 Pleasant st., Malden.

CARPENTERS WANTED

2 CARPENTERS at once, union jobs and union hours and room nearer, no labor troubles. 1 to 5, KEARSARGE HOTEL.

Painters' Union No. 11

SPECIAL meeting August 1 to vote on proposed change in initiation fee; per capita tax. MAYNARD, Secretary.

EXPERIENCED MEN

FOR structural and ornamental iron work; fire escapes; st. NAME FIRE COLUMN & ORNAMENTAL IRON WORKS, Boston, Mass.

3RD CLASS ENGINEER

WANTED, colored man. Apply 821 steamship Pier.

LITHO. PRINTING

4 YOUNG MEN to learn litho. printing. JOHN WORLEY CO., 42 Stanhope st., Boston.

ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES—Men wanted, single, between ages 18 and 35, citizens of the United States, able to speak, read and write the English language; for information apply to RECRUITING OFFICER, Dimmig bldg., 3 Tremont row, Boston.

ELEVATOR BOYS—Wanted, colored, steady work, good boarding house, $4 wk., board and room. Apply to Mr. Lamb, 1 Beacon st.

CANDY-MAKER—Man wanted to make salt water taffy; steady work and good apply. B. water kissing, water kiss and candy maker, 1 Bowdoin sq., Room 16, Nantasket.

CARPS helper, steady work, good wages, 11 Dix pl., off Dix st., Roxbury, Mass.

CAR BUILDERS—Wanted, used to resaw work; regular work. Apply to SUPERINTENDENT, RIMAC CHEMICAL CO., North Woburn, Mass.

CHAUFFEUR and gardener, country only; must be strictly sober. H. SHLLER, 31 Myrtle st., Worcester, Mass.

Agents and Canvassers.

CARGAS—Carbon remover; gasoline saver; the only one made; live salesmen wanted; big profits. CARGAS CO., 240 Fourth av., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Trading Stamps and Coupons.

GREEN, GOLD STAMPS
Perforations, rack, illustrations, bring everything. HIGHEST PRICES PAID—SEE US FIRST, only Wash. st., opp. old South Church.

Highest Prices in City. Guaranteed Satisfactions. GREEN STAMPS
REGAL TRADING STAMPS
REGAL LABELS, UNITED, EXCH. LEGALS, 393 WASH. ST., GEN'L COUPON EXCH.

Male Help Wanted.

WANTED

Thoroughly Experienced
Hardwood Finishers

Only those understanding ragging-up and burning-in need apply to Supt. Warehouse, 33 Troy St., Boston.

R. H. WHITE CO.

WANTED
FREIGHT HANDLERS
STEADY WORK
PAY $2.05 A DAY

Apply between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m.
House No. 1, Mixed St., Boston
BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD

General Woolen And Cotton Mill Help

WOOLEN CARDERS, spinners, weavers, cotton spinners, weavers, warpers, drawers, tenders, for mill in Canadian city of 25,000 population; steady employment; highest wages; assisting family workers; to reliable families; free transportation. Apply, Write, state family number of workers in family, full experience. Address THE SLINGSBY MANufACTURING CO., LTD., Brantford, Canada.

MACHINE SHOP HELP

LATHE HANDS, turret lathe operators, milling machine hands, all-around machine and vise hands; apply in person.

Easton Machine Co.
South Easton, Mass.

WANTED—Experienced

lacquer sprayers, also help to learn. Address METAL PRODUCTS CORP., 1012 Eddy st., Providence, R. I.

CUTTERS
BOYS
YOUNG MEN

THOMAS G. PLANT COMPANY
Shoes & Rockovers
Jamaica Plain

12 AUTO LESSONS, $10

MEN WANTED
TO LEARN driving and repairing at our garage; we are the only reliable garage offering this opportunity; look over our place and be convinced. MARSHALL B. HALL, 175 Pleasant st., West Tremont

9 AUTO LESSONS—$5

FULL automobile course, $15; 6-cylinder cars; day and evening classes; evenings position secured. VINCENT & PATTERSON, 1346 Boylston st., near Lake st. Tel. Or. 4196.

Moulders and Helpers

WANTED—Helpers for an hour with coremen to learn trade; steady work; good wages. Apply CHARLES S. MOFFETT, Foundry Foreman, MACHINE WORKS, Whittenville, Mass.

TAP and toplift machine cutters, BROCKTON HEEL CO., Campello, Mass.

MACHINISTS

ALL AROUND machinists, 2 and 3, speed lathes and assembling hands; also high-grade special machinery wanted, steady work. Address 2078, 370 Washington st., call after 4 P. M. Room 1000.

Bradley Motor School

OFFERS you not only course for 10 hour money, full driving and repairing course $20; day and evening classes; positions secured; all makes of cars used in instruction. 64 Stanhope st.

MACHINISTS, ATTENTION

WANTED—First class, all around machinists. Close job; no time lost. Apply at Boston Scale & Machine Co., 1263 Congress st.

CUTTERS

PIECED lining cutters—Experienced help will be taught; apply to Mr. Palmer, SEARS-ROEBUCK & CO., 3d floor, corner of Washington st. and Boston, Mass.

AUTOMOBILE SCHOOL

Learn to run a motor car in a few days; way Taxi, $15. MR. REID, formerly instructor U. S. Auto School, 91 Church st., Boston.

BRICKLAYERS
WANTED

WHIDDEN-BREKMAN CO., 70 Devonshire.

BOSTON AUTO SCHOOL

LATEST CARS, actual repair work, Hupmobile, Ford, Buick, Overland, Studebaker, etc. BONNEY & GREIG, Props., 222 Columbus av.

COOPER WANTED

TIGHT and slack work; also man to work in basement; steady work. Apply to ELSIE MAID, 31, Washington st., Somerville, Mass.

HAND PULLERS

WANTED on Shaw machine; steady, steady work. Apply EVERETT SHOE & LEATHER CO., near 200 Pleasant st., Malden.

CARPENTERS WANTED

2 CARPENTERS at once, union jobs and union hours and room nearer, no labor troubles. 1 to 5, KEARSARGE HOTEL.

Painters' Union No. 11

SPECIAL meeting August 1 to vote on proposed change in initiation fee; per capita tax. MAYNARD, Secretary.

EXPERIENCED MEN

FOR structural and ornamental iron work; fire escapes; st. NAME FIRE COLUMN & ORNAMENTAL IRON WORKS, Boston, Mass.

3RD CLASS ENGINEER

WANTED, colored man. Apply 821 steamship Pier.

LITHO. PRINTING

4 YOUNG MEN to learn litho. printing. JOHN WORLEY CO., 42 Stanhope st., Boston.

ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES—Men wanted, single, between ages 18 and 35, citizens of the United States, able to speak, read and write the English language; for information apply to RECRUITING OFFICER, Dimmig bldg., 3 Tremont row, Boston.

ELEVATOR BOYS—Wanted, colored, steady work, good boarding house, $4 wk., board and room. Apply to Mr. Lamb, 1 Beacon st.

CANDY-MAKER—Man wanted to make salt water taffy; steady work and good apply. B. water kissing, water kiss and candy maker, 1 Bowdoin sq., Room 16, Nantasket.

CARPS helper, steady work, good wages, 11 Dix pl., off Dix st., Roxbury, Mass.

CAR BUILDERS—Wanted, used to resaw work. Apply to SUPERINTENDENT, RIMAC CHEMICAL CO., North Woburn, Mass.

CHAUFFEUR and gardener, country only; must be strictly sober. H. SHLLER, 31 Myrtle st., Worcester, Mass.

Agents and Canvassers.

CARGAS—Carbon remover; gasoline saver; the only one made; live salesmen wanted; big profits. CARGAS CO., 240 Fourth av., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Trading Stamps and Coupons.

GREEN, GOLD STAMPS
Perforations, rack, illustrations, bring everything. HIGHEST PRICES PAID—SEE US FIRST, only Wash. st., opp. old South Church.

Highest Prices in City. Guaranteed Satisfactions. GREEN STAMPS
REGAL TRADING STAMPS
REGAL LABELS, UNITED, EXCH. LEGALS, 393 WASH. ST., GEN'L COUPON EXCH.

Furnished Rooms—Back Bay.

NATAVIA ST., 43—Suite 3; homelike room; private family; c. h. w.; $2.25 up; tel. —

BOYLSTON ST., 1000—Harvardia, 2 sep. Mass. st. subway; lunette; attractive rooms, $3 to $5 week. Phone B. B. 3002-M.

COMMONWEALTH AV., 706—Suite 29; furnished room overlooking the Charles River; all conveniences.

COMMONWEALTH AV., 709—Pleasant side room, for one or two; $6 up. Tel. —

CUMBERLAND ST., 8—Suite 10; furnished housekeeping rooms; gas range; electric light; clean, city rooms. Apply elevator man.

EXETER ST., 139—Large front room for 2 persons; large, airy rooms, 2 baths, priv. family; $5 up. Tel. Back Bay 1000-M.

HUNTINGTON AV., 139—Large sunny rooms, $5.50; continuous hot water; telephone.

HUNTINGTON AVE., 112—Airy rooms with sleeping porch; kitchenette suite, $4, $5. Tel. —

HUNTINGTON AV., 144—Suite 4; large parlor, corner apt., conveniences, piano, garage; rent reasonable.

HUNTINGTON AVE., 153—Suite 3; corner apt.; sunny rooms; permanent; quarters.

HUNTINGTON AV., 168—Suite 3; pleasant rooms, reasonable; housekeeping privileges.

HUNTINGTON AV., 178—Suite 3, newly furnished; hot and cold water; private bath; conti. h. w.; private family. B. B. 3251-M.

HUNTINGTON AV., 183—Suite 3; newly furnished housekeeping rooms; modern conveniences; reasonable rates; tel.

MASS. AV., 296—Suite 201; 2 rooms connected, $3.50; fur., elec. lights, $3, private entrance, bath; also single room, $2.50; gentlemen preferred; conti. h. w.

NEWBURY ST., 142—Large airy rooms, new furniture, all improvements, tourists.

NEWBURY ST., 225—Large desirable suite; $2.75 up; kitchenette. B. B. 3229-J.

WEST NEWTON ST., 247—Front room for square, side rooms, h. c. water, Summer rates, tel.

Furnished Rooms—Beacon Hill.

BANCROFT ST., 34—Near State House, furn. rooms, housekeeping; reasonable.

HANCOCK ST., 65—Desirable rooms, furnished or unfurnished, 1st, Hanmarlet 2013-W.

MT. VERNON ST., 97—Large sunny room, 2 min. State House; large rooms; tourists.

Furnished Rooms—Brookline.

PERRY ST., 38—Cool, nicely furnished, near cars, 2 min. Beacon st.; reasonable.

COMMONWEALTH AV., 1246—Suite 2; es elusive district; 15 min. Park st.; newly furnished.

ST PETER ROAD, extremely large, private family, desirable location, refined surroundings, fireplace, finest locality, unexcelled bachelor's apartment; B 598, Boston American.

Furnished Rooms—Charlestown.

MONUMENT AV., 45—Single and light housekeeping rooms; gas, bath; reasonable.

PARKER ST., 22—Furnished rooms to let.

Furnished Rooms—Cambridge.

7 MINUTES FROM PARK STREET

ATTRACTIVE rooms for men, $2.50 to $3.50 per week; steam heat, hot water, bath, parlor, desk, restaurant, etc. Opposite City Hall. Cambridge 3.

AUSTIN ST., 90—Large square rooms, light housekeeping; also single rooms; 1 minute to subway.

AUSTIN ST., 65—2 rooms furnished for light housekeeping, 2nd floor.

BEAM STREET, 9—Electric lights, 1 minutes to Dartd st. MRS. HART, 306 Broadway.

CRAWFORD ST., 121—Large square room; bath floor; with, without k'ch'ettes; tel. 5400-R.

PROSPECT ST., 85—2 desirable connecting rooms, 6 and 8; rent reasonable. Tel. —

Furnished Rooms—Chelsea.

CLARK AV., 37—Furnished light housekeeping rooms, $2.50 to $4.50; good location; Atwood cars pass door.

Furnished Rooms—Dorchester.

THE DORCHESTER—Upham's Corner, 570 Columbia rd.; rooms with, without kitchen; tel. Dor. 3700.

THE MONADNOCK—3 Monadnock st., suite and attractive rooms; tel. Dorchester 1181.

DUDLEY ST., 732—Upham's Cor., near steam trains; newly fur. rooms, square room with kitchenette, running water; $3.

HANCOCK ST., 83A—Front room, fur., also 2 connecting housekeeping rooms; reasonable.

McLELLAN ST., 12—Franklin Park station; attractive rooms, reasonable; tel. Dor. 3700.

UPHAM'S CORNER—29 Hancock st., 2 front con. light housekeeping rooms, bath floor, tel.

Furnished Rooms—Forest Hills.

WASHINGTON ST., 3023—2 Newly furnished rooms for one; unfurnished, breakfast if desired. 1101-M288.

Furnished Rooms—Roxbury.

AKRON ST., 32—Near terminal, furnished room in private family, en bathroom floor.

BOYLSTON ST., 1000—Harvardia, 2 sep. Mass. st. subway; lunette; attractive rooms, $3 to $5 week. Phone B. B. 3002-M.

BUTLER ST., 5—Large sunny rooms for housekeeping, gange, etc.; other rooms.

BRUCE ST., 11—Large sunny rooms, kitchenette room, nice location, also other room; tel.

CHRIST ST., 5—Off Dudley, 2 large, sunny, B. & rooms, sink, dishes; $6.

DUDLEY ST., 72—Rooms for light housekeeping, one for 2; $2.50 and $3.50.

DUDLEY ST., 268—Near Dudley L., attractive rooms, suitable for housekeeping; reasonable.

FOUNTAIN ST., 18—Off Regent; nicely furnished rooms; $2 week; reasonable.

GREENVILLE ST., 32—Large rooms, good board, nice location; tel. Roxbury 1548.

HIGHLAND ST., 14—Large parlor, 3 windows, suitable for small sq. room, $3 week.

LAMBERT AV., 88—Country estate, large, newly furnished room and kitchenette, with or without board; private family; all conveniences; tel. Roxbury 1548.

MORELAND ST., 19—Nicely furnished room, $2.50 weekly, fur. airy rooms, large closets.

PEARL ST., 49—Large front light housekeeping rooms, large closets; tel. Con.

ROCKLAND ST., 9—Nicely furnished rooms on bathroom floor, $1.25 to $3.50, housekeeping.

ROCKVILLE PARK, 17—Off Warren; attractive rooms, $2.50 and $3; reasonable; tel. Rox. 1548.

TOLMAN PLACE, 8—Off Warren; large, hearty for housekeeping rooms, single, cozy.

WEST CANTON ST., 9—Housekeeping rooms, square and side, cool and airy.

WOODLAWN ST., 9—Off Blue Hill av.; rooms for light housekeeping.

WOODLAWN ST., 107—Off Warren; front room, alcove, large closet, bathroom floor.

Furnished Rooms—Somerville.

FURNISHED rooms, small or large, to let. Inquire 21 Somerville av.

CUTTER ST., 16—Furn. single and light housekeeping rooms. Tel. 4040-W Somerville.

ST. TEVENS ST., 10—Housekeeping room and parlor, must be seen to appreciate; tel. Somerville 1548.

WASHINGTON ST., 1—Nicely furnished room, reasonable; 4015-M.

PEARL ST., 99—Large square rooms; also rooms, light housekeeping; phone 2102-R.

PENNSYLVANIA AV., 27—Square room, partly furnished, sunny, handy for cars. $2.

Furnished Rooms—South Boston.

SO. BOSTON—Wanted, 2 men to board and room together. 247 Fifth st.

Furnished Rooms—South End.

LARGE front parlor, piano, h. and c. water, Summer rates. 216 W. Canton st.

TO HOUSEKEEPERS with kitchenette for light housekeeping; tourists, 47 Rutland sq.

FRONT connecting rooms, furnished also side rooms, $4.25. 408 Shawmut av.

HOUSEKEEPING rooms, reasonable prices; also $1.50, 1, h. k., $2.25. 618 Tremont st.

APPLETON ST., 116—Cool, breezy, desirable, housekeeping rooms, also single; reasonable; rear-entrance.

APPLETON ST., 71—Housekeeping rooms, front, $2.50, $3; tourists accommodated, new furniture.

BERWICK PARK, 15—Parlors, square, side rooms, sunny, light housekeeping rooms.

BERWICK PARK, 24—Nicely furnished housekeeping rooms, also side room; telephone.

CHANDLER ST., 80—Cool, clean, pleasant rooms, housekeeping privileges, reasonable.

CHANDLER ST., 128—Housekeeping room, reasonable, nicely fitted; gas stove, dishes, etc.

Furnished Rooms—South End.

CLAREMONT PK., 20—Beautifully furnished, front parlor to let, very quiet home; also two-room suite, price reasonable. Tel. Back Bay 2000-M.

COLUMBUS AVE., 405—Cool, desirable sq. room, housekeeping allowed; Summer prices.

COLUMBUS AV., 287—Cool, cheerful room, with refined gentlemen; large side room; tel.

COLUMBUS AV., 488—Cool, comfortable room, suitable for ladies, square, sunny; $2.50.

COLUMBUS AV., 556—Cool, cheerful, comfortable rooms, modern con.; Summer rates; tel.

CONCORD SQ., 4—3-room basement suite, with bath, kitchenette; side room, $1.25.

CONCORD SQ., 5—Unusually attractive square room, excellent kitchenettes, modern, $3.

CONCORD SQ., 16—Cool, cheery, desirable room, housekeeping priv., modern conveniences; tel.

DARTMOUTH ST., 23—Cool, clean, attractive rooms, excellent housekeeping conveniences, reasonable; tel.

DARTMOUTH ST., 24—Furnished rooms, $1, $1.25, $1.50; mo. only.

NEWTON ST., 61—Two rooms and kitchen, street floor, housekeeping, private family; also single room for two gentlemen; reference; 10 up. Tel. 7442-M. B. B.

EAST NEWTON ST., 61—Clean, cool front parlor, suite; rent reasonable.

EAST SPRINGFIELD ST., 44—Back parlor, with kitchenette supplies, h. & c. fit, parlor, suit room, $7.50.

FRANKLIN ST., 31—Side rooms to let, all conveniences.

GREENWICH PARK, 30—Pleasant, square front room, suitable for gentleman, reasonable; references.

HANOVER ST., 5—Newly fur. rooms, small suite for housekeeping; side room, $1.50.

HARRISON AV., 1344—Large, clean, back parlors, side rooms, modern; reasonable.

HARRISON AV., 462—Airy room, back square, $2, $3; board if desired; tel.

HARRISON AV., 531—Newly furnished rooms, clean, all conveniences.

MASS. AV., 602—Large airy rooms con., kitchenette, gas range, $3.50 up; tel. Back Bay 2000-M.

MASS. AV., 687—2 furnished rooms for light housekeeping; $3.50 and $4; tel. Back Bay 2000-M.

MILFORD ST., 11—Furnished large square room, with kitchenette; all conveniences; reasonable.

MILFORD ST., 27—All newly painted sq., side rooms, 1, h. k.; laundry privileges.

MONTGOMERY ST., 235—Large, cheery rooms, reasonable; men preferred; reasonable.

MONTGOMERY ST., 75—Newly furnished, clean, quiet rooms, housekeeping privileges, reasonable.

PEMBROKE ST., 10—1 light, fr. and back sq., kitchenette room, $1.50 up; s. h.; tel.

PEMBROKE ST., 56—Tourists accommodated, cool, pleasant rooms, 1 and 2 lights, $1 up.

ROLLINS ST., 19—Nice clean rooms, square $2 up; tel. —

RUTLAND ST., 16—Front parlor, piano, $5; also side room, $2.50; clean, quiet house.

RUTLAND ST., 57—Cool front parlor, square room, kitchenette, complete; other rooms.

RUTLAND SQ., 20—Cool, pleasant h. k. room for $2 up, k'ettes, every convr.; tel.

RUTLAND SQ., 46—Large, cool, attractive rooms, suitable for housekeeping, $2.50 up. Tel.

SPRING ST., 7—Square, housekeeping, gas range, private toilet, fr. parlor, cooking privileges.

SHAWMUT AV., 345—Light housekeeping rooms, $2.50 and $3.

TAYLOR ST., 9—Off Milford; square rooms, kitchenette, complete; other rooms.

TREMONT ST., 520—Large front rooms, s. h., running water, separate cot.; tourists; tel.

TREMONT ST., 525—Newly furn. rooms, bath, linen, reasonable; 57 Dartmouth st., Cambridge.

TREMONT ST., 586—Large, cool rooms, 3 housekeeping, gas, all conveniences; Summer rates.

TREMONT ST., 602 and 629—Elegant rooms, linen, linen bath; $1.50 $4.

TREMONT ST., 1000—Parlor, priv. ent., piano, kitchenette, gas range, refrigerator, Summer rates.

TREMONT ST., 696—Nice, clean furnished rooms; tourists accommodated. Tel. Oxford 2000-M.

TREMONT ST., 723—Large Parlor 24, square $3; side $7.50; linen beds, shower bath.

TREMONT ST., 728—Large, cool rooms, light housekeeping, continuous hot water.

UNION PK., 48—See me for parlors, square, side rooms, tourists; also light h'keeping; gas and shower. F. H. CONNAUGHTON.

UPTON ST., 22—Small suite for light housekeeping; also single room.

WASHINGTON ST., 824—Downtown location, 2 sunny rooms, $2 and $2.50 per week; hot water, electric light, tel.

WEST BROOKLINE ST., 187—Cool, cheerful parlor, piano, housekeeping privileges; other rooms; tel.

WEST BROOKLINE ST., 195—Cool, desirable rooms, with best of kitchenettes, $3 up.

WEST NEWTON ST., 158—Large, cool, homelike rooms, Summer rates, modern conveniences; tel. Brigham 347.

WEST NEWTON ST., 85—Square room; also front parlor; price reasonable; bath room.

WEST NEWTON ST., 40—Sq. and side rooms, furnished, h. & c. water, piano.

WEST NEWTON ST., 96—Clean fur. rooms, home; bath floor; use of kitchen; reasonable.

WEST NEWTON ST., 68—Finely fur. parlor, front square, side rooms, clean, quiet home.

WEST NEWTON ST., 172—Newly furnished square room, rent low to quiet party.

WORCESTER ST., 21—Front square room, running water, piano parlor, light h. k.

WORCESTER ST., 31—Light housekeeping rooms, also kitchenette; side room; laundry.

WORCESTER ST., 50—Fr. sq. rm., kitchenette, with window, h. f.; dining room and kitchen; private ent.

WORCESTER ST., 83—Front sq. room, h. and c. water, 1, h. keeping, $2.50.

WORCESTER ST., 87—Sep. rooms, light housekeeping priv., one with private bath.

Furnished Rooms—Winthrop.

CENTRAL COVE AV., 32—Room, near beach, continuous hot water, fire. Phone 2000-W.

OCEAN AV., 88—Winthrop Beach; large and small rooms, facing ocean. 700 Win. 1305-M.

Board and Rooms.

COLUMBUS AV., 290—Board and rooms,

The nation which indulges toward another an habitual hatred or an habitual fondness is in some degree a slave.—WASHINGTON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS.

TRUTH, JUSTICE

BOSTON AMERICAN EDITORIAL PAGE

PUBLIC SERVICE

Tuesday, August 1, 1916

Senator Borah's Sinister Attack on the Child Labor Bill

IT is difficult to think of Senator Borah plotting against the child labor bill. It would, indeed, be utterly incredible except for the fact that the Senator is directly quoted in defence of his proposition to attach the immigration bill to the child labor bill as an amendment.

Both bills have been passed by the House. Both are pending in the Senate. It is believed that the President intends to veto the immigration bill, though he is warmly supporting the child labor bill. There are many Democratic Senators opposed to one or the other, or both. Should the Borah proposal be given effect it would give these Senators a plausible reason for voting against both, on the plea that they do not wish to embarrass the President.

The Senator from Idaho denies any sinister purpose in his action, BUT WHATEVER THE PURPOSE THE EFFECT WILL BE SINISTER, and probably fatal in its effect on the child labor bill.

His explanation suggests no reason for his action beyond a desire to "put the Democrats in a hole."

Senator Borah has been admired by the Progressives of the country, but they are likely to lose admiration for a man who puts politics above the interests of the nation, and who puts personal spite and prejudice above humane consideration for the welfare of the nation's children.

Nothing that he can say will disguise the plain fact that his act is an effort to kill the child labor bill, AND IF SENATOR BORAH IS SUCCESSFUL IN THIS DISCREDITABLE AND CONTEMPTIBLE PURPOSE THAT FACT SHOULD NEVER BE FORGOTTEN BY ANY SINCERE CITIZEN OF THIS REPUBLIC.

Clean Up Your Town

Do It Now—Do Not Wait Until the Plague Has Come—Do It Now and Keep the Plague from Coming

EX-PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT lives in a small town on Long Island, N. Y., called Oyster Bay. The dread plague, infantile paralysis, threatened the young life of that town. Colonel Roosevelt and his neighbors awoke, shook themselves and proceeded to investigate conditions in their community.

What these investigators of their neighbors found shocked the whole town and led to the starting of criminal proceedings against many townsmen, not only of the poor, but of too many well-to-do who had violated both the statute and the natural laws of health and that "cleanliness which is next to godliness."

Thereupon Colonel Roosevelt talked out in town meeting. He called conditions of Oyster Bay scandalous, wicked, criminal and intolerable, as is the colonel's custom. The townspeople cheered him and, what is better, are now proceeding to clean up the town. Dirty swill-pails are being cleaned and sterilized. Dirty puddles of stagnant water are being dried out and made sanitary. The dark and dirty corners of overcrowded houses are being washed and sunned. The crowded bedrooms of the poor are being relieved of their crowds, and everybody is being impressed with the necessity for cleanliness and fresh air and sunlight.

They say that there is no cloud without a silver lining, no bitter without its sweet, no evil wind that does not blow SOME good. So if the visitation of the plague to Oyster Bay has done these things for it, then the great law of compensation is fulfilled at Oyster Bay, for this cleaning-up will save more lives than the plague will ever take; save them without spectacular effect, without sensation; save them not only from infantile paralysis, but from consumption, typhoid fever, diphtheria and all the deadly diseases that lurk in dirt.

We ought to clean up all our New England towns as Oyster Bay is purifying itself. We ought not to wait, as Colonel Roosevelt and his neighbors waited, until the gleaming eyeballs of the plague can be seen glaring out of the dark and dirty places of the town, before we start a crusade to clean them out. Every man or woman who sees his neighbor's garbage can left unclean should complain to the board of health, with an unsigned letter if an open complaint will be embarrassing.

Complain of everything that is filthy about your neighbor's place. It is your duty, not only to yourself, but to your town and especially to your neighbor, who is more likely to suffer from his own filth than you who are not so near.

Keep the flies OUT of your house and let the air and sun INTO your house.

Once-Overs

It is an easy matter to give a person a little bit of praise once in while, when it is warranted.

The majority of us take too much for granted. We expect a great deal and take everything as a matter of course.

Even your best friend likes to hear a complimentary word.

If your husband does something when you appreciate very much, tell him so. Compliment him with enthusiasm.

If your wife does something above the average, tell her how proud it makes you. Encouraging words have a marvelous effect sometimes.

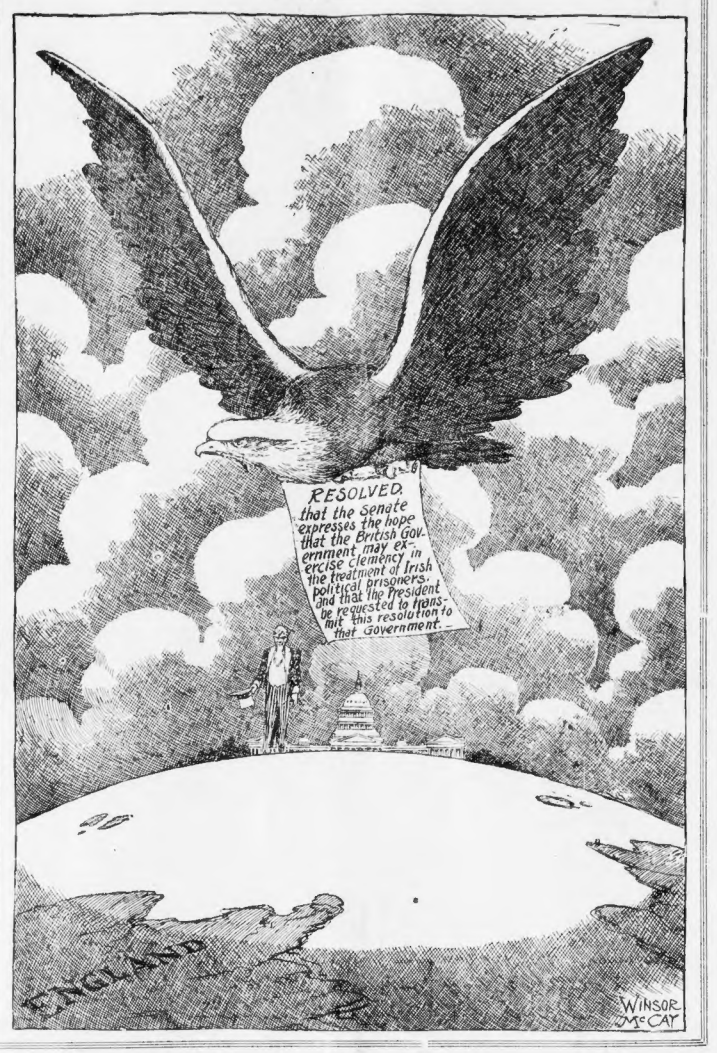
At any rate they make life two smoother.

And what better work can you do than make home happy to those nearest and dearest?

Between the closest friends too much is taken for granted sometimes, and a pleasant surprise and show of appreciation spins a golden thread of sympathy and understanding as nothing else can.

The American Eagle Bears a Dove's Message

Copyright, 1916, International News Service.



RESOLVED, that the Senate expresses the hope that the British Government may exercise clemency in the treatment of Irish political prisoners, and that the President be requested to transmit this resolution to that Government.
ENGLAND
WINSOR McCAY

The Problem of Feeding an Army

By Woods Hutchinson, M. D.

The World's Best Known Writer on Medical Subjects.

PART I.

THERE are some jobs that nobody seems to want. And cooking, meal service with kitchen work, not to mention dish-washing and garbage disposal, is one of them, whether in the peace-home or in the tented field. No army can fight unless it is fed, but there is neither romance nor military glory or promotion in feeding it, nothing but the consciousness of duty alone, without hope of medals or gold lace or resolutions of thanks.

Everyone at once recognizes the force of Napoleon's hackneyed quip about an army being like a serpent, because it travels on its belly, even though he is reported to have "lifted" it from Pericles without credit, but when it comes to undertaking to fill that belly nobody seems exactly suffering for the job —except the grafting contractor and his attorneys in Congress.

The line officer thinks it rather beneath his dignity, the army doctor scarcely regards it as professional work, the engineers turn up their noses at it. The consequence is that the very first wail raised after the troops have been called out is that the food supply is short or bad. Part of this, of course, is due to inability on the part of the "green" soldier boy to adapt himself to the army ration and the rough and tumble of camp life, because nobody has taken the trouble to teach him how, and part of it to the really great difficulties of the problem.

But when troop trains are permitted to start for Mexico without even enough water for drinking, to say nothing of washing or cooking, when every division station has a fire hose right by the side of the track and the whole problem could have been solved with a few empty barrels or a couple of dozen milk cans there is certainly a shortage of gray matter somewhere, under military headgear or a bad division of responsibilities.

When further, not one, but many, troop trains were reported equipped for their five days' trip with only a freight car of food, containing but canned corned beef and dry bread, with not only no extra car which could have been converted into an improvised diner, but with no cooking equipment whatever, not even an oil stove to boil water and make coffee on, it suggests that while there was one official or department to supply the trains and another to supply the rough food fuel to keep the men from actually starving, there was no one whose business it was to see that the two were combined in such a way that the men were comfortably and decently fed on their fatiguing five-day trip through the dust and sweltering heat.

Of course it must be recognized at once that the problem is one of great difficulty and endless responsibility.

An army never stays "full." It is perennially in the position of President Lowell's bird in the story, one Hummer, after closing up his house, with a brother next door to keep an eye on it and starting on his vacation, Mrs. Lowell suddenly recalled a canary left hanging in one of the rooms. A wire was promptly sent from next stop: "Feed bird in south bedroom." Next morning a wire came from his brother: "Bird fed, hungry again—wire further instructions."

Each one of us devours his own weight in food and water every fifteen days, and, counting fuel and wastage, every single regiment demands and consumes about three tons of supplies every day, which have to be freighted to and shot into it by a perspiring commissariat department. There is no getting ahead of the game, and the biggest stacks and piles of supplies that can be accumulated melt like snow before the sun.

We seldom realize what a narrow margin of supplies we actually run upon, even in peace, and how literally we live from hand to mouth. There is scarcely a country in the civilized world which has more than three months' supply of food on hand at any one time. Many of them would begin to suffer severely in six weeks if their supplies were suddenly cut off by floods, or war, or crop failure, while most great cities would feel the pinch of starvation within three days if all their railroad feeders were tied up.

Hence, when you suddenly lift a city of 40,000—one army division —and plant it out in the open country or in the middle of a desert, you have to improvise a railroad service like that of a State capital with a railroad and transportation force almost half the army's own size, to keep it supplied with food, which it devours like Pharaoh's lean kine devoured the fat ones.

Dr. Parkhurst's Article

On Common Error of Trying to Eradicate Great Evils by Use of Too Direct Methods—Lever and Fulcrum Far More Powerful Than Straight Tug, Both Literally and Figuratively.

By Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst

AN old Greek philosopher taught that with a lever long enough, and with a fulcrum sufficiently steady to rest the lever on, one could easily pry the earth out of its orbit. His doctrine was a perfectly sound one.

It might be difficult to find a lever long enough and a fulcrum that would be sufficiently steady, but the principle is correct, for it is only the same, considerably extended, that any quarryman makes use of when he undertakes to move a heavy rock and does it by laying down a smaller one by its side, inserts his iron bar and bears down on the end of the bar. That is done every day and it does its work.

No man could lift the earth by a straight pull and without the aid of some sort of machinery of the kind just mentioned; but this is one of a great many things that cannot be done directly but that can easily be achieved in some round-about way.

We are not interested just now in any scheme for prying the earth out of position, for it will best be left to travel its own road; but there is something of practical interest in the idea of being able to accomplish, by indirect means, certain things that cannot be done by a straight pull.

Pulling Up Vicious Weeds Will Not Get Rid of Them Permanently

This idea I was early made familiar with by an incident that occurred in my own life as a boy. My father had set me to work to clear of a certain vicious weed a plot of ground lying adjacent to the house. I knew of no better way of doing it than to go over the ground, inch by inch, plucking up the weed and leaving it to wither and die. I applied myself to the task faithfully, and when I was through, the ground was as bare and unsuggestive of vegetation as a quarter-section of Sahara.

Leaving home directly upon the completion of the job, my father wrote me a couple of months later that the lot was as green as ever and densely populated with the same weed that I had been exterminating. With an agricultural wisdom superior to my own he let the weeds remain but sowed the ground with some kind of grass seed possessing an expansive vigor that gave it the advantage over the weed, and let the two fight it out between them. And the grass seed won. There was not room for both and the weaker gave way.

I once witnessed a theatrical performance exhibited on the platform of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn. Mr. Beecher was the star, the only actor, in fact, in the play. The purpose of the drama which he enacted was to illustrate the principle taught me by my experience with my father's garden plot —the futility of accomplishing results by direct effort.

Mr. Beecher impersonated a young man who had become the victim of alcoholism, and who attempted to become temperate by merely forsaking his cups. Probably most people would say that that is the only way of becoming temperate. That is the way that the majority of those who attempt to rid themselves of the habit go about it, and it is the faultiness of the method that accounts for their unsuccess. For reform that consists only in going dry results in making one dryer and dryer till the thirst becomes so intense that the drink passion becomes irresistible.

Mr. Beecher's young man undertook to lift himself out of his degradation by a straight pull. He simply devoted himself to the exclusive business of abstaining. He was dramatically represented as cherishing no thought but that he was not going to drink any more. He nursed his resolution, and by that means kept his mind continually fixed upon the very thing that he was trying to get away from.

Kept Mind Continually on the Thing He Was Trying to Get Rid of

He inflamed his passion by letting it be the only matter with which his thought occupied itself. If he had had the earth to lift he would have tried to do it by a direct tug, instead of falling back upon a lever and fulcrum; or would have picked up the weeds, as I did, instead of putting something into the ground that would itself have tackled the weeds with permanent results.

Scripture states in a very plain way the principle I am here contending for, when it says: "Overcome the evil with the good," which means that we are not to fight the evil directly, but to use the good as a lever to pry the evil out of the way; sow wheat and let the wheat choke out the tares. If the air in the room is impure, open the window, not that opening the window will cause the impure air to escape, but opening it will let in pure air and the pure air will itself expel the impure.

A man's body when infected with disease is a good deal like a room filled with a bad atmosphere, and has to be dealt with in a similar way, not by any direct assault upon the disease, but by stimulating whatever of health there is in the body and by fortifying the undiseased portion of the constitution, setting that to work expelling the infection.

If the fire is low on the hearth we resort to the bellows, not with a view to aiming a current of fresh air upon so much of the fuel as is not in a state of combustion, but that part of it that is already enkindled and then the increased head at that point will spread itself to portions that are unaflamed.

Best Way to Avoid Depression Is to Think of Bright Things

In like manner we do not avoid the depressing influence of life's troubles by resolving not to be depressed by them but by letting our thoughts dwell on the brighter features of our experience; and almost every life has in it something that is pleasant; and as what is bright and what is shadowy cannot both occupy the mind at the same time, darkness will have to go out as fast as we let sunshine in.

It is by the application of the same principle that we work to the best effect in our efforts to improve the character and life of wicked men. There is no man so bad as not to have in his heart some spot that is sound. Otherwise his condition would be hopeless. It is the spot of moral health in him that furnishes a point to which appeal can be addressed.

If people were totally depraved, as the old theologians used to contend, reformatories and pulpits would be of no use. The Greek philosopher had the right of it, and the first step toward displacing the evil and improving upon the good is to discover a fixed point of leverage.

Beasts, Bugs and Birds Obey the Golden Rule

Fascinating characteristics of the animal world, worthy of humankind, are explained in next Sunday's Boston AMERICAN.